At the National Little League meeting held last week, several Little League rule changes which resulted from the recent National meeting were discussed. These rule changes were primarily concerned with age allowances per team. Next year it will be permissible to have six 12 year olds per team, compensating for this increase is a deduction from 5 to 4 in the number of 11 year olds that a team may have. Affecting the Farm System is the new ruling which prohibits a farm team from having 12 year old pitchers. This rule is a safeguard against having an overbalance in the pitching ability as compared to hitting ability since a large majority of boys in the Farm System are 8 and 9 years old. It is figured that boys learning the game should have a chance to hit the ball and also to field a batted ball.

LITTLE LEAGUE PERSONALITY

Terry Daley, the red headed left handed fireball pitcher for the J. C. Hawks is about to enter his last season as a Little Leaguer. When not pitching, Terry takes over first base and does a very good job at it. Last season the first time Terry was at bat he belted a home run out of the park, (the first home run for the Little League in Va. Beach) and he continued to give opposing pitchers fits all season. Terry is a soft spoken but determined youngster who this early in life has decided he wants to be a doctor. He is an excellent student in school which when considered together with his desire should carry him through his long and exacting educational requirements. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Daley who reside at 2210 Cypress Avenue.

Babe Ruth League News

Six Beach residents turned out Saturday for The Babe Ruth League game and offered their services as coaches or managers.

"This is the kind of spirit we hoped for and the boys really appreciated it," said B. M. Stanton, President of the league. "However since there will be four teams, we still are in need of several more men who are interested in working with our teenagers."

Mr. A. W. Craft, Jr., Robert J. Keeney, H. F. Pentecost, James Melvin Good, Mack A. Gias and Richard Culp are the men who responded to the appeal made last week in speaking to the boys they emphasized the importance of coming to all the practices as that is the only way they'll get to know the boys. "Regularly at work-out will be an important factor when the player auction comes up in a few weeks," said Mr. Good, "and the boy who has been showing up regularly has a better chance than the boy who may be a better player but has not been present for practices."

"One thing we expect from every player out here is good sportsmanship," said Mr. Pentecost, "no matter how good he may play, he'll be benched if he's a griper or a poor sport."

Until the coaches bid for their teams, it was decided they have two practice periods every Saturday.

The first will be from 1:30 to 3:30 and the second from 3:30 to 5:30. One half of the players will report for each two hour workout.

As sixty boys are needed to form the four teams in the league any 13, 14, or 15 year old boy who is interested may still register if he comes to the Virginia Beach High School athletic field this Saturday afternoon. Also any adult who is interested in helping to coach and train these baseball minded boys will be welcomed.

Princess Anne Garden Club Cancels Show

Miss Evelyn Collins Hill, General Chairman for the Thirtieth Annual Rose Show of the Princess Anne Garden Club has announced that the show is cancelled.

The severe winter and late spring have delayed the roses so that growers can not see sufficient bloom by May 12th and 13th the show was to be held in the Panorama Room of the Cavalier Hotel. It is regretted that the show cannot be set for a later date, but the nationally known rose show judges invited to officiate have other commitments.

GARDEN GUIDE

By J. WILTON ANDERSON

FERTILIZERS

There are so many different fertilizers and different types of fertilizers on the market today that it often is quite puzzling to the weekend gardener as to which to buy and use. Actually they are all basically simple when you learn a few facts about them. With this basic knowledge you can make your purchases more intelligently and your application more effectively.

TYPES

For lawn, shrub, and flower use, there are three different types that are commonly used. These are the dry fertilizers, the soluble fertilizers, and the liquid types. The best known of the dry fertilizers is both a popular field fertilizer as well as a garden fertilizer. It is called 5-10-5, these figures referring to the percentages of the three basic elements in the mixture. This is the old standby powder type of fertilizer good for all general types of fertilization. This powder type has many cousins with the same general make-up but with slightly different analyses. Popular analysis for yard use would be 10-6-4 or 5-10-10. These dry fertilizers also come in the form of little pellets with an 8-8-8 analysis.

For quick results in fertilization, the soluble types are frequently resorted to. They are powders or pellets that are entirely water soluble. They are dissolved in water and applied on and around the plants. One interesting characteristic about fertilizer used in this form is that it is taken in by the plants through the foliage as well as through the root system. Faster results will be attained with soluble fertilizer than the dry types.

The third group of fertilizer and the newest type to become popular is the liquid concentrate type. These are usually high nitrogen bearing fertilizers such as 10-5-5. They are diluted with water and applied in the same manner as the soluble types.

Bear in mind that inorganic fertilizers contain strong chemicals that can burn plant foliage so be sure and follow the recommendations on the package. Use them often enough and you will find the cost will be repaid in extra luxuriant foliage and flowers on your plants.

Drivers Must Think Says Chief

"Children don't think, cars don't think, so YOU must think!" Drivers today received that reminder of their responsibility for the safety of children in traffic from Reeves E. Johnson, Chief of the Virginia Beach Police, which is sponsoring the current child pedestrian safety program in cooperation with the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

"Drive as if every child that you meet is your own little boy or girl," Johnson said. "If you treat all children as you want other motorists to treat your children, you're not likely to run down a youngster who heedlessly darts into your path."

This solicitous attitude is necessary, he said, because children can't be expected to use adult judgment in traffic. On this score, he roundly condemned the driver who fails to give youngsters a break in traffic and who insists on right-of-way and other legal perogatives.

"It's the nature of youth to be impetuous and sometimes heedless," he said. "It's the duty of adults to protect children from the results of their own heedlessness, even if their actions are wrong."

Chief Johnson listed the following rules for drivers to follow in order to do their part in cooperating where children are concerned:

1. Always expect the unexpected where children are concerned.
2. Give young bike-riders every break.
3. Drive with extreme caution near schools and playgrounds and any place where children may be expected to gather.
4. Be especially alert in school areas for signs, signals, traffic police, school patrols and for children themselves.

Princess Anne Training School

Helio Folks — we are on the scene again to bring you up to date with all of the happenings around our School. Our study loads do not seem to get any lighter. With the approach of Spring and warm weather, the Teachers seem to get vexed, and assignments pile up Mountains high. But we are good sports and we struggle on through them.

With a proud record of the Basketball season behind us, our Coaches are working the Baseball players into shape now. The first game was played with Norcum High Portsmouth, with a 3 to 4 victory in favor of Princess Anne. So you see we are getting off to a good start in Baseball.

On Friday night, April 13, 1956 the Band and Choir of our School were presented in concert. Both groups performed brilliantly to a delightful audience that enjoyed a Musical feast.

On Friday, April 20, 1956, our Annual "Career Day" activities were held. Those students who have decided on their goals, and who are in the process of shaping their life careers were enlightened and inspired by the able consultants who were on hand to help them. Consultants from the following fields of Education were present to give suggestions to and answer questions for the students: Dr. J. A. Webb, Medicine; Dr. Samuel Madden, Education; Mrs. Anita Holman, Home Economics; Mrs. E. Williams, Nursing; Mr. Roy Reid and Miss Otella Kimble, Music; Mrs. Katie White and Miss Ellen Walker, Commercial Education; Mrs. Ruth Valentine, Beauty Culture; Mrs. Clara Allison and Mr. Evans, Opportunities of the Handicapped; and Mrs. Julia B. Williams, "The Place of Charn in all Fields of Activity." The sponsors of "Career Day" were Madama M. B. Branstetter and B. A. Baberry, and Mr. Robert L. Gordon, members of the Guidance Council of the School.

On Wednesday, April 18, the Hi-Y, and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, held their induction program in Chapel. Guests speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Betty F. Williams, Supervisor of the Elementary Schools of Princess Anne County. Mrs. Williams' address to the Club members and other students was in the form of four questions: "What are you reading? What are you thinking? What are you talking about? and What are you advertising?" The students were enlightened and inspired by Mrs. Williams' discussion of these questions as they relate to the conduct and behavior of people in School and life at large.

ELEMENTARY NEWS

Many helpful activities have been accomplished in the Elementary Department since the last report.

The First Grade Class sponsored by Mrs. Evelyn Smith made an Educational Tour on March 6th of Mariner's Museum, Jamestown, Williamsburg and Yorktown growing out of their Social Studies work. Annual Tours to Washington, D. C. are being planned by Mrs. Julia Clark and R. M. Davis, on May 16th and 18th respectively.

A Mother's Day Tea is being planned by the pupils and Teachers of the fifth grade classes. Time will be announced later. Mrs.

R. M. Davis, E. W. Smith and J. H. Clark

A Brownie Scout Troop is being organized in the Elementary Division. Great interest has been exhibited among pupils, Teachers and parents.

The fourth grade classes went on an Educational Tour of the Norfolk Museum of Arts during the month of April. The trips were taken as a culmination of the Studies of Virginia. The fourth grade teachers are: Mrs. B. L. Morgan, Mrs. M. L. Patterson, Mrs. Ruth Beckton, Mrs. A. F. Downing and Mrs. Louise Carter, chairman. Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Beckton are also planning tours of Richmond, Virginia, on May 1, 1956, with their classes.

This year 1955-56 has been a new experience for all of us in the seventh grade. The first semester, we struggled through evils of Social Science and Language Arts, but most of us came out successfully and now will try to tackle the second semester to the end.

We are enjoying our art work. We have many interesting things. It was hard at first, but we find, "If you just want to do you can." This has been done through the help of Mrs. Olds, the art teacher. We, the seventh grade pupils are planning a trip to New York City, the first of May. You just can't imagine how excited we are to visit there and take in many points of interest.

Several members of the seventh grade group took a part in the Spelling Bee. We were very proud of some of our members.

We have a "Thrill Club" in our Elementary Department and we as seventh graders are trying hard to get the "Honor Award to Time will be announced later. Mrs. Good Citizens" from Mrs. Evelyn Smith's fifth grade class. They have kept it for five weeks. Hats off to them.

The Annual Spring Fashion Show was sponsored by the seventh graders Monday, April 23. It was quite a success and very largely attended.

We are making ready for another play, Monday, April 30th.

where the seventh graders will play the part as "Brother Munkies" in the Song and Dance Review.

Evelyn Willis is the seventh grade class reporter. Mrs. A. A. Dugan, I. C. Wilson and M. E. Preston are seventh grade teachers.

and just as provocative. Fresh Anjou pears combine with every type of fresh fruit. And because of their bright, fresh color, they give your table a flower-garden look.

When dinner time rolls around, there's no need to taze time for a complicated dessert. Serve fresh Anjou shortcake with mounds of whipped cream — or perhaps a pear-butter-soothe sunde.

And of course, there's nothing so refreshing and satisfying between meals as a chilled ripe pear eaten out-of-hand. Because fresh Anjous are rich in levulose sugar, they satisfy the sweet tooth, give quick energy, but spare the appetite for the later meal.

Fresh pears are ideal for after-school snacks because they require no peeling, and they're easily and quickly eaten.

Remember that Anjou pears are naturally green, even when fully ripe. If the pear responds to slight pressure of thumb and forefinger, it is fully ripe and ready to eat. If Anjou pears you buy are not fully ripened, leave them for a day or two in a paper bag at room temperature.

Fresh Western pears are perfect for salads — especially during the spring months when you yearn for a light-hearted effect. Serve them with slices of lemon on a bed of lettuce for a small dinner salad, and for a large luncheon salad, combine them with whatever fruits or vegetables you have at hand, either fresh or canned.

Because fresh pears have such a pleasing shape, they're ideal for "fancy" salads with special arrangements.

Here they are combined with orange slices, sugared grapes and stuffed dates.

Stuffed Pear Salad Plate
4 ripe Anjou pears
4 small oranges
4 small bunches red grapes

8 pitted dates Almonds Salad greens

Wash pears, halve and core. Peel oranges and slice crosswise. Brush grapes with lemon juice or egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Stuff dates with whole almonds. Line 4 salad plates with salad greens. Arrange 2 pear halves, a bunch of sugared grapes and several orange slices on plate. Fill each pear cavity with a stuffed date. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes 4 servings.

Pear and Rice Pudding

4 fresh Anjou pears, peeled, halved and cored
8 maraschino cherries
1 1/2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1/2 cup raisins, sliced filberts
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons sugar, divided
1 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg, divided
1 1/2 cups milk

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Cook rice according to directions on package. Combine cooked rice, filberts, lemon rind, 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon spice and milk. Press into a greased deep 9-inch pie plate. Arrange pear halves cut side up on top of rice mixture, around edge of dish. Garnish core cavity with maraschino cherries. Sprinkle remainder of sugar and spice over pear halves, dot with butter. Bake at 350°F. for about 30 minutes, or until pears are tender. Serve warm with cream. Serves 8.

Molded Pear Delight

4 fresh Anjou pears
1 package raspberry flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup orange juice
1 pint ice cream

Pour boiling water over gelatin and stir until thoroughly dissolved. Add orange juice. Refrigerate until like soft jelly. Turn into chilled bowl. Whip with egg beater until foamy. Add ice cream and continue beating until ice cream is well mixed. Halve and core pears, and slice into long glass dish, about 8-10 inches in size. Pour gelatin cream mixture over pears and refrigerate until set. Cut in squares. Serves 8 generously.

Fresh Pears With Frozen Pineapple Cubes

8 ripe Anjou pears
1/4 cup lemon juice
Cut pears in half and core. Marinate in the lemon juice for about 15 minutes. To serve, arrange 2 pear halves for each serving on crisp lettuce leaves. Serve 2 on 3 pineapple cubes beside pears. Serve with French dressing. Serves 8.

Pineapple Cubes

1 4-ounce can pineapples, diced
1 small can or 1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon bottled horseradish
1 3-ounce package cream cheese

Combine all the ingredients except pineapple and beat until smooth. Freeze in ice cube compartment of refrigerator until mushy. Beat again until smooth. Add diced pineapple. Place in ice cube tray with ice cube divider. Freeze until firm.

Pear-Ade Coffee Cake

2 ripe Anjou pears, cut in 1/2-inch slices
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/2 teaspoon ginger

Melt butter or margarine in bottom of 8-inch round pan. Combine brown sugar, lemon rind, orange rind and ginger. Mix until well blended. Sprinkle half the brown sugar mixture over butter or margarine in bottom of baking pan. Arrange pear slices on top of brown sugar mixture. Pour butter over pears. Sprinkle remaining half of brown sugar mixture over butter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 minutes. Turn out of pan while warm.

BATTER:

2 cups bleached mix
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk

Mix together biscuit mix and sugar. Combine egg and milk; add to bis-

If you've had corn bread left from supper, use it for breakfast the next morning by splitting the squares. Make a small hollow in the center of each square break in an egg, dot with butter, salt and pepper. Place small strips of ham on either side of the egg. Broil 4 to 6 minutes until egg is set.

Make your fruit cocktail colorful for dessert by adding 1/2 cup of red cinnamon candies to the opened, canned fruit and let stand for several hours before serving.

Make good use of asparagus while it's in season. A wonderful way to serve cooked spears or cuts is to top with a melted cheese sauce and sliced almonds.

If you want something different to serve with hamburgers, you'll like fried bean cakes. Mash cooked dry lima beans with seasonings, salt, pepper, SHAPE cut mix, stirring until mixture is smooth. Pour into prepared pan. Makes 1 8-inch coffee cake.

A juicy Anjou pear and a wedge of blue cheese makes a delicious fruit and cheese dessert. Serve with lightly toasted soda crackers or other salted crackers for those who like some thing crisp.

Anjou — Nellis — Comice — Bartlett — wonderful fresh western pears, all of them. Enjoy — them often — Now that the merry month of May is here — the Nellis pear will be plentiful. You will find them at your favorite market. I'm sure. Bye — Now!

FORT STORY TELLINGS

The first classes of Fort Story's newly instituted remedial driver's training course have proved "highly satisfactory," according to 1st Lt. Robert H. Clifford, post safety officer.

Twenty-nine men attended the classes early this month. The course was conducted after duty hour. Clifford said class enthusiasm and participation was high. The remedial training course is required for military personnel who have been involved in an accident considered their fault, or who have been found guilty of a traffic violation other than illegal parking. Civilian and military personnel may also attend classes on a voluntary basis.

The idea of this program, Clifford said, is not to penalize the student, but to instruct him in safe driving practices. Classes cover seasonal and night traffic hazards and the effects of speed, fatigue and alcohol on the driver. Joint safety officers conduct the course, which Clifford supervises.

The next eight-hour block of classes is scheduled to begin May 7.

A group of dramatically inclined officers and civilians from Fort Story's Aviation Branch visited Fort Story April 24 and turned a routine monthly command conference into a first class show as they put the story of the Army's aviation program across to about 1,000 officers and non-commissioned officers.

The representatives from the Aviation Branch used a humorous quiz program called "The Sky's the Limit" to relay facts about the aviation program and its need for more commissioned pilots.

An officer who retired from active duty April 30 after nearly 28 years of service was honored at a retreat parade at Fort Story Friday, April 27.

He is Capt. John P. Myrdyk, who was provost marshal, assistant provost marshal and post safety officer during an 18-month tour at Story.

Recently assigned 82 (intelligence officer) at Fort Story is Capt. Percy H. Key, Captain Key replaced Maj. William R. Benne, who was holding down the 82 position in addition to duties as post executive officer and representative of the inspector general.

The new 82 previously served with the 1st Infantry Division in Germany, the Campurum Storage Depot, Innsbruck, Austria, and at the Leadership School, Fort Eustis.

Top man among 12 Army and four Navy enlisted men who graduated from the 56th course in "Operation and Maintenance of the Amphibious Truck" April 27 was PFC Clark E. Landford. Landford's average was 96.4.

The course is conducted by the 41st DUKW Company's 9th Training Company. It is open to selected Navy personnel.

Four Fort Story officers are slated for overseas assignments in the near future.

They are Maj. Martin W. Ramsey, executive officer of the 1st Transportation Battalion; Capt. T. M. Lawler, commanding officer of the 41st DUKW Company; Capt. James Dowling, assistant for post plans and operations and Capt. Quinn Ethridge, terminal signal officer.

Major Ramsey and Captain Ethridge will report to the Army Section, Military Assistance Advisory Group, Saigon, Indochina, in June. Captain Dowling will leave for Europe in June, and Captain Lawler departs for Europe in July.

Some 260 adults and an undetermined number of children visited the Old Cape Henry Lighthouse at Fort Story April 23 and 24 in a tour sponsored by the Princess Anne County Garden Club.

The tour was one of many that will be made to the lighthouse and Cape Henry Memorial Cross this Spring. The old lighthouse, constructed in 1791, was the first built by the United States Government. The memorial cross marks the spot where the Jamestown settlers first landed in North America on April 26, 1607.

The post is readying for the annual GI inspection. An inspector general's team from Fort Eustis will begin making the rounds of Story units and activities May 8.

Fort Story's three beaches, comparable to any on the Eastern Seaboard, are scheduled to open May 30. The seaside post provides separate beaches for officers, non-commissioned officers and enlisted men and visitors. Normally, the beaches remain open until the day after Labor Day.

Story's "Soldier of the Month" is Pvt. Clinton R. Wingo, Jr. Wingo is a member of the 84th BARC, a school, part of the Transportation.

One of Ft. Story's huge wheeled amphibious BARCs and two DUKWs will show the public what they can do during an Armed Forces Day demonstration at Norfolk Naval Air Station May 19. While the BARC and DUKW are maneuvering on land and water during a show beginning at 2 p.m., 1st Lt. Robert A. White will explain their characteristics and give a brief account of the story of wheeled amphibious vehicles. During the demonstration, no DUKW will load a 105 millimeter howitzer into the other, a procedure often used in combat.

Another piece of Ft. Story equipment on display will be a cut-away DUKW which shows the internal parts of the amphibious. Other conventional and unconventional transportation machinery based at the Cape Henry post will take part in the Armed Forces Day shows at Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., Ft. Eustis and Williamsburg.

A BARC, a DUKW, a Superduck, the 100-ton landing craft retriever and a new logistical cargo carrier will be at Bolling. Another BARC and 13 DUKWs will go to Ft. Eustis. One of the DUKWs going to Eustis will travel on to Williamsburg and be on display there.

A Military Reserve Week, April 22-28, drew to a close, the Transportation Training Command at Ft. Eustis and Ft. Story program to examine its own reserve program—and found it the strongest ever.

At Eustis, headquarters of the TTC, a Civilian Component Headquarters was organized recently to consolidate the post's huge Transportation Corps reserve activity.

The peninsula installation is expecting more than 6,000 Army Reserve and Reserve Officers Training Corps personnel for summer Army Transportation Corps training.

Of this number, 1,708 officers and warrant officers and 3,912 enlisted men will be from Transportation Corps reserve units. Transportation—ROTC cadets from schools and universities throughout the country will be represented by 533 students.

In addition, Eustis is stressing training of 17 to 18½-year-olds in the Army under the Reserve Forces Act program. The former RFA training company has been redesignated a battalion. It has received its fourth cycle of training.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Except for a very few veterans, the coming July 25 marks the end of the WWII GI bill education and training program. The few exceptions are those veterans who enlisted between October 6, 1945 and October 5, 1948 under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act, a bill to bolster our occupation forces at a time when our civilian soldiers were being rapidly demobilized. Enlistees under this Act were given 9 years from the end of their enlistment and is making preparations for a fifth cycle and a broadly expanded program.

Ft. Story, a major command of Ft. Eustis, will train about 1,000 officers and enlisted men from three USAR units this summer. The reservists will receive instruction in stevedoring and amphibious operations during two week training periods scheduled for each of the three units.

It is expected that more than 500 ROTC cadets to train at Eustis will conclude their six weeks summer activity in the Transportation Training Command with a visit to the Cape Henry post.

period to wind up schooling or training at government expense. The VA is receiving many questions on the status of a veteran in training at that time. Here are a few of the most commonly asked:

QUES. AND ANS.

If I have unused training entitlement, can I use it after July 25, 1956?

The answer is NO. Even though the veteran might have remaining entitlement, he will not be permitted to use it.

If a veteran is in the middle of a summer term in school, will he be able to complete that term under the GI Bill, even though it would carry him beyond July 25?

The answer is also NO. The law cuts off the programs and its related benefits definitely and finally as of July 25, 1956.

I am taking a correspondence course. Must I mail my final lessons to the school before July 25, and must the school send back my corrected lesson before that date?

The veteran MUST mail his last lesson to the school BEFORE midnight July 25. However, the school may process and return the lesson to the veteran after that date.

I know that the law provides that if a veteran has entitlement that will expire AFTER the mid-point of a term or semester he is permitted to complete that term or semester at government expense. Will this part of the law apply in connection with the July 25 termination date? It will not. The veteran will be continued until July 25, but not BEYOND.

In Virginia there are still 665 veterans in training under the WW II GI Bill, 330 of whom are taking courses by correspondence.

Earlier, the S. C. A. sponsored the Surf Queen Contest; there were eight nominees from the Senior class. Miss Cleve Gayle won the vote of the student body; the remaining seven girls were elected attendants.

The Surf Queen will be crowned by the mayor, Mr. Frank Dusch, at the ceremony during intermission. Miss Gayle's honor attendants will be the Misses: Ann La Giglia and Linda Hearn; her attendants will be the Misses Connie Musick, Keith Wilder, Geneva Fraiser, Ruth Thompson, and Gray Schaefer.

The music will be supplied by Buddy Meyer and his band from the Cavalier Hotel.

TWENTY-EIGHT S. C. A. MEETING

Reports were called for from the various committees. Betty Anne Harrell made no report from the Safety Committee. Bill Everett, reported that the faculty seemed to be in favor of the Senior Class in the Exam-Exemption Program, however, it has not yet been approved.

Gray Schaefer reported from the Dance Committee. She stated that no work had been done toward the Surf Ball. Mr. Parker read a list of the committees and the amount of money provided for each committee.

Teachers will head each committee with the students supporting them.

The Vice-President read a letter from the State S. C. A. setting certain standards and requirements for an achievement award.

Due to an interruption, in which the Vice-President was called for, the meeting was concluded.

Anne Price, President; Joe Wool, Vice-President; Alyce Savage, Secretary; P. B. White, Treasurer; Muff Waters, Parliamentarian; Lilla Davis, Chaplain; and Lee Johnson, Sergeant-at-Arms. Mr. Parker is the faculty sponsor.

They are already proving that they will be a moving force around school, and in the community itself. They have taken up several projects.

A group of four Citizens, Anne Price, Muff Waters, P. B. White, and Alyce Savage, attended a district convention in Annapolis, Maryland on the 27th, 28th, and 29th of April. The purpose of this meeting was to form a district club and to elect district officers.

BLOOD BANK

The Junior Citizens Club of Virginia Beach High School is sponsoring a drive for blood. They are trying to set a new record higher than the previous one of 164 pints.

The students headed by Muff Waters as chairman, are putting forth a great effort to make this drive a success. Papers on the information are being distributed on Saturday to service stations and all the schools will receive copies on Thursday. Representatives will be in the leading stores on Saturday between 11 and 1. W.B.O.F. will broadcast an announcement made by the students.

The day for the canvassing is April 28th, and the bloodmobile will be here on the 30th.

It will be located at the Community House between 12 and 6. Babysitters can be contacted to go to homes before 3:30, but after that the children will be taken care of at the Community House. Transportation any time can be obtained by calling 938.

Lets everyone give blood. You never know when someone might need it as a matter of life or death. Support your community by contributing.

FT. STORY SPORTS

Sunday's Game, a 9-8 thriller, was won in the ninth inning when, with two out and two men on base, Story's Carlton Keller hammered a 300-foot home run off loser Jack McCarthy.

Fort Story's baseball team split a two-game set with the powerful Marines at the Quantico Base over the weekend.

Saturday, the previously unbeaten Dukws dropped a 5-2 decision on a windy, chilly field. Four of the Marines' runs were unearned. Carl Buniva, the losing pitcher, now has a record of 2-1.

Each team used three pitchers. Bill Schilling started for the winners and was relieved in the seventh by Milan Cop, Harry Dinardo preserved the lead in the ninth. Cop, with a 2-0 record, was the winning pitcher.

Joe Smith started for Quantico and was relieved by Tom Easton, who retired in favor of McCarthy.

Earlier, the Dukws handed the Portsmouth Naval Hospital a 6-1 setback on the Story diamond. Outfielder Bobby Whitekiller led the hitters with two safeties, a triple and a single. Bill Schilling, the winning pitcher, has hurled two victories against no losses.

The Dukws' record to date stands at seven wins against one loss.

Voting Machines Expected For June Election

Voting machines will be in use in the June 12th condominium election here provided the manufacturer can make delivery in time for that date.

The Virginia Beach Electoral Board has given formal notice to the use of seven voting machines in the June election. Only two other localities in the state use these voting machines. These are Arlington and Fairfax counties.

Approval to acquire voting machines was voted at the April meeting of the Virginia Beach City Council.

A statement issued by board members Herbert A. Holt Jr., Wallace T. Clark and S. H. Simmons said:

"From all available information compiled to date, it is the opinion of the Electoral Board that the use of voting machines is a progressive step and will greatly facilitate the conduct of elections and the counting of the votes."

"The Board (at first) did not feel efficient information and time was available to recommend to the Council the use of the machines in the June 12 election. But now that the Council has voted to acquire, and already has ordered the machines, the Electoral Board will make every effort to use them in the June 12 election."

Board members said the statement was issued to assure "there may be no misunderstanding as to the position of the Electoral Board in regard to the adoption of voting machines for use at elections."

The statement also said representatives of the manufacturer of the machines will be present at the board to assist in the mechanical voting next month.

Beach To Begin Anti-Erosion Task In June

The Virginia Beach Erosion Commission will begin its new pumping operation in June on early July to replenish the sand along the length of the beach. E. H. Church, commission chairman, said this week.

Church said that a 10-inch dredge had been ordered and soon would be available to pump clean, white sand from Rudee Inlet to the beach.

The beach sand has been depleted by storms in recent years, but Church was sure that the replenishment program would restore an adequate strand for the approaching tourist season.

He said that sand would be conducted through a 10-inch pipe now being laid to a "stockpile" position at about 12th or 13th Street. The "tidal drift" of the sand to the north would distribute it all along the beach, he said.

The commission already has in operation one fixed dredging plant at Rudee Inlet from which sand is pumped to another dumping point between 4th and 5th Streets, he noted.

216 Donors For Bloodmobile At Oceana Jet Base

The Tidewater Regional Red Cross Bloodmobile visited Oceana Naval Air Station on May 3rd and collected 216 pints of blood with 16 rejects. Red Cross volunteer workers were: Mrs. J. P. White, Mrs. Francis Straley, Mrs. Lucy Greenham, Mrs. Horace McClendon, Mrs. Jean Duffy, Mrs. W. C. Carpenter, Mrs. D. H. Clark, Mrs. E. L. Daniels, Mrs. Alton Hogard, Mrs. W. J. Hudgins, Jr., Mrs. F. H. Hutman, and Mrs. E. W. Litch.

Omitted from the list of donors at the visit on April 30th at the Community House, Virginia Beach, was Mrs. Olive Downing, a regular blood donor. She will be remembered in connection with the 10th anniversary of the U. S. S. Southern Isles. Mrs. Downing's plans to Washington brought about renewal of Coast Guard search for survivors of the vessel on which her husband was lost since that time. Mrs. Downing has remained in retirement. Navy Airman Killed When Plane Explodes

One Navy and two Air Force pilots were killed in two jet aircraft crashes in the Tidewater area Tuesday.

The Navy pilot was killed when his F4D Skyraider, one of the world's fastest fighters, exploded over Chesapeake Bay at 2 p.m. The pilot was blown from the plane by the force of the explosion and was killed by the automatic ejection seat. He was apparently dead when he hit the water.

Two Air Force pilots were killed when their two F-86 Sabres crashed on Ship Shoal Island, just west of Cape Charles, at 11 a.m.

They were identified as Maj. Henry J. McGee, 35, commanding officer of the 500th Bomber Squadron, and First Lt. John S. White, 35, a member of the squadron.

The Navy pilot was identified as Lt. Winston W. Salter, USN, Mrs. Gertrude Salter, wife, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren Salter, all of Colorado, Mass. Beach Council Members Issue Statements

Three members of the five-man Virginia Beach City Council issued a statement today relative to the controversy created by a request to remove Linkhorn Park by a resident of that area.

The request was received by Leslie A. Weary, who resides in Linkhorn Park, in a letter to the Virginia Beach Planning Commission. No action has been taken on Weary's request.

Councilmen Frank A. Dusch, John W. McCombs and Frank D. Tarrall, Jr. issued the following statement:

"We have received many telephoned calls about the suggestion and request for the removal of the Linkhorn Park area, and we want to assure the people that no action will be taken until a full public hearing is held and everyone has had an opportunity to express himself. And then the welfare of all the people would be considered and not just the welfare of an individual."

The request by Weary was made in a letter to the Virginia Beach Planning Commission dated March 15, 1956. When the request became known it created unrest, particularly among the residents of the Linkhorn Park area.

Three Soldiers Drown In Surf

Three Fort Story soldiers drowned early Tuesday morning when their Landing Vehicle Tracked (LVT) was swamped by a high and wind-driven surf near the Cape Henry Weather Station.

The fatal accident occurred at 4:30 a.m. when a company of five LVTs was moving from an assault exercise beach to the maintenance area.

The victims were: Pvt. William E. Turner, 18, 123 Laurel Ave., Arvin, Calif.; Pvt. Robert E. Tourville, 23, RFD 1, Chateausguy, N. Y.; Pvt. Ernest H. Warnix, 22, Rt. 1 Cropwell, Ala.

Early in the afternoon, a searching helicopter located Tourville's body. The other two were still missing early last night. Army, Navy and Coast Guard helicopters participated in the search, and patrols in amphibious DUKWs and afoot searched the beach.

The ill-fated vehicle was making its way around the retaining wall which surrounds the weather station. In order to make the passage, it had to enter the water.

Five men in the first vehicle to enter the water escaped when it swamped in the strong surf. The second LVT turned back to the beach and the third was swamped about 50 feet off shore. Two of the five-man crew made their way to safety; the other three were lost.

The two men who escaped from the vehicle were identified as Pvt. Robert E. Johnston and Pvt. Will E. Stuart.

Stuart, the driver of the vehicle, said all the men in his crew had a chance to get out of the small driver's compartment and on to the top of the LVT. Stuart added that, as far as he knew, all the men on his vehicle were wearing life jackets.

The driver reported that the three victims were swept off the

Paraport Fail

The first attempt to free the Costa Rican freighter, Paraport, grounded off Chesapeake Beach since the storm of April 11, ended in failure Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, as major dredging operations appeared more certain to be required in the salvage job, Richard J. Webson, executive secretary of the Princess Anne Board of Supervisors, said the firm undertaking the project, will be required to post a $10,000 surety bond before permission will be granted to commence dredging.

The bond will be required to insure that dredged materials from the beach and underwater are replaced after the operation is completed, Webson said. Also required for the New York salvage company is a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers, which needs assurance that no hazards to navigation are created by the work and that adequate notices are posted warning of the operations.

Wet weather during the storm has delayed the street work and plans to surface track a number of dirt streets in Virginia Beach will proceed rapidly as possible with the coming of good weather, a spokesman for the Public Works Department of the city said today.

The city recently purchased a new roller and has year added a special roller to the equipment pool so that surface treatment could be accomplished with its own force. In this manner, many thousands of dollars of the taxpayers money is saved each year.

The street situation of the city has been a great concern to the officials and particularly the Public Works Department, and they have made the following statement concerning this phase of their work:

"While no specific sum for any surfacing was set up in this year's street budget, low operating costs for this year has made available some money which can be spent for this highly desirable purpose. Each year the Street Division makes one of the most difficult to prepare due to the variable weather conditions."

Based on average expected maintenance costs and any remaining funds are used to convert dirt streets to surface treatment.

"Construction of many homes on streets which a few years ago were not open at all has just added the expenditure necessary for surface treatment once this work is started with the resurfacing of old streets which were deteriorated by wet and freezing weather during the winter had been planned for spring and summer the work would have been completed."

that saving money properly and in a way which actually carries the weight of the traffic and which if not used will cause the new laid surface to disintegrate.

"During the winter dirt streets are crowded to shed water and must be sacrificed, re-graded, shaped and hardened before they can be surfaced. Such a procedure will have cost all the winter drainage has been a solid and ditches cleaned and resurfaced."

So far accomplishments of this nature have been minimized by constant wet weather in contrast to last spring when it was necessary to apply calcium chloride for dust control during the last week in April."

Reassuring Statement

Seldom has the Sun-News received as many telephone calls as it has on the question of rezoning Linkhorn Park as requested by Leslie A. Weary, a resident of that area. However, the forthright statement released today by Councilmen Frank A. Dusch, John W. McCombs and Frank D. Terrall, Jr., is reassuring in that they have pledged not to rezoning any area until a public hearing could be held and that the welfare of all the people will be considered and not a single individual.

The whole matter came up recently when Weary, campaign manager for the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket in the forthcoming council race, made a request to the Virginia Beach Planning Commission to rezone that area.

Many of the calls to the Sun-News have been in the form of thanking this newspaper for bringing the entire rezoning matter to their attention so that they might have an opportunity to be heard. This is exactly what is contained in the statement of Mr. Dusch, Mr. McCombs, and Mr. Terrall. According to their statement such a matter deserves and should receive the benefit of a public hearing.

Weary is the man who is credited with making a statement in last year's County Democratic primary at a meeting of the Dunn-Heath ticket that "as a citizen of Virginia Beach I am in this fight wholeheartedly", and he is the man, who, only last week, was elected a delegate to the Republican state convention.

No Mud Slinging?

When the present political campaign for city council got underway several weeks ago the Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates voiced the intention of conducting a campaign free of any "mud slinging." This was pleasing to the ear, but what has happened since that time.

The Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket started off by knocking their city and making an unfair comparison between Virginia Beach and a community that has very little, if anything, in common with our striving resort city.

Since that time this group has continued to attack their city in a manner that can only be construed as "mud slinging." Still, this is what they vowed they would not do.

As usual, the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket must resort to this type of campaign. The voters of Virginia Beach are entitled to a higher type political campaign than this.

It would seem that the sole issue, as has been the case in the past, is the individual qualifications of the candidates who are seeking election to represent the people of this community on the city council.

Lets stick to this sole issue—which men are best qualified to serve the city.

Baseball Film To Be Shown At High School

All baseball players in Little Leagues, Babe Ruth Leagues and High Schools in the City and County are invited to see an outstanding baseball film, Friday night at 7:30 in the Virginia Beach High School Auditorium.

Joe Cronin, formerly a great shortstop with Washington and Boston, directs the film that shows the proper ways to play all positions as well as important tips on how to bat, batting, catching, fielding and throwing as shown in slow motion.

All players in the film are fourteen year olds who play like major league players. The film was a big hit at this week's Sports Club meeting and it was for this reason that the film is being held over for showing to the boys in the area who are playing ball this summer.

DALE CARNEGIE

Yves Picard, 39B St. Louis Street, Victrola, Quebec, Canada, says he conquered belligerence in dogs by conquering his own fear of them. Being a commercial traveler for a large firm he was never able to attend his business alone in the country. He was not that he could not deal with farmers. He liked farmers and he liked doing business with them. But they all had dogs, big dogs.

Every time he got out of his car to enter a farmer's home, he heard that mad song "Whuff! Whuff! Whuff!"

One day he encountered a beast of a dog on a porch—and the eternal "Whuff! Whuff! Whuff!" Fear or not it was an urgent matter to get protection. He had with him a sample of Hardwood Base Board, so repeating to himself, "I am not afraid; I am not afraid," and carried on. To his great surprise for the first time in his life, his enemy, the dog, lowered his head and ran away.

He believes that whenever you are afraid of dogs you should show them that you are stronger than they are and they will respect you.

Deaths

For the last 25 years, Mr. Martin had been a resident of Virginia Beach, living at 1810 Holly Rd. He was a member of Galilee Episcopal Church, Virginia Beach.

The American Little League player auction was held May 5, at which time the managers selected new players for their teams. Following is a roster of the players and managers on the four uniformed teams:

Reliance's Team, Managed by W. T. Pink Ham and T. H. Larsen. Players: Eddie Taber, Jan White, Charles Reed, Billy Hurd, Jeff Norman, Laurin Potter, Billy Pinkham, Ted Hanson, David Bill, Larry Mahles, Mike Clark, Winder Bill, John Lachure, Luther Walker, Rocky Ehrlich.

Boys not named on these teams remain on the farm team. There were 90 boys who participated in the tryouts this spring. It is the plan of the American League for all of these boys, choose selected for the uniformed teams and those remaining on the farm teams, to have an opportunity to play baseball this summer. If this plans is put into effect, the boys in the farm system will be divided into separate teams and will play regular games so that all boys who have baseball and want a chance to play will be able to do so. As replacements are needed on the uniformed teams, as inevitably they will be, boys will be brought up from the farm teams. There were eight of these replacements last summer.

The farm system is vital to the life of the Little Leaguers and needs attention and assistance as much as do the regular teams. Cdr. W. H. Luckins, who so expertly conducted the tryouts, is one of the players and overall farm team manager. He will do a fine job with the boys but he needs help. The success of the farm system will depend on volunteer assistance which all players hope will be offered.

Practice sessions for the farm team will continue to be Saturday 1:30 P.M. at Camp Peddleton. The farm team will be the uniformed teams will be at the direction of the managers.

Rev. Carbaugh Accepts Call At Bayside

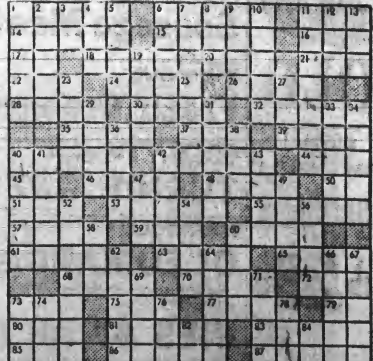

The Reverend Kenneth R. Carbaugh has accepted the call of the Lutheran Synod of Virginia to develop a new mission congregation of that denomination to the Bayside area, according to the announcement made by The Reverend Luther W. Strickler, D. D., Chairman of the Synod. Prior to his acceptance of the call, Pastor Carbaugh made an extensive survey of the community to ascertain the number of Lutherans and other interested residents who might participate in the establishment of such a mission. The survey revealed the names of more than a hundred persons expressing a desire to become a part of the new congregation, and Pastor Carbaugh is confident the opportunities of service for the mission are exceedingly bright.

Services are currently being held in the Bayside Pine School which adjoins the three-acre lot at Shore Drive and Indian Hill Road, which was recently purchased by the Synod as a Church site. Church School begins at nine o'clock, and the Morning Worship Service starts at ten o'clock in the Lutheran Chapel at the Bayside Pine School.

Pastor Carbaugh is a graduate of Eastern College, Salem, Virginia, and received his theological training at Mt. Airy Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia. After ordination he served the U. S. Navy Chaplaincy and served for two years as chaplain with the U. S. Marine Corps. Recently he married Miss Elizabeth Jones, daughter of Philadelphia, Mrs. Carbaugh works as an architect at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Virginia with the rank of Lieutenant in the Navy. The couple reside at 2111 N. Beach, Virginia.

Virginia has 2,700 sawmills, 14 primary pulp and paper mills, 30 cooperage plants and about 70 other wood-using plants.

Unsafe Automobiles Are Menace To Community Says Chief Johnson

Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson today issued this warning and stated that Virginia Beach motorists are conducting a hazardous and dangerous experiment in putting the city's automobiles in good mechanical condition. This Official Vehicle Maintenance Program is being conducted for passenger cars from May 1 through June 15.

"A motorist has no more right to drive a mechanically unsafe car than he has to walk down the street brandishing a loaded revolver," the Chief said. "In fact, he is committing a crime."

Chief Johnson pointed out that the alibi, "I didn't know my brakes were in such bad shape," doesn't excuse a fatal automobile crash any more than the alibi, "I didn't know the gun was loaded," excuses a fatal shooting.

"It is every driver's duty to know exactly what condition his car is in, and there is no excuse for ignorance on this point," Johnson said. According to the Chief, a driver should keep checking his car constantly for the more obvious danger points. This is easy and simple, he said. A quick walk around the car can show if the lights are working. The windshield wiper, the horn and mirror can be checked from the driver's seat. A brief examination of his tires will disclose excessive wear. Loss of brake efficiency shows up in ordinary driving.

But no driver, Johnson said, should be satisfied with these surface checks. He should have his car checked regularly by a qualified mechanic. On these checks Johnson said the following points should be carefully checked: headlights, rear and stop lights, brakes, tires, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, muffler and exhaust system, window glass, horn and rear-view mirror.

More men and materials moved into the Arctic Region during 1956 than any other year. The main reasons were the construction of new military installations on the maintenance and resupply of already established ones.

William & Mary Offering Classes In Teacher Education for Summer

In view of the need for qualified teachers for public elementary schools, the College of William & Mary in Norfolk is going to offer classes in teacher education for a limited number of graduates of liberal arts colleges this summer.

Dr. T. Ross Fink, head of the division of teacher education at Norfolk, stated this summer training is being offered to allow college graduates to obtain their teaching certificates. Dr. Fink went on to say that the course will carry nine semester hours of college credit. Upon successful completion of this program plus succeeding summers, one could meet the state regulations for certification in Virginia.

Interested applicants would be recent graduates, or graduates of some years standing who have married, raised families and now want to offer their services in the present crisis, but who feel their lack of training is a handicap.

The three courses offered will be: Education 302, Psychology 301, and Education 304. The classes will meet one hour daily starting at 8:10 a.m. and end at 12:30, Monday through Friday, for an eight week period.

Registration will take place June 13 at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk and classes will open on June 14. Summer School will end on August 10.

Cost for this advanced program is $77.00 plus books and material. Further information may be obtained by writing or calling Dr. T. Ross Fink at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

National Little League News

With complete teams now in being the National Little League managers are stepping up their training program. After training from 8 to 8:30 should you pass the High School or Cook School playing field you will have a hard time seeing the grass because it will be covered by Little Leaguers and flying baseballs.

The Farm system has also gotten into gear. This year it is planned to have 12 year olds from the regular teams to manage the Farm teams under the supervision of Captain Jim Gregory and his assistants. One boy from each of the teams in the League has been designated to be a responsibility. From the Little Giants; Gary Williamson; from the J. C. Hawks; Terry D. May; from the Thunderbolts; Mike Thomas. The manager from the Farmers has not been named by Captain Jim as yet. These boys are enthusiastic about their added responsibilities and will do much to make the Farm System a success. These managers already have their list made up as to which boys they want on their team and you can bet the bidding will be fast and heavy.

The Little Giants and the Hawks played a practice game last week in order to test their new players under playing conditions. Butcher pitched for the Giants and Reiney pitched for the Hawks. Both of these boys showed their managers that they had some control on the ball plus good control. These new boys will give both teams excellent pitching staffs. The Giants having Sanderlin and Williamson returning add the Hawks will again have their two southpaws Whitehurst and Dalley available for pitching duty.

The start of the Little League season is now less than a month away. Plans are being made with the American League for a Little League Parade and baseball exhibition to be held on the evening of June 1. The parade will proceed up Atlantic Avenue to 25th St.

then to the Official Little League diamond at the Virginia Beach High School where each team of both Leagues will play two innings of baseball. It is hoped that the Mayor of Virginia Beach will be on hand to toss out the ball at this event. Plan to be here.

LITTLE LEAGUE PERSONALITY
Buddy Coopedge, 12 years old, red headed and stocky is a Piper this year. He played first base on the Championship team of the Little League last year but the Pipers will benefit from his booming bat and sure handedness this season. Buddy is an excellent catcher and is suspected to be the Piper who will use him in this capacity this season. Buddy is the kind of a youngster who has a lot of friends because of his consideration for the other fellow and his good sportsmanship. He is in the seventh grade and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Coopedge who reside at Lakewood Circle in Virginia Beach.

His title was changed to leadingman stockman in February, 1955. A native of Catonsville, Md., Mr. Callow attended the Bryant & Stratton Business College in Baltimore.

He and his wife live on 38th St., Virginia Beach.

Four to 8 p.m. are the most dangerous hours of the day to drive.

FT. STORY SPORTS

After a rain-soaked week in which only one game was played, Fort Story's Dukes are sporting a 7-2 record in Tidewater baseball activity. Included in the win column are victories over the Quantico Marines, the Norfolk Naval Retaining Center and the Dam Neck Navy Training Center. The losses were to Quantico and Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base.

Little Chick defeated the Dukes last week, 4-3, scoring three runs in the last half of the ninth inning on Bill Schilling, the losing pitcher. Schilling relieved starter Carl Buniva, who threw in the seventh and eighth innings to the sailors to a tally.

Leading hitter on the Dukes squad is second baseman Jerry Romberg who is batting at a .350 clip. Other 300 hitters on the club are outfielders Eddy Whitekiller, 346 and Robah Hicks, 337, coach Jimmy Pice, third baseman, 333 and catcher Hank McQueeney, 312.

Milan Cop leads the mound cops with two wins against no losses. Buniva's record stands at 2-1. Schilling has 1-2 and Chuck News has 1-0.

Wet Weather cancelled all of Story's intramural football games last week. No games have been played in the infant season which will run through the summer to a playoff series in late August.

Babe Ruth League News

ELIGIBILITY BIRTH DATE CHANGED TO SEPT. FIRST

"Play Ball" will ring out this Saturday when the Babe Ruth League meets at the Virginia Beach High School Athletic Field. The coaches have decided to split up the players in a temporary team so that they can have practice games.

The player auction will be held in a couple of weeks and this game practice will allow the coaches to determine the all-around playing ability of individuals. This past Saturday each boy was given a permanent number that was assigned to his shirt and now every player is known by a number instead of a name.

Mr. John Tucker, Vice President of the League said, "It is imperative that every teenager who has signed up be out for the practice assigned him this Saturday." He also repeated that interested boys may still register. In Babe Ruth rules, September 1st is the deciding birth date, instead of August 1st as previously announced. Therefore, a boy who will be 13 years old before Sept. 1st or one who hasn't reached his 13th birthday by that date is eligible.

Ohio Edison Company recently disclosed plans for "electronic brain" supervision of 35 steam generators in nine plants across Ohio, including automatic determination of the heat content of the coal.

One of every two Dunes is a bicycle owner. Adults cycle to and from work, while youngsters take off riding almost as soon as they can walk.

Congratulations were given to Mrs. H. W. Newsum's Neighborhood Chairman on the big Bayside Neighborhood Rally held on April 28th at Shelton Park School. Trace Chicago Background
Archaeologists have come up with new findings about the Chicago area. A survey conducted by the Chicago Natural History Museum revealed that 3 different cultures have existed in this section in the past 3,000 to 4,000 years. To begin with, nomadic hunting people established camps along the rivers and lake beaches in the Chicago area about 3,000 to 4,000 years ago. Following them were the Woodland Indians who built small villages and made crude pottery and rough tools of stone and bone. By the year 900 A.D. hunting and farming people populated the area and supported large villages. They remained until the white man made his appearance.

WBOF Staff Members Win AP Awards
Leo Hooty and Wade Williams teamed to bring WBOF two first place and one fourth place award from the Associated Press for outstanding newscasters.

The awards were presented by the Virginia Associated Press Broadcasters as Banquet held Wednesday night at the National Press Club in Washington, D. C. WBOF placed first in local and state news, first in news commentary and fourth place among all stations in comprehensive news coverage. The awards which are divided into two classifications — one division for areas with two or more stations and another division for areas with only one station are awarded annually in an effort to increase competence in the new rooms of member stations. Only one other Tidewater station won any first place awards, and that exception was Mildred Alexander who won first place in women's news at WVAR in the Metropolitan station category.

The presentations came after an all day business session of the Associated Press Broadcasters in Washington. Jack Knell, News Director of WBT, Charlotte, a member of the Board of Directors of the National Associated Press Radio Television Association was the Banquet speaker.

Archaeologists have come up with new findings about the Chicago area. A survey conducted by the Chicago Natural History Museum revealed that 3 different cultures have existed in this section in the past 3,000 to 4,000 years. To begin with, nomadic hunting people established camps along the rivers and lake beaches in the Chicago area about 3,000 to 4,000 years ago. Following them were the Woodland Indians who built small villages and made crude pottery and rough tools of stone and bone. By the year 900 A.D. hunting and farming people populated the area and supported large villages. They remained until the white man made his appearance.

SOIL SAMPLES

Farmers who plan to seed alfalfa and pasture this summer should collect and send in soil samples for analysis sometime this month, say agronomists at VPI.

The agronomists point out that samples taken in May still allow time for making needed basic fertilizer and lime applications before seeding.

County agents and other professional agricultural workers can give directions for taking and sending soil samples for analysis.

NEW LAW AFFECTS PASTURE SPRAYS FOR ARMY WORMS

If you're grazing dairy cows, or getting beef cattle ready for market, it will pay you to study details of the Miller Act, particularly if you have to spray for army worms.

Dr. J. O. Rowell, an entomologist at VPI, explains that the legislation deals with residues. When you spray or dust plants, some of the chemical sticks for days before it weathers off. This is a main reason for residues.

Acid residues on forage will be picked up in milk and fat of animals feeding. To avoid residues, Dr. Rowell says, time lapses between applications of the chemical and use of the crop as feed are prescribed. Time lapses vary. Usually, instructions are given on container labels of the insecticide.

For toxaphene, the commonest insecticide for army worms, at least 14 days must elapse between application and harvest, or use of the crop. For DDT, dieldrin and endrin, 30 days must elapse. Another material, heptachlor, can be used; it has a 10-day waiting period. Methoxychlor also is used sometimes, but it is considered rather expensive. It has only a 7-day waiting period.

TWIN BEEF CALVES WANTED FOR RESEARCH

Scholars in the U.S. Department of Agriculture are in the market for two more pairs of identical twin beef calves.

The animals must be steers or bulls less than five months old and available within 100 miles of Washington, D. C. The calves are needed for feeding experiments at U.S.D.A.'s Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md.

Anyone knowing of identical twin beef calves in northeastern Virginia that are available for the tests is asked to write the Animal and Poultry Husbandry Research Branch, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md.

The Department will buy twin calves on an offer-and-acceptance basis, depending on their suitability and the price asked by the owner. Only purebred or grade animals of good beef type are acceptable.

HOME PORTRAITURE

STORAGE TANK . . . Gasoline storage tank of 110-gal. capacity is made by welding together two 55-gal. oil drums. Tank is painted with aluminum paint to reflect heat. Insides of drums should be thoroughly steam-cleaned before units are welded together.

The researchers said identical twins are rare but extremely useful in research. Feeding experiments with a single pair give results that are just as reliable as tests made with several animals less closely related. Use of twins thus permits nutrition research to be done faster and at less cost.

ROAMING ANIMALS SPREAD DISEASE

The roaming dog, and other animals, have a lot to do with spreading brucellosis of dairy cattle.

Veterinarians at VPI say your own dog is often the worst offender. It's hard to control all animals, but try to do so. In any case, vaccinating all beef calves is a vital step in controlling the disease.

Vaccinate when the calves are between the ages of four and eight months. The resistance or immunity induced at four months is just as strong for all practical purposes, as that which develops in a calf vaccinated at eight months.

BLACK LIGHTS CATCH BUGS
Most insects which are annoying during warm weather are attracted to black light—and this fact points to a way for their control, says John M. Amos, associate entomologist at VPI.

Amos says black light attracts more insects to light traps than white lights. This is true regardless of the position or intensity of lights.

Traps, equipped with invisible ultraviolet light, can provide an effective yet unobtrusive way of controlling insects which gather around such places as outdoor eating stands, food markets and terminals, food processing plants and barns. Simple grids which electrocute insects on contact can easily be equipped with small black lights available industrially. Black light has the additional advantage of being almost invisible at short distances, and can be used where bright, white lights would be objectionable.

Methodist Youth Elects Officers

The Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship of Community Methodist Church have elected the following officers to serve for the new conference year.

Earl A. Oyer, President; Woodrow W. Johnson, Vice President; Judy Samson, Secretary; Marjorie Wright, Treasurer; Don Humphries, Chairman Faith & Witness; Albert S. Mason, Chairman Citizenship & Outlook; Carolyn Charles, Chairman Fellowship; Judy Dorer, Chairman Publicity.

Occupational Safety

The conference, which has been held at two-year intervals, will meet in Washington, D. C., from May 14 to 16.

Mrs. Goode Robinson, secretary chairman, Virginia Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, Lynchburg, and vice chairman, Virginia Rural Safety Council, will represent Virginia at a farm safety clinic to be held in conjunction with the conference.

In showcasing the safety clinic, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said, "Farm safety is of vital interest to us in agriculture because of the increased hazards now associated with farming as a result of the tremendous expansion of mechanization. Agriculture accounts for all other industries in the annual toll of fatal accidents."

Helfrich Appointed State Representative Of Miller Company

L. M. Grawmeyer, Vice President in Charge of Sales Illuminating Division, The Miller Company, today announced the appointment of Robert B. Helfrich, of Virginia Beach, as sales representative for the Virginia territory.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

There's really no substitute for a good breakfast. The most nutritious packed lunch in the world won't compensate for a skipped morning meal. And the best-balanced dinner won't carry you through in peak form till the following noon.

It's been proved: People who eat a good breakfast work better, think better, react faster and are altogether nicer to live with, happier people.

Develop an appetite for breakfast. If you have been eating 50 - 60 - or 70 per cent of the day's food at dinner time, then try this experiment: eat a little more at lunch time, a little less at dinner. Go easy on high-calorie desserts etc.; then make yourself eat a good breakfast.

Try it for 10 days and see if you don't look forward to breakfast.

It will be worth getting up 15 minutes earlier, to feel happier and healthier.

NO. 1. Let me just give you a few breakfast patterns.

Buddy is now at the University of Michigan majoring in music. He is a pupil of Clifford Herzer also of Virginia Beach. It is the fourth time Buddy has won prizes and the fourth gold medal in the Festival.

Mr. Herzer had twenty gold medals this year in the Recording Festival, and a total of two hundred and seventy-five dollars for his students.

Nicholas Karsaras, Norfolk and Virginia Beach was another gold medalist and cash prize winner. He is now studying at Fordham University in New York City.

Just a few suggestions now for the juice or fruit so rich in vitamin C. Juices - fresh frozen or canned orange - grapefruit or blend tomato juice - prune juice, apple juice.

Halves of grapefruit.
Orange fruit sections.
Orange sections, or combine the two. Baked apples are nice to serve as a fruit snack.

Apple sauce flavored with a bit of lemon rind - a few raisins or a little cranberry sauce.

Dried apricots, prunes - peaches - peaches or good and delicious cooked together.

Bananas are favorite in many homes - and by the way - Fruit Nectors of different flavor makes a nice breakfast starter.

Must have you now - but don't forget - Breakfast is considered the most important meal of the day. Don't neglect it - How about giving Mother a special treat on Sunday - Mothers' Day?

Council Of Garden Clubs Hears Annual Report Given By President

"The past year has been a busy and fruitful one for the Council and one of which we may well be proud" was the opening statement made by Mrs. Gilmore Lee Tibbuck when she gave her annual report to the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County last Wednesday.

Mrs. Tibbuck, President of the Council listed the "Fashion Show" last August, the assistance given the merchants in the "Christmas City by the Sea" campaign, the "Join the Dogwood Drive" with its outstanding success, the Laskin Road planting, their largest project of the year and participation in the City's 50th Anniversary Celebration as some of the numerous activities of the past year. In addition the members are working on a clean-up drive, the promotion to make the area a bird preserve and sanctuary and are supporting the Cape Myrtle Trail from Cape Henry to Jamestown.

The Eastern Shore and Cape Henry by the Sea Garden Clubs were welcomed as new members to the Council. Mrs. Nathan Bundy, chairman of the nominating committee, presented Mrs. R. J. Throckmorton of the Princess Anne Garden Club for Vice President and Mrs. Lief Anderson, Cavalier Garden Club for corresponding secretary, both were elected unanimously.

Mr. R. Lee Page, who has been mainly responsible for the maintenance of the seven blocks of the Atlantic Avenue planting within the City limits, was made the first Honorary Member to the Council.

Mrs. David Throckmorton, chairman for the Seaside Flower Jubilee and Mrs. E. A. Hoffmeister, schedule chairman presented plans for the flower show which the Council is sponsoring June 23rd and 24th in co-operation with the Golden Jubilee.

Mrs. Lester Gayle reported on her talk with Mr. Greenapion and outlined their plans for the beautification of the Ocean end of the 31st Street Right of Way at Seaside Park. It was decided that a fashion show would be held early in September, the details of which will be worked out by the planning committee of the Council during the summer.

Each member was presented with a history of the Council which had been compiled by Mrs. Frank Burison. This history is an accurate account of the Council's work beginning April 8th 1950 when Mrs. Floyd Dornire then President of the Virginia Beach Garden Club called a meeting of the executive board of all the garden clubs in the area. As a result of this meeting a "Clean-up Campaign of Virginia Beach" was inaugurated. The permanent council as it is known today was organized about four months later on July 31st for the purpose of improving and beautifying Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

Among the many contributions of local chemicals to better living and undoubtedly one of the most popular, is the "squeeze" bottle used today for lotions, shampoos, and other liquids and made from a coal chemical called polyethylene, produced from coke oven gas.

More than 78% of vehicles involved in fatal accidents in 1955 were traveling straight ahead.

Theatre-Go-Round To Open On June 26

Lesley Savage announces that her new air-conditioned Theatre-Go-Round will open for its 1956 season at a new location on Sixteenth Street and Atlantic Avenue. Opening night is June 26. After six years in the famed Blue and Yellow tent, Tidewater's only professional acting company moves indoors into the old La in Quarter location. Now, despite heat wave or rain, patrons will see the finest entertainment the Beach has to offer in cool, comfortable, roomy surroundings.

An unusually fine roster of recent Broadway hits makes up the bill of plays this year. "Seven Year Itch", "Bus Stop", "Solid Gold Cadillac", "Tos and Sympathy", "Anniversary walk", "Bad Seed", and "Anastasia" are all to be seen at Va. Beach for the first time. A revival of the popular "Streetcar Named Desire" starring Lesley Savage, and a production of the warm, family comedy "The Happy Time" round out the season of Broadway Revivals. Also scheduled is the world premier of Romeo Muller's new farce on the Bridget Murphy theme, "The Pink Poltergeist."

Adjacent to the Theatre will be the new Fourth Act Club, serving beer and unusual wine drinks. The club will open at five in the afternoon, continue during theatre intermissions and be in full swing after the show until closing time. Musical entertainment will be provided by a top flight, modern pianist located in the center of the spacious horse-shoe bar.

Still "the smartest entertainment at the Beach", Theatre-Go-Round will now be one of the Beach's most comfortable spots.

Remember the location: Sixteenth St. and Atlantic Avenue. Opening night: June 26. Tickets still $2.40 plus city tax.

The Aspirations of Men

We come to the parting of the ways for mankind in what now wants to be. Some have desire but they do not want to bring in order to bring that desire to pass. They will live below their capacity because of frustration. Purpose is not strong enough to help them become what they should be. It is one thing to dream but quite another to see that dream come true. Day dreaming without corresponding effort brings less to vision and accomplishment.

Another group have found this joy, of success. Sometimes it comes the hard way. They have learned the lessons of following the line of least resistance. It is striving, working to be somebody, never giving up, bucking currents, working under handicaps, but keeping on that has brought their rewards. Someone has said there is the hero and the coward in all of us. The hero awakens when the challenge to quit faces us. The striving begins in earnest when determination moves on. Heroes are not made by going where the wind blows but by going in the face of the wind. It is a matter of standing when one should be down.

This is the purpose of religion. It does not appeal to our softness but to our strength. Paul said to Timothy, "Endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ." Paul did not want his son in the ministry to follow the currents of men. He wanted the currents to flow differently because Timothy was around.

Mainly through the Rural Electrification Administration program, some 4.9 million American farms—more than 90 per cent of the total—were being supplied with electric power in 1953. In 1935, when REA was established, only 11 per cent were electrified.

THE CHURCH POINTS THE WAY

Thousands of columns have been published in American newspapers about juvenile delinquency. Investigations have been held in scores of cities, and many witnesses have been called in an effort to find the cause and the cure.

In all this sudden excitement little has been said about the lack of religion in the homes and hearts of these thousands of unfortunate youths. Far too much emphasis has been placed on inadequate play facilities, too little discipline, too few policemen, etc.

Juvenile delinquency is primarily a moral and religious problem. Neither jail nor playground, as necessary as they are, will do much to foster love, goodwill, self-respect and charity in the heart of a person. The development of love and charity in the life of a youth needs constant day by day cultivation. But how can a parent properly train a child if that parent has no religious or spiritual training or background and lives had no religious or spiritual values if that parent does not even attempt to live an exemplary life and does not admit his or her dependence upon God, or creator?

Down through the ages the Church has been the bulwark against crime, sin and evil. Those who would solve the problem of delinquency in young or old should seek the way of the Church, for these who need spiritual healing should seek spiritual treatment. The Church stands ready to help parent and youth alike.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH...

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four main reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. From his own standpoint, the Church regularly and faithfully attends to his own needs.

Ideas for the Modern Homemaker

By Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal
County Home Agent

This week, April 29 through May 5, is being observed as National Home Demonstration Week by 5,700,000 homemakers who take part in home demonstration work in the United States. Women are applying to the question "what does home demonstration work do?" by saying that it helps homemakers and families to help themselves. In order to do this, information on all phases of family living is needed. For example, information on the selection, production and preparation of food is needed for good health. The location and limitations of safety hazards in the home is necessary if we are to lower the large number of deaths still occurring in Virginia homes. At this point it might be well for us to realize that as horrible as our highway accident death total is, that we still are having more deaths occur from accidents of other kinds. If we consider the field of clothing, women in home demonstration work learn to either save by making their own or by learning more about the values to be considered when purchasing ready made garments. It has been said that today that people get more tired from the stress and strain of working than they do working. If this is true and we have reason to believe that it is, then furnishing a home, making better use of the resources which we have and managing our time and money better in order that we may achieve the peace needed for a rebuilding of the family members a strength for the next day is certainly an important consideration. In order to further this fundamental aim of building better homes the Cooperative Extension Services assist adult women with their homemaking problems. It does this by passing on information gained by people in research in colleges such as VPI in Virginia and also by people in the United States Department of Agriculture. This information is given by agents of the Extension Service who in the case of the home demonstration work are called Home Demonstration Agents. In most cases this work is carried on through organized groups called clubs. Usually they meet once a month. They have a business meeting and fellowship but unlike other organizations which have a different purpose for being they reserve a good portion of their meeting time for teaching. The method formerly used in a demonstration which means you teach by showing. The topics for these demonstrations are chosen in each county by a group of county women after considering which of the problems in homemaking they wish to work on principally for that year. For example, if the area of health is taken, what are the problems in this area? Do women know how to eat properly? Do they know the methods in food preparation which preserve the factors in food which they need? Do they know that they need an annual check-up? Do they take advantage of the advantages of a K-ray unit? Are they aware of the conditions in their home which lead to rather than remove the tensions which the family members meet every day? What is the safety score in their home? Which times and seasons can they take measures to prevent? Are there skills which they need to know in order to do these things? Do they actually need more appliances to do the job of making a family healthy? And do they need to learn to get more from the appliances which they already have? All of these could be problems that they would decide they might need instruction in solving.

"It may sound as though women were only interested in their own personal problems but like all of us, they have long ago learned that by organization they carry more influence because they can reach more people with a knowledge that they have. We have District, National and International clubs with which we are affiliated. We work with others in our own State for the betterment of family living. And so this week we salute this particular group of women, one of the many new women's power families for America.

"In Princess Anne there will be a Radio program, a T.V. Program, designed to tell about the work which the women in this County do. The women themselves will attend a District Meeting in Surry on Thursday, May 8, and on Saturday, May 5 many of the club members for their County are expected to be in the County. To those who are interested in working with the organized groups that they would be most welcome and also the information which is available can be obtained for information work groups and other purposes dealing with family living whenever it is requested by any group in the County.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Lapsed GI term insurance still may be reinstated before the end of the term period, the Veterans Administration said in answer to numerous inquiries.

VA said it has found that many veterans believe they no longer are entitled to GI insurance when they have missed several premium payments on 5-year policies.

However, the agency explained, if the 5-year term has not expired, the policies may be reinstated with the payments of two monthly premiums.

A medical examination is required if the policies have been lapsed more than three months. No examination is required if the policies have been lapsed less than three months and the policyholders are in good health as they were on the date of lapse, VA added.

Any contact office of the Veterans Administration will assist veterans in reinstating GI term insurance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

I am taking flight training under the Korean GI Bill. Will I be allowed any special number of days of absence, during which I will receive my GI allowance? No. Flight trainees are paid only on the basis of flight instruction actually received. When no instruction is received, no payments will be made.

I allowed my World War II permanent insurance policy to lapse two months ago. I plan to pay all my back premiums and reinstate it. Will I have to pay interest on the premiums?

If you reinstate your permanent policy within a three-months after the date it lapsed, no interest will be charged. If you wait longer, you will be required to pay interest on back premiums.

I intend to apply for a GI business loan. There is no real estate involved. Would I be eligible for a 25-year loan?

No. Under the law, non-real estate loans may be made for a maximum repayment period of 10 years. Within that maximum, the repayment period will have to be worked out between you and the lender.

I want to get a GI farm loan. How can I find a lender who makes such loans?

You would be able to get the information from your County Agricultural Extension Agent. You also should contact lending institutions in your community.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

One of the largest and most complete collections of Confederate money, bonds and other relics will be among exhibits sponsored by Fort Story at the Norfolk Naval Air Station on Armed Forces Day, May 19.

The collection of more than 2,000 different items was amassed by Walter Glenn Elliott over a period of 47 years. Elliott is a civilian employee in the office of the comptroller at Fort Story.

Central theme of the display is the promotion of the sale of U.S. Savings Bonds. Confederate money and bonds in the collection would have been worth about $1,000,000 in Civil War days.

Some 15 second lieutenants in the Army for six months under the Reserve Forces Act program will begin a four-month tour of duty at Fort Story in the near future. The officers, to be sent here from Fort Eustis, will receive on-the-job training in company during their stay here.

Troops at Story and Eustis who are training to supply Arctic "DEW Line" radar sites this summer in Project 572 are getting to be quite the celebrities. Their efforts were first publicized in the Army Times and local papers last week. A few days later, a Norfolk television station put the training routine on film. Transportation Corps men and equipment were scheduled to make their appearance on area TV screens May 7.

Just how the Transportation Research and Development Command's huge landing craft retriever, which doesn't float and is far too large to run on highways, travels any appreciable distance was demonstrated at the TRADCOM Test Site here last week. The 100-ton monster was disassembled into its major components: parts for shipment by barge to Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D. C. The retriever will be put back together at Bolling and exhibited on Armed Forces Day, May 19. After being displayed, it will be taken apart again, shipped back to Fort Story and reassembled.

Another TRADCOM development, the Sno Train, was also shipped by water to Bolling for display on Armed Forces Day. Incidentally, the Sno Train is getting its name changed to "Logistical Cargo Carrier." The switch is being made because it is believed the carrier's giant tires will help it over marshy and sandy terrain as well as snow.

Fort Story's three battalions and 27 officers and 536 enlisted men to Fort Eustis Friday, May 4, to participate in a parade honoring Col. Edward W. Sawyer, Col. Sawyer was recently succeeded as chief of staff of the Transportation Training Command by Col. Robert A. Cliffe.

An innovation in traffic management has appeared at this Cape Henry post. Portable signs warning "Stop, DUKW Crossing" are being placed at intersections where DUKWs approach and leave the beach.

The signs were made to warn motorists who were paying little attention at DUKW entrances and exits despite efforts of road guards to keep traffic straight. Sergeant First Class Robert Ledlow of the 344th Amphibious Truck Company got the idea for the signs after seeing several near accidents between cars and DUKWs at crossings.

Portable traffic signs are not new, of course. It's the message that makes the Story signs a little different. The average motorist would never expect to be greeted by a ponderous DUKW at an inconspicuous intersection.

The second in a series of remedial driver training courses being conducted here began May 7, with 29 men attending. The first course, held in April, was considered "highly successful" by Lt. Robert H. Clifford, Jr., post safety officer.

The Fort Story Officers' Wives Club held its monthly business meeting at the post officers' club Wednesday, May 3. Something new was added when representatives of a Norfolk department store gave a demonstration on the use of cosmetics after the business discussion was completed.

GARDEN GUIDE

By J. WILTON ANDERSON

Growing Pains

One of the most frequently made mistakes in gardening is to set out plants without regard to the size to which they will grow. It is easy to ride around any residential area and find overgrown shrubs where small ones should be.

In planting shrubs at the foundation of a house, it is best to allow enough distance from the plant to the building so that the plant will not grow against the wall. There are several reasons for this. The plant will be more healthy and better able to resist attacks of insects and diseases if light and air can circulate around it. Putting shrub clips to a house also often brings it into contact with lime from concrete foundations or masonry. Some plants tolerate or need lime, but most of the shrubs used in our part of the country do better in a soil that does not have lime (limes are the big exception to the dislike of lime. Local laws should be lined each spring and fall).

Another reason for not letting plants grow against a wall is that it prevents walking near the house which occasionally is required. For example, painters, electricians, baseball outfielders and others sometimes have to have room to work. For this purpose it is best to plant a shrub when it reaches within about 9 inches of the wall and prevent its getting any closer.

It is impossible to give a rule of thumb about how far to plant a shrub from a building. Size of the shrub to be planted, rate of growth, maximum size, purpose of the shrub to the planting, etc., all have a bearing. Pruning, of course, can be a very modifying influence.

The best answer is to know the details of the plant and to draw a conclusion from these data. How to find the details needed? Check a good book on plants or ask successful gardeners or let a nurseryman give you advice.

In planting trees and shrubs away from the house, it is almost as important to near the house to know about maximum size and whether or not the plant can be controlled by pruning. So many people buy plants that are pretty and put them in a small yard without realizing that they are shrubs at the time but on the way to being large trees. Some of the arborescences, re-sinoparas, junipers and cedars often have to be cut down because they have not been allowed sufficient room to grow. Narrow leaf evergreens are the ones usually guilty. They are bought because they are often cheaper than broad leaf evergreens. They also are generally far less satisfactory from the point of view of responding to pruning.

COLONY RESTAURANT

"BEST AT BEACH"

"The person who told us your food was the best on the Beach knew exactly what they were talking about," said Esther Jolly, of Salem, Virginia, after a recent meal at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Ave. in the Jefferson Hotel building.

This patron's remark is typical of many who have discovered the enjoyment and fine food to be had at the Colony. (ADV.)

Proceeds From Golf Tournament
Going to Charity

Members of the Women's Tidewater Golf Association who are locally sponsoring the coming 4th annual Triangle Round Robin Golf Tournament slated for the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club June 6th through the 10th met at the Cavalier Monday to discuss their plans for the coming tournament.

Major item discussed was the charity which would benefit from the proceeds of the tournament and the members of the Association are now selling in the Tidewater area for the handsome Triangle program to be given gratis to all spectators and interested parties coming to the Triangle Round Robin.

It was agreed upon that the Girl's Club of Norfolk would receive the proceeds of the sale. This club established five years ago was sponsored for two years by the Junior Women's Club and three years ago it was incorporated.

365 girls from 6 to 16 belong to the club which is non-sectarian and devoted to recreation with emphasis on activities for girls 6 to 11. They now meet in the 2nd Presbyterian Church and participate in handicrafts and outdoor games on the playground. It is the aim of the Tidewater women to bring the Girl's Club up to par with the Boys Club. Daily attendance at the Girl's Club was reported as being between fifty and a hundred girls.

The Tidewater women are now calling on business firms in the area for ads and are anticipating the co-operation of firms called on to make their charity drive for the Girl's Club successful.

The Triangle Tournament will bring 18 top women professionals of the country to Virginia Beach with Louise Suggs as defending titlist. A $10,000 purse, second largest for women professionals, is the largest purse ever given by the Triangle Conduct and Cade Company, sponsoring Triangle president, John E. McAuliffe, and proceeds of the tournament as well as proceeds of the ads sold will go to charity. The Triangle will shortly announce the charity they are choosing.

Dusch Requests
Pacific Avenue
Plan Program

Mayor Frank A. Dusch has requested the engineering firm of Myron A. Surgeon to present plans for improvement of Pacific Avenue at next Monday's City Council meeting. It was learned today.

Mayor Dusch made the request so that Council may act on the plans at this month's meeting and to speed up the program of improvement which has been discussed for some time.

Improvement of Pacific Avenue has been a long range plan of the City for the past several years and the Mayor's action this week gives impetus to the project.

Revealing Letters

What so many people have known from the very start of the present local political campaign for city council seats, but what had to be surmised until this week is now a bona fide fact. And credit for completely clearing up the matter must go to the wife of the anti organization campaign manager, who wrote a brief, but informative letter to this newspaper. The letter appears elsewhere on this page.

The writer of the letter, Mrs. Leslie A. Weary, completely clears the air surrounding those who are sponsoring the anti candidates in the city council election. Mrs. Weary writes that the "Big Three" behind Cruser and Seamans are Willie Dunn, "Butsie" Heath and her husband, Leslie A. Weary. The latter is the gentleman, who recently requested the city planning commission to rezone the Linkhorn Park area. And, he is the announced campaign manager of the anti ticket in the forthcoming election and he is the same person who was recently named a delegate to the State Republican convention.

Mrs. Weary's letter should be appreciated by everyone since the ticket can now rightly be referred to as the Dunn-Heath-Weary council ticket. Of course, to many persons this is not a great revelation as it was common knowledge that Willie Dunn and his group more or less handpicked the candidates on their ticket.

While Mrs. Weary's letter was quite informative as to the Dunn-Heath-Weary trio running the show, another letter received this week and also reprinted on this page was equally informative and dealt with the residence of one of the Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates, Kenneth Cruser.

The writer of the second letter stated that he was disturbed by those who would question the fact that Cruser is a resident of Virginia Beach. The defender of Cruser went on to elicit in detail about the house in the Lynnhaven area of Princess Anne County that Cruser owns. The latter stated that the residence in the Lynnhaven area was owned by Cruser, but that he built it for a "summer" home.

Not only does the letter writer refer to the house on the Lynnhaven River as a "summer" house, but Cruser, himself, stated the same thing in a talk made last week. We do not deny that persons do have "summer" houses, but we do think it might be strange for a man who is offering himself for city council of a magnificent SUMMER resort city such as Virginia Beach would build a "summer" house in an area several miles inland from the summer resort city he says he wants to serve.

Both letters are very enlightening and we can only watch in utter amazement and wonder what the next smokescreen will be in the tactics of the Dunn-Heath-Weary machine.

Dealing in Facts

The Dunn-Heath-Weary candidate for city council, Kenneth Cruser, continues to attack the City of Virginia Beach and the way it is meeting its obligations and problems. His campaign thus far has been to abuse the way in which Virginia Beach is being operated and in so doing he has chosen to compare it to other cities.

Virginia Beach was first compared to a Virginia city, Buena Vista, by Mr. Cruser and his remarks and statements were promptly refuted and he was made to look ridiculous because he had not given a fair comparison or a complete picture.

His latest selection for comparison purposes is the resort city of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. On the face of it this would sound like a logical choice of cities to make a comparison. If we do compare Virginia Beach and Myrtle Beach what do we find?

We find that Myrtle Beach maintains no school system. Its schools are operated by the county and the State. So Virginia Beach would not operate its schools if it were like Myrtle Beach.

In the matter of fire protection we find Myrtle Beach has a total of five paid employees in its fire department. Virginia Beach has 12 paid members of its fire department at the present time and expects to employ an additional man within the next two weeks. The two cities can hardly be compared in this respect.

The City of Myrtle Beach contributes, or appropriates $12,000 annually to advertise the city in the resort field. The City of Virginia Beach this year will spend $41,000 for this purpose, almost $30,000 more than Myrtle Beach. We wonder if Mr. Cruser would have our city reduce its advertising appropriation down to that of Myrtle Beach so that our economy would suffer from loss of tourist business.

Finally, the matter of beach erosion and what is being done by the two cities. We find that Myrtle Beach has no beach erosion or restoration program while the City of Virginia Beach has done a splendid job in restoring its beach and arresting the erosion. If we followed the course of Myrtle Beach which Mr. Cruser uses as a comparison to our city we would have no beach erosion program in operation.

It is hard to beat facts and the facts in this case of comparing Virginia Beach to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, as Mr. Cruser has done, will not stand the test. Mr. Cruser, no doubt, will continue to attack our city, but we believe he should know whereof he speaks when he makes comparisons between cities.

Even "Friends" Can Be Wrong

The claim has been made by the Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates for city council that the city has been in the wrong hands for the past twenty-five years and that something should be done about it. The anti says that everything is wrong and that those who have been in office during the past twenty-five years are to blame.

The Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates, in their wild issuance of statements, have cast serious reflections on their fellow citizens.

Covering the past twenty-five years is quite a span of years. During that period of time Pete McClanahan, brother of Councilman W. W. McClanahan, served as police chief, and Russell Land, uncle of the same Councilman McClanahan, served on the city council. It must be assumed that the Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd refers to these men in covering the past 25 years.

Not only were McClanahan and Land public office holders, but W. W. McClanahan, himself, has served on the city council for some ten years. The Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates seem to be stacking their own supporters as McClanahan has publicly endorsed them through the press.

Wild and thoughtless statements do eventually backfire and it seems that the point of twenty-five years of city administration in the wrong hands which has been made by the anti group is aimed at some of their supposedly good friends and supporters.

Order people are tediously increasing the number in relation to our total population. The number of persons 65 and over has quadrupled since 1900, while the total population has only doubled.

U. S. Savings Bonds are not subject to market fluctuations. You know in advance just how much they will be worth at any given time in the future.

ARE YOU--

The Editor's Mail Box

The following letter addressed to Mr. Wallace T. Clark, secretary of the Virginia Beach Electoral Board, is reprinted for the information of our readers and the voters of Virginia Beach. It deals with the problems that have been encountered by the County of Arlington in adopting the use of voting machines in elections.)

May 9, 1956

Mr. Wallace T. Clark, Secretary
Electoral Board
City of Virginia Beach
Virginia Beach, Va.

Dear Mr. Clark: Please excuse the delay in answering your telephone inquiry concerning voting machines, but I was unexpectedly out of town Monday and Tuesday.

The first time we used voting machines was for the primaries in 1950. At that time we had 29 precincts with approximately 30,000 registered voters and we used 65 machines. In order to have the machines well received by the public and know how to operate them as well as the judges and clerks of election being educated in their use, we held instruction meetings of the judges and clerks and put the machines on public demonstration at various public places about 3 months before the election.

The machines were demonstrated to the public by members of various civic associations. The people demonstrating the machines to the public had to attend a course of instruction. We felt that the more the public knew about operating the machines, the better the machines would be accepted by the public and the mechanics of the election would operate smoothly. A representative of the Automatic Voting Machine Company was here to help us with the instruction classes and get us started. It is really quite a job to get the public acquainted with the machines.

For elderly people that did not want to accept the voting machine (there were not many) we suggested they use an absentee ballot.

We also find that you have to keep educating the public because you constantly have new people who have not used machines before.

Although you can't have a spoiled ballot by using voting machines, if the public doesn't know how to operate the machines properly, the public can throw their votes away. By this I mean the voter must leave the pointer down over the candidate of his choice for it to count. Our experience has been that the voter is afraid some one will know how he votes so he pulls the pointer down then pushes it back up. The voter thinks he has voted but actually he hasn't. This percentage is quite small but we are always striving for perfection.

I would like to say here that the instruction for the general public is different from the instruction for the judges and clerks. The judges and clerks have to know how to take off the returns.

We also hold instruction meetings approximately 4 days before each election for the judges and clerks of the election to refresh their memory in using the machines and also bring up any unusual points.

I hope I have been helpful. If you have other questions do not hesitate. I have been in touch with Mr. Alex Andrews, 706 Insurance Building, Raleigh, North Carolina, the Automatic Voting Machine Representative and suggested he contact you.

We are anticipating having a Special Bond Election June 5th. We would be very pleased to have you visit us at that time and see just how we handle the election.

I would suggest you get here Monday, June 4th so you can open up with us in the morning June 5th at 5:45 A. M. This way you can get a complete picture of the operation.

The city of Danville is also interested in using machines and the City Manager and Clerk of the Corporation Court are also planning on being here at the same time.

Looking forward to seeing you June 4th.

Sincerely yours,
Mary A. Thompson
General Registrar

The Editor, Sun-News

Dear Sir: The Sun-News pays my husband a great honor in associating his name with those of Mr. Dunn and Mr. Heath. They are men of honor, integrity, and rare intellect. I am indeed proud to have my husband one of the "Big Three."

Sincerely,
Conway F. Weary

Mrs. Leslie A. Weary

May 13th 1956

(Editor's Note:—We had heard that some people did not think it right to call the anti-couplet ticket the Dunn-Heath-Weary Ticket. We are grateful to the wife of the anti-couplet manager for backing us up in our calling it the Dunn-Heath-Weary Ticket. That trio seems to be running the show for the anti organization group.)

May 12, 1956
Virginia Beach Sun-News
Virginia Beach
Virginia

Dear Sir,

The rumor that has been circulated that Kenneth Cruser now a candidate for city council of Virginia Beach is not a resident of the city of Virginia Beach has disturbed me. I would like to mention that Mr. Cruser has been my neighbor living at 404 - 26th Street for twelve years, he recently sold his home on 26th Street and has maintained a residence on Holly Road and presently at 400 - 22nd Street while his new home on Baltic Avenue is being built. I have on many occasions visited with the Crusers at the above mentioned address.

The place on Lynnhaven River often referred to was not purchased primarily for a residence. It was bought jointly by Kenneth Cruser, bought jointly by Kenneth Cruser, the late Maurice McKenney and myself as a place to entertain our friends. It has also been used by many civic, church, and school groups for like purposes. Since the death of Mr. McKenney, Mr. Cruser has acquired full ownership and has built a summer home there. Kenneth has often mentioned that the welcome mat will always be out to the guests who are formerly entertained there.

I hope this will clarify to everyone's satisfaction that Kenneth Cruser is and expects to remain a resident of Virginia Beach.

Yours very truly,
Regional W. Whitehurst

(Editor's Note:—We are sorry that Reader Whitehurst is disturbed and we are amazed that men who supposedly reside in one of the Nation's finest summer resorts would have a "summer" home on a river several miles inland.)

"Mr Universe" is Top Attraction

The first Mr. Universe contest to be held in America will be a highlight of Virginia Beach's Golden Jubilee Program. The Mrs. Universe contest is under the auspices of The National AAU and sponsored by The Virginia Beach Jaycees celebratory program June 9th and 10th. This event will be of national interest and a record attendance is anticipated.

According to Willard Washburn, General Chairman of the event, the contestants will include approximately forty who will come directly from the Mr. America contest in Philadelphia June 2nd and 3rd. Among the physique specialists will be ten or more representatives of foreign countries including Joe Arilla, Mr. Puerto Rico of 1955; Leon Annitani, Mr. Syria from Damascus, Syria; an entry from South America; and from the USA Mr. America of 1955; Mr. Central USA of 1954; Mr. America of 1955; Mr. Atlantic City Open, and others of note in the physique ranks.

All entries must be accepted by the entry committee. For a national entrant to qualify he must be a state title holder or better. Official closing for entries is June 7th.

The semi-finals on the evening of June 9th and the finals on June 10th will be judged by AAU rulings from "short man" class under 5 feet 9 inches, "tall man" class over 5 feet 9 inches and an "overall" class. The best five in the finals will be awarded trophies while the winner receives the permanent Bob Hoffman "Mr. Universe Trophy."

The event packed three day program will include a Mr. Universe Ball on June 8th, a Parade on June 9th, and an Air Sea Rescue Demonstration and Air Show on June 9th put on by The Fifth Naval District under the direction of Captain H. H. Hale, Commanding Officer of The Oceana Air Base.

The actual semi-finals and finals of the "Mr. Universe" contest will take place at 8:00 PM June 9th and 10th at The Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium. A Variety Show will precede the contest on the program. The Olympic Weight Lifting Team will put on a demonstration both nights and a feature attraction will be announced at a later date.

In case of inclement weather, the two-night contest will take place at The Princess Anne High School Gym on Virginia Beach Boulevard.

County Wheat Raisers Reminded Of June 30th Deadline On Excess

Princess Anne County wheat raisers are reminded that the date by which excess wheat shall be utilized is June 30, 1956. Mr. W. F. Hunger, county ASC chairman, states that acreage in excess of the larger of the farm allotment or 15 acres which is not utilized for green manure, pasture, hay, or silage will be subject to a penalty. The penalty rate for the 1956 crop is $1.07 per bushel, which is 45 percent of the parity price of wheat as of May 1, 1956.

The ASC chairman cautioned all wheat farmers in the county who have excess wheat, whether intentionally stored or otherwise, to make a memorandum of the June 30 date of utilization. There are no provisions under the 1956 wheat marketing quota program for granting an extension of that date.

Farmers who plant wheat and other grain for mixture are also reminded that such mixtures must be less than 30 percent by weight of wheat when seeded as well as when harvested, to qualify as a wheat mixture under the definition of the marketing quota program. The responsibility of a wheat mixture turning out to be less than 50 percent of wheat by weight when harvested is entirely upon the wheat farmer.

Any acreage which does not qualify under the definition of a wheat mixture and which acreage is in excess of the farm allotment and 15 acres will be subject to marketing quota penalties on the production therefrom.

Scott Memorial Church News

The Finance Commission and Official Board of Scott Memorial Methodist Church are now engaged in leading the congregation in the annual "Every-member Canvass" to secure the pledge for the Christian Stewardship work of the Church for the new conference year, which will begin on June First. Pledges will be solicited for the local budget for Current Expense and Benevolence, as well as for the Building Fund.

"Loyalty Sunday" to be observed this Sunday at the 11 A. M. Worship Service will be the first high point in the present campaign. At that service members of the Church will be invited to make their pledges voluntarily to the two funds of the Church.

On Tuesday at 6:30 P. M., a group of fifty workers, under the direction of Mr. J. E. Winslow, Chairman of the Finance Commission and Captain William B. Elliott and Howard Lee will meet for a dinner to be served by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Following the dinner, the workers will make personal calls in the homes of the members of the Church who do not make their subscriptions on Sunday at the "Loyalty Service."

The Church is endeavoring to secure pledges for the local needs of the congregation, its larger program of activities throughout the District and Conference, and for its participation in the "World Parish" which since its founding by John Wesley.

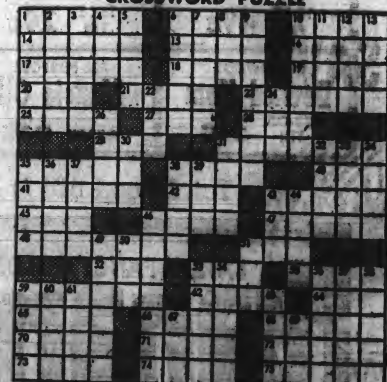

Also prominent in the objectives of the campaign is the securing of a pledge from each member to pay off the indebtedness of the new Church building, which now amounts to $8,500.00 by the fifth anniversary of its completion, on September 16th, 1956.

Over the past five years in Virginia tree planting has averaged $400 a year, 93 per cent on private lands.

Jennifer Jones Wins Honors; Continues Pace In New Role

If Jennifer Jones were asked what was the best year in her life she probably would answer, "1955." During that year she won the nation-wide Audience Poll as the best actress, was selected for such an honor in the National Critics Poll and was given the Photoplay Gold Medal as the most popular actress of 1955.

Such an accumulation of awards in one year would be enough to turn the head of any actress but Miss Jones. She plunged into her role of the wronged wife in "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," the Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope screen version of Sloan Wilson's best-selling novel which will be premiered here on May 23-26 at the Beach Theatre, with the same intensity she displayed in the role of Dr. Han Suyin in "Love Is A Many-Splendored Thing" for which she won her gold medal.

Winning honors is not new to Miss Jones. She won an Academy Oscar for her first picture at Twentieth Century-Fox, "The Song of Bernadette" and was nominated for Academy awards for her second role as the young war widow in "Since You Went Away," again was nominated for her work in "Love Letters," and won her fourth Academy nomination for her role as the tempestuous half-breed in "Duke in the Sun." The latter picture was produced by David O. Selznick in 1946 and in 1949 Miss Jones was married to him.

Miss Jones, who was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma and lived in Dallas and Oklahoma City, where she went through high school, comes by her acting ability through the school of experience. Her father Phil R. Isley, now a motion picture theatre owner, owned the Isley stock company. When Jennifer confided in him that her ambition was to become an actress he put her in the cast. She graduated into leading roles soon and played in such stage successes as "Smilin' Through" and "The Family Up-Stairs." She played in the Ted North stock company in Wichita, Kansas, and then went to New York where she scored a success on the Broadway stage. She was given a screen test in 1941 by Mr. Selznick in New York but it was not until 1943 that she was selected for the role in "The Song of Bernadette" which launched her screen career. In "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," Miss Jones is in distinguished company. Her co-stars are Gregory Peck and Fredric March and the supporting cast is headed by Marisa Pavan, Lee J. Cobb, Ann Harding, Keenan Wynn and Gene Lockhart. Darryl F. Zanuck personally produced the picture and Nunnally Johnson wrote the screen play and directed.

Doc Nurses a Daydream
It's a treat when I get together with Doc Sherman. The Claret keeps me much too busy—and Doc, well, I think he puts in sixteen hours a day at the hospital.
But Tuesday—a beautiful day—he and I slipped away for a drive around Turtle Lake. Doc's driving a 1956 humdinger—it's like riding on a cloud.
Anyway, at one point Doc slowed almost to a halt. "Used to fish there as a boy, Joe," he said. "Used to sit and imagine myself up on the highway driving a high-powered car. Nowadays, I just sit here and wish I were down there again."
From where I sit, few of us are ever content with the way things are at any given moment. It's human nature. On the other hand, I've been reading for years that someday somebody will show enough good American tolerance to respect his neighbor's right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. When that day comes I assure you that I'll never want to change back.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and follies... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

There are as many sauces for spaghetti as there are macaroni products, but invariably the one that's served most often is meat sauce. For a thoroughly satisfying change, try clam sauce, a topping that rates high in popularity in Italian-style restaurants.

Although fresh clams are available mainly in coastal areas, clam sauce can be enjoyed anywhere. Seafood packers ship canned minced clams to all parts of the country and in metropolitan cities and specialty food stores, it's possible to obtain canned whole clams in the shell.

Spaghetti with clam sauce goes well with the usual spaghetti accompaniments: crusty bread, a crisp green salad and freshly grated parmesan cheese. But, when it comes to the beverage, offer beer or a beverage that's more American than Italian, but a wonderful complement to the distinctive clam flavor.

Spaghetti with Clam Sauce
1/2 cup olive or salad oil
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 No. 303 can tomatoes (about 2 cups), drained
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 dozen clams, cooked and chopped; or 2 cans minced clam
1 cup clam broth (about 1/2 cup)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti
Heat oil in large skillet. Add garlic and saute until golden. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, oregano and pepper; mix thoroughly, breaking tomatoes apart with a fork or knife. Cook over low heat

SPAGHETTI TAKES ON A NEW TOPPING

10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Just before serving, add clams and enough clam broth to make sauce right consistency; heat thoroughly. Taste for seasoning and add salt, if necessary.
Meanwhile, add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Serve over spaghetti. If desired, garnish with several opened clams in the shell. Makes 4 servings.
*To use fresh clams: Scrub and rinse 2 dozen clams. Place clams in kettle with 1 medium onion, chopped; 1 stalk celery, chopped; 1 carrot, sliced; 1 clove garlic, crushed; 1 12-ounce can beer. Cover kettle and steam over low heat until clams open wide, about 15 minutes. Remove clams; strain broth. If desired, reserve three or four clams in the shell for garnishing. Remove clam meat from remaining shells. Boil strained broth until reduced to 1 cup.

To use canned clams: Drain 2 cans minced clams (7-1/2 ounces to 10-ounce size), reserving broth. Speaking of clams - reminds me of another recipe using clams. Seafood is always a fine addition to any meal, particularly when teamed up with macaroni products as they are in these two recipes.
For a change of menu pace, may I suggest you try Noodles with Cheddar-Clam Sauce. You can get clams right off your pantry shelf in a can - fresh if you prefer and of course for shrimp - Spaghetti Easy-Do, you can have your choice, fresh shrimp or canned ones.

Noodles with Cheddar-Clam Sauce
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion, finely chopped
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese (about 1/2 pound)
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons sherry
1 10-ounce can minced clams, drained
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.
Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine; add onion and saute until tender. Add cheese, milk, sherry and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until cheese are melted. Add clams, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper and noodles. Heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally.

Shrimp-Spaghetti Easy-Do
(Makes 4-6 servings)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti
1 12-ounce package frozen breaded shrimp
1/2 cup milk
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese (about 1/2 pound)
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, prepare shrimp according to package directions. Combine milk, Cheddar and Parmesan cheese and horseradish. Cook over low heat until cheeses are melted, stirring occasionally. Arrange shrimp over spaghetti. Top with sauce.
Bye - Now! See you Next week.

Fried potatoes will be very flavorful if you parboil peeled potatoes in cream or clear soup. Slice into skillet with bacon drippings and fry as usual, seasoning with salt, pepper and a bit of grated onion.

For a delightful topping on casseroles, dip into the potato chips which are almost all gone but which have left the tastiest crumbs at the bottom of the bag. A simple dessert uses black cherry flavored gelatin to which you've added some light or dark cherries when the gelatin has slightly thickened. Before serving, whip some cream and fold in sliced bananas and slivered almonds to use as a topping for the gelatin.

Good refreshments for a warm afternoon when friends drop in, use equal parts of pineapple and cranberry juice. Float a scoop of pineapple or orange sherbet on top of this as a delightful and festive touch.

A touch of marjoram and a few capers will do wonders for chicken salad that you want to be especially good.

Having a children's party? They will like a spoonful of vanilla ice cream beaten to froth with 1/2 cup of chilled pineapple juice. This makes one serving.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE
Orange-Pineapple Crush
(Serves 6)
2 1/2 cups crushed pineapple
6-ounce can quick-frozen orange juice
1 1/2 cups water
Juice of 1 lemon

Combine all ingredients thoroughly in mixing bowl. Pour into freezer trays. Freeze overnight. To serve, spoon into sherbet dishes and garnish with maraschino cherries, fresh strawberries or raspberries.

Various Weapons To Be On Display On Armed Forces Day

Army Displays Weapons

Two weapons that guard the Tidewater area against enemy attack—the guided missile Nike and a 90-mm anti-aircraft gun—will be among Army displays on Armed Forces Day Saturday, May 19, in Norfolk.

These displays will be open to the general public at the Norfolk Naval Base Open House from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Nike is considered a great defensive as well as offensive weapon. It can travel approximately 1,000 miles an hour in pursuit of an enemy aircraft. The missile will be exhibited and explained by personnel of Battery C, 35th AAA Missile Battalion of Kempsville, Va.

The 90-mm anti-aircraft gun is one of the many in this area which are manned 24 hours a day for defense. It will be provided and manned by the 560th AAA Gun Battalion of Norfolk. The gun is one of many facets of ground to air defense against enemy attack in this area.

Army displays at the Naval Base Open House also will include a field kitchen and other equipment.

In addition to displays at the Naval Base, the Army is opening three other gun batteries to the public that day. These may be visited at Willoughby Spit by the ferry station; at Government Avenue near the Ocean View Elementary School at Cape View avenue, and at Diamond Springs near State Highway 12.

The public may enter the Open House through Gate 2A. Parking facilities for civilian vehicles will be available, and Navy buses will transport visitors to the display areas. Refreshments will be sold.

Army Termed Indispensable

The Army has been termed an indispensable element in this nation's great "Power for Peace" by Wilbur M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army.

Mr. Brucker, in his Armed Forces Day statement, said "With unwavering devotion to the best interest of America, the Army stands ever ready to deter aggression."

Examples of the Army's "Power for Peace" equipment will be displayed at the Armed Forces Open House, Saturday, May 19, at the Norfolk Naval Base.

Visitors will be permitted on the base between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. through Gate 3-A. Buses will be available for tours around the base.

Fleet Ships Opened To Visitors

Seven Atlantic Fleet warships and a Coast Guard cutter will be opened to visitors at the Norfolk Naval Base Armed Forces Day Open House, May 19.

Included in this display of sea power is one of the Navy's battle-ships, 44,000-ton USS Iowa. This ship is over 880 feet long and armed with nine, 16-inch guns and 20, 5-inch dual purpose weapons.

Also open to visitors will be the aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea. Next to the Forrestal class carrier, the Coral Sea is one of the largest carriers afloat. Commissioned in 1947, the 1,000 foot long ship displaced 43,000 tons. The Coral Sea can accommodate more than a hundred planes.

Another of the Navy's fighting ships open for public inspection will be the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines. The cruiser will be joined in the "Power for Peace" display by the submarine, Outback and Pompano, the repair ship USS Yul-can, and the drone launcher YV-2.

"Open House" will be held on the Coast Guard's 311-foot cutter Abscon, that is primarily used for ocean station or "weather patrol" duty far out in the Atlantic, and "open house" will also be held aboard the Coast Guard's 94-foot patrol boat and 40-foot utility boat.

The eight vessels will be tied up at piers five and seven from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the afternoon. Visitors will enter the base through Gate 3-A. Parking space will be available at Old Chambers Field and military buses will carry visitors to the two display areas.

In Spain the bride is always certain of one wedding present, a huge supply of olive oil. By custom the olive oil is donated by the bride's closest aunt to insure good food from the new household's kitchen.

Fire School Plans Demonstration

A dynamic display of fire-fighting techniques used to quell blazes aboard ship and during air-plane crashes will be demonstrated during the Armed Forces Day open house Saturday, May 19, and at the Norfolk Naval Base South Annex.

Visitors may enter the South Annex through the Hampton Boulevard gate across from the Armed Forces Staff College. Fifteen to 20 minutes demonstrations will be held periodically from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Firmen from Engine Co. No. 6 of the Naval Base Fire department will join in the demonstrations. They will show the use of high velocity hoses and other methods of putting out fires.

Approximately 24 Navy inspectors at the fire-fighting school will participate in the demonstrations.

They will put out fires in a simulated ship's engine room. They will also demonstrate methods used to fight tank fires. Diesel oil will be used to start the fires.

Both the Navy and civilian firemen will use foam and dry chemicals along with water in battling the controlled fires.

Lieutenant J. E. Carr, USN, Officer in Charge of the Fire-Fighting School will narrate the demonstrations.

Civil Service Schedules Exams

An examination for Electronics Mechanic for filling this position in Navy establishments and also for filling the position of Guided Missile Control System Installer and Repairer, WB-16, in Army installations, is announced by the Board of U.S. Civil Examiners, U.S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk, Virginia, Merrill C. White, Executive Secretary, reported today.

There is no written test. Competition is based upon specific experience requirements. At present, registers of eligible applicants will be established to fill future vacancies both at the Amphibious Base at Little Creek and for the Guided Missile installations and repair at Fort Story, Virginia. Appointees to the Fort Story positions will be sent to a Guided Missile School with allowances paid toward defraying travel and living expenses.

The salary for the Navy position starts at $2.24 per hour. Entrance salary for the Army position is $2.18 per hour.

Applications will be accepted until further notice. Apply at the Board of Examiners or at any post office for application form, Standard Form 57, or for information as to where such form may be obtained.

WOODY SEAMANS

KENNY CRUSIER

FELLOW CITIZENS OF VIRGINIA BEACH

Those who say that there are no issues in the Councilmanic Election of June 12th could not be more wrong.

There is the great basic issue for which liberty loving men and women have fought and striven since the beginning of history — the freedom and dignity and security of the individual Citizen.

The question is: REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT or continued Machine rule. We pledge ourselves to representative government and all that this term implies in honesty, decency and fairness. It is the direction in which the present and future welfare of our City lies.

Kenneth B. Crusier
Woodbury Seamans.

We earnestly solicit your VOTE and your influence on June 12th. Please listen to our broadcasts each Thursday at 5:05 P.M. over W.B.O.F. We will have interesting information for Virginia Beach Voters.

Thinking, Willing, Acting.
"As man thinketh in his heart, so is he," says the Bible. Much of the world's problem can be traced to wrong thinking. Ideas, lodged in the mind, given thought, do produce in unusual ways. The knowledge one receives can be fundamental in producing bad living or lead to the highest demonstration of the good life. Parents and teachers are in an important character building process with their children. Teaching that has perspective is of the highest order. "If a man willeth," was the criterion set before mankind by Jesus. We know he was right. That is the secret of religion. It is not forced but left to the individual. The will of mankind is affected. This motive force of personality is stronger than we think. Multitudes say what they are going to do, but performance comes by the use of the will. We will do the right things when we have an unconquering conscience. The way is open to do wrong but if a man's will is strong enough then his conscience will not permit him to go into the act of wrong doing.

The fruit of the christian faith is in the performance of the christian. We can never hope to become any better than the deeds we do. Jesus said, "By their fruits you will know them." The world is waiting for the deeds of the people, who process to believe, to match their words.

Research psychologists say their ideal type of Air Force or Navy pilot is a youngster from a large family who enjoys bodily contact sports, builds and drives "hot rods," likes all kind of people, believes in some religion, and is daring but not foolhardy.
North Dakota's deposits of lignite—brown coal—are the largest in the world and in 1954 lignite was used as the fuel to produce 99 per cent of the State's electric power. North Dakota lignite reserves are around 350,000,000,000 tons.

Air travel has shown its greatest increase in most countries since World War II. About one third of all passengers between Paris and London and seven out of ten between the United States (and Canada) and South America travel by air.

I LEARN FROM WATCHING MAMA
The school of experience has a wide reputation, and many are those who are proud to be its alumni.
But there is another school, an elementary school. And though it's less heralded, it turns out eager scholars year after year.
It hasn't really any name, and certainly no ivy-covered halls. Classes are held in the students' own homes. And the tuition is a wealth of love contributed by pupil and teacher alike.
But this is the best preparatory school in the world. For whatever it teaches has a place in the life of its graduates forever.
And the most encouraging sign on the spiritual horizons of America is the greater emphasis now being placed on the Bible, prayer, and religious education in the school of "watching mama!"

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

AGRICULTURAL SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS DUE JUNE 1

Deadline is approaching for students to apply for one of the agricultural scholarships available at VPI for next year.

Dean of Agriculture, L. B. Dietrich, says applications for agricultural scholarships are due in his office June 1. The applicant must have his regular application form for admission to college, together with his high school record, on file in the Admissions Office at VPI, before any action can be taken on scholarships.

Almost all the scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis, taking into consideration scholastic ability as shown by high school record and test scores, and the need for help. A student may apply for more than one scholarship, but only one controlled by the college will be awarded to any one applicant.

Agricultural scholarships available are:

John Hopkins Baker of Tuckahoe Plantation Memorial Scholarship. To be awarded to an entering freshman from Gloucester county who is interested in studying agriculture. Interested applicants should confer with the Gloucester County High School principal.

Esso 4-H Scholarship. Two grants are open to 4-H club boys who have completed three years of outstanding club work, and who are in the upper half of their graduating class at high school and plan to take agriculture at VPI. Value is $100 a year for four years, if a satisfactory college record is maintained.

Kroger Scholarships. Four grants are open to freshmen in agriculture or home economics. Applicants must be recommended by county agents or vocational agricultural teachers. Value - $250 each.

Rockingham Poultry Marketing Cooperative Scholarship. Open to freshmen entering VPI to take the course in poultry husbandry. Recipients must be from Augusta, Frederick, King, Rockingham, or Shenandoah county in Virginia, or from Grant, Hardy, or Pendleton county, West Virginia, or be a member of a family that holds membership in the Cooperative. Value - $1,000.

Bears - Roebuck Scholarship. Thirteen scholarships of $150 each are available to entering freshmen in need of financial help. Interest in agriculture as a career and high school scholarship are also considered.

Smith-Douglas 4-H Club and FFA Scholarship. Four scholarships, two for 4H and two for FFA, worth $1,000 each, are available. Recipients will get for each of their four college years in order as follows: $400, $300, $200, and $100. A satisfactory college average is necessary to keep the scholarship.

Virginia Guernsey Breeders Scholarship. Valued at $150, this freshman scholarship is awarded to a Guernsey 4H club member who wants to take a course in dairy science at VPI.

Virginia Holstein-Friesian Breeders Scholarship. This freshman scholarship, valued at $150, will be awarded to a Holstein-Friesian 4-H club member who wants to take a course in dairy science at VPI.

Virginia Jersey Breeders Scholarship. A freshman scholarship, valued at $150, to be awarded to a Jersey 4-H member who wants to take a course in dairy science at VPI.

SPRAYING SERVICE SHORTAGE HAMPSERS CONTROL OF WEEVIL

The unavailability of custom spraying service and of suitable sprayers on the farm is hampering the control of the alfalfa weevil in some areas in Virginia, reports Dr. J. O. Rowell, entomologist at VPI.

Growers whose alfalfa shows heavy weevil damage and who cannot find the facilities to spray the first cutting are asking "What do I do now?"

Dr. Rowell says to let the alfalfa weevil larvae continue to feed to full growth on the first cutting and cut this crop at the normal time or a little later than usual. If you can't spray. This will permit the larvae to complete their development on the first crop. Since there is only one larval generation of the alfalfa weevil, the second and succeeding cuttings of the crop will not be affected.

If there are heavy infestations of the weevil and spraying is impossible, growers will lose virtually all the first cutting of alfalfa. If infestations are light to moderate, the first cutting will be of poor quality, but still useable.

POULTRY MANAGEMENT

It's not too soon for poultrymen to begin planning to "beat the heat" during the coming summer. Poultry specialists suggest that you:

Get plenty of waterers. Birds need twice as much watering space in summer as in winter.

Allow plenty of floor space. Open up the house from sill to plate. Big double doors at the ends help too. However, don't open up houses too soon.

Use fans installed in windows, sprinklers or roofs, shade trees near houses as aids against too much heat.

SEASONAL TIPS LISTED FOR MILK PRODUCTION

Producing quality milk is one sure way for dairy farmers to keep milk sales up to par this summer.

G. J. Nagelotte, associate dairy husbandman at VPI, says production of quality milk during warm weather requires strict attention to the control of off-flavors and bacterial contamination.

Off-flavors possibly do more to cut milk sales than any other single thing. To most effective control off-flavors coming from pasture is taking the milking herd off pasture at least four or five hours before milking. To guard against silage flavors in milk, feed silage after milking.

Low-quality milk due to high bacteria counts is a serious threat to any dairy farmer. This is especially true during spring and summer when conditions are most favorable for bacterial growth.

Dirty utensils and milking equipment are the greatest single cause of bacterial contamination in milk. Danger points to watch are open seams, cracks, dents, and scratches in utensils and milking equipment, in worn and cracked rubber parts of milking machines, and in suction hoses or pipelines where dirt may collect. When such defects are found, replace the faulty equipment with new equipment.

Clean milk utensils and milking equipment properly. First, rinse all equipment in warm or cold water immediately after use to remove the film of milk. Rinsing in hot water will cause the milk solids to stick to the surfaces of the equipment, making the

Scott Memorial WSES News

The W.S.C.S. met at the church on Tuesday May 9 at 8:00 p.m. Reed Godfrey, a member of our church who has been stationed in the Pacific, showed slides taken on several of the islands and Tokyo, Japan.

Mrs. Catherine Smith led the Pledge Service.

Plans are well under way for washing harder. Next, scrub all equipment with a good stiff brush, using hot water and a soapless cleanser. Third, rinse all equipment in scalding water, at a temperature of at least 180°. Open the equipment on racks to drain and dry. Just before the next milking, rinse the equipment with a fresh sanitizing solution. Be sure all surfaces are sanitized.

Careless washing of equipment permits the build-up of milk-stone and other deposits which usually harbor great numbers of bacteria.

The production of milk entirely free of bacteria is next to impossible. Their growth must be controlled. This is best done by rapid cooling of the milk to temperatures of 50° or lower.

The meaningful emblem of Body by Fisher

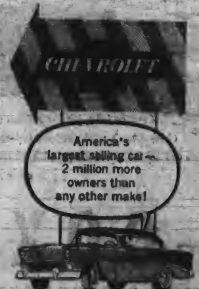

When you see "sterling" on silver you know what it means—solid silver, all the way through.

And when you see the medallion "Body by Fisher" on an automobile it means much the same thing—quality all the way through, in things unseen as well as on the visible, gleaming surface.

The significance of this emblem cannot be tested on the showroom floor. Its meaning was not built up in a day but only after long years in which owners learned that "Body by Fisher" was a veritable symbol of solid, enduring satisfaction.

Only one who has owned a Chevrolet for several years can fully know the deep sense of satisfaction this emblem pledges. It is the warranty of an inner soundness that your eye or your touch cannot test. And only Chevrolet in the low-price field is entitled to wear the small, proud plaque that proclaims "Body by Fisher."

National Little League News

The EMERAC Motors Thunderbirds which was the cellar team of last year's season will be a team to watch this year. These boys have been working out nightly under the close supervision of Manager Bill Tudor and coach Curt Weber. The boys who returned to the team this year are determined to make a better showing this season. They were strengthened considerably by the new players picked up at the player auction. Mike Thomas the big 12 year old with the smoking fast ball will undoubtedly be the hub of the pitching staff. This boy is a great prospect. Of course a team is made up of nine players and the Thunderbirds will have to improve in all departments. The way the manager and coach have been going about it the Thunderbirds will be climbing out of the cellar this year. How high they can climb will depend more on their hitting than pitching.

Last week the Little Giants played a practice game with a Princess Anne Little League team and won by a score of 4 to 1. These Giants are going to be hard to beat out of the pennant. Managers Lanky and Russell are not having too much trouble convincing their boys that they will have to work hard to remain champs of the league. The J. C. Hawks are experimenting with a batting tee this week to see if a few of the batting difficulties they had last year can be ironed out. The tee permits plenty of practice in swinging the bat without the pressure of facing a pitcher.

Little League Personalities

Jimmy Jones is one of the returning Thunderbirds. He is 12 years old so this will be his last year as a Little Leaguer. Jim isn't a particularly big boy but he makes up in heart what he lacks in size.

As a pitcher last year he showed good control and a pretty fair fast ball. He is a good outfielder. Although Jim learned the game while in Japan where he played with Little League boys, upon returning to the States he found the bases are run the same way that they are in Japan. He has his long range sights set on becoming a Navy pilot and with his determination he is bound to make a good one. He is the son of Major and Mrs. Cochran who resides at 318-84th St.

Red Cross Chapter Will Elect Directors

The annual meeting of the American Red Cross, Princess Anne County Chapter, will be held at the Normandie Restaurant, 2112 Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach, Va., beginning promptly at 7:00 p.m. o'clock, Monday, May 28, 1956.

Reports of the officers will be made and the election of the Board of Directors will be held at this meeting.

N & W Offering 4 Year Scholarship

The four-year Norfolk and Western scholarship to Purdue University is open next fall to any N. & W. employee or member of his immediate family.

The Scholarship is worth $500 a year for four seasons toward defraying the expenses of the successful applicant in any course of his choosing. Railway officials pointed out that it also may be used in the institution's graduate school.

Cavalier Society Of CAR Joins Pilgrimage

The Cavalier Society of the Children of the American Revolution joined with Old Cannonball Society of Norfolk in an historical pilgrimage on Sunday, May 13th. They were the guests of Miss Elizabeth Jordan and her sister of Port Boykin at Smithfield, Va., for a picnic lunch and tour of the old fort.

This plantation was granted by charter to Edward Bennett, wealthy London merchant in 1612. The fort shaped as a seven point star was begun soon after the Indian Massacre at Lewins Creek in 1622, in which one fourth of the Virginia colonists were slain. It afforded protection against Indians and marauding Spaniards on the James River. It served during the Revolutionary War, and in the War of 1812 its guns sank two English Men-O-War. It also served during the Civil War. The pilgrimage included a visit to Historic St. Luke's Church in Smithfield, the oldest standing Protestant Church in the United States.

Affectionately known as Old Brick Church, it was begun by Joseph Bridger in 1632. It is now in the process of being restored. The Cavalier members on the pilgrimage were: Bobby Bennett, Anne Simpson, Judy Hoft, Anne Randolph Bennett, Tommy Rose, accompanied by Mrs. John Hoft and Mrs. James L. Bennett.

Vets Agent Here On May 24th

The Norfolk Area representative of the Virginia State Division of War Veterans Claims, Thomas A. Moore, announces his regularly scheduled trip to this section on Thursday of next week.

Moore assists veterans and their survivors, and other clients with applications forms, Government papers, and in the preparation of evidence, toward obtaining their legal benefits, based on service in one of the Armed Forces.

Moore will interview clients, or their counsel at The Community House, corner of 18th street and Arctic Avenue from 11:00 A.M. until 3:00 P.M. on Thursday, May 24th. He visits this location on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

The Veterans' Service Office is located permanently at 308-6 Madison Building, 203 East City Hall Avenue in Norfolk. Dial Moore there at Madison 2-9871.

Moore adds that this service is operated in 18 area offices throughout Virginia by the Division, which is a part of the Virginia Department of Law, under the Honorable J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., The Attorney General. Claims and evidence are prepared in the field and submitted for presentation to the Government by Mr. Harry P. Carper, Jr., the Director in Roanoke.

Keep Cotton Clothing Fresh

That's the good grooming tip from Miss Iva Byrd Johnson, clothing specialist at VPL. She says in general cotton washes easily. Wash as soon as possible after soiling, as soil, taint and perspiration can be removed more easily when washed promptly.

Use milk soaps or detergents on light, delicate cottons. Heavy duty laundry soaps and detergents are for the rugged cottons. Wash dark and bright colors separately - at least the first time - using warm soapuds. Flush away any excess dye with several suds and rinses.

Dark and bright colors are clean when washed alone. Last from articles clings and shows on dark colors.

Use bleach with care and only when needed. Chlorine bleaches form strong acids and should always be well rinsed from the fabric. Dilute bleaches according to instructions on the package. Store cottons fully dry in a dry place, or you may have trouble with mildew.

Special cottons
For special cottons, follow the directions on the tag. If there is no tag, Miss Johnson says:
Do not soak permanent finish cottons. It isn't necessary and may soften the finish.

Use a shorter washing cycle - about five minutes in mild suds and warm water.

Never use chlorine-type bleaches on new resin-treated cottons. Peroxide-type bleaches may be safely used.
Do not twist or wring permanent pleats and wash-and-wear cottons. Hang wet, or after a spin dry, on a clothes hanger. Smooth any creases. Shape on hanger to dry.
Most permanent-finish cottons need little, if any, pressing. Touch-ups are a simple job. The delicate patterns of some textured cottons may be destroyed by ironing. Avoid pressing them. Hang and smooth to dry in shape.

How much is it worth to you (by the foot?)

The real worth of railroads to the people probably will never be known, because within them there are too many values that can't be measured in terms of dollars and cents. There have been times when the fate of this nation depended largely on the railroads.

But there's one kind of railroad value that can be measured . . . to the penny . . . and by the foot! That's the railroad's worth as a taxpayer.

Last year the N&W operated 2,128 miles of road (11,235,840 feet). For the same year, it paid $44,330,000 in federal, state, county, local and miscellaneous taxes. So in this sense, in just one year the 12-inch section of N&W roadway you see above earned $3.94 for the people, paid in the form of taxes which lighten the individual tax load and are used for public betterments of many kinds.

Take schools, for example. Last year the N&W paid $8,880,000 in state, county and local taxes, a substantial part of which is used for schools. In just two counties served by the railroad more than $662,000 in N&W taxes was used to run public schools, paying the year's school bill for approximately 3,552 children in those counties! And schools aren't all — N&W's tax payments (which exceeded its net income by $5,699,000) also help pay for better streets and highways, parks, libraries, police and fire protection, and many other public needs.

Next time you drive on a highway along Norfolk and Western tracks, just remember — every foot you pass earned $3.94 for the people last year . . . and will continue to earn for them for untold years to come.

With these facts in mind, don't you agree that the Railroad industry should be given the right to compete on an equal basis like other business? The President's Advisory Committee on Transport Policy recommends immediate revision of existing antiquated regulations in order that the Railroads may provide the best and most economical transportation service for the benefit of industry, taxpayers and the consuming public. If you agree, we urge you to support this legislation.

Students Participate in Road-Bo

All you students who fancy yourselves good drivers have an excellent opportunity to prove it by participating in the annual Tennessee Road-Bo to be held soon. Your efforts will not go unrewarded since the winner will receive an expense paid trip to Charleston and an engraved plaque. The winner of the state finals is the recipient of a $500 scholarship and a trip to Washington (August 5-10) to compete for a $1,500 scholarship (ac-plice) $1,000 (2nd place) and $500 (3rd place).

Winners will be chosen as a result of the best score on a written quiz and four driving exercises: (1) straight line, (2) serpentine, (3) curve, and (4) parallel parking. Entry blanks may be obtained from Mr. Charles Modlin, driver education teacher here at V.B.H.S.

The road-Bo is a national project of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is sponsored by the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, the American Trucking Association, Inc. and the Chrysler Corporation.

Reveals Talented Artists

For several weeks the members of Miss Alexander's art classes worked diligently on their posters to raise money for the American Cancer Society. Everyone was going around trying to find out what the other was doing, and many students came up with some very good ideas. Finally, the posters were finished, and taken in for judging. Joyce Roberts, a second year art student won first place with her effective poster urging everyone to get out and fight cancer with a checkup and a check. Meredith Jones, a second year student won second place, and Nancy McClellan, a first year student won the third prize. Much to the surprise of everyone, theater posters were given to all who participated in the contest, so that really, there were no losers in this contest.

Miss Alexander now has her classes working on posters for the Lotus Festival which will be held in July. Good luck to all you talented artists.

Richmond Rendezvous for Students

Ashley Huxcox played a prominent part in the ninth annual Model General Assembly held in Richmond recently. He was president pro tempore of the Senate, presiding over that body when President Eva Rose, of Fairfax, Va., was absent. Other V.B.H.S. students who attended the convention were Senator Durham, Delegate Diane McComb, Audrey Southard, Bill Costenader, Billy Everett, and Repetitors Anne Price and Mahone Tarrall. In addition to students from Virginia, there was a delegation of H.Y. members from Chesapeake. They very intelligently followed the procedures as the earnest group asked on bills, and cordially invited Virginia delegates to attend the Chesapeake H.Y. convention. The two and half day assembly ended early, as the 400 students returned home, hoping to go again the following year.

Seniors of V.B.H.S.

So this is your last year of high school. Yes, you have worked twelve long years to graduate, or even maybe longer. But you had spunk enough to stick it out. Maybe you have heard people say how lonesome and blue you would be if you were a junior. Just to say to yourself "Next year we will all be separated, some will go to college, one or two will be married, and the others will be out seeking their fortunes in the business world. But in spite of all, I will keep in contact my schoolmates and make new friends wherever I go."

So cheer up, you seniors. We will all meet again someday, then we can talk and laugh about the good times we had our last year of high school.

Don't forget your teachers and principal, because we have caused them to have heartaches and although they thought us pains at times, they still love us just the same.

V.B.H.S. Boys

This article has been written especially for the boys of the school. Every boy in V.B.H.S. and everywhere for that matter, faces the eventual call of Uncle Sam, unless of course he is physically handicapped. You Juniors and Seniors especially should think seriously of your service duty. When you become nineteen years of age, you must register for the draft and face the possibility of being drafted. No matter how hard you look, you won't find a way out. If you don't enlist in one of the many branches of the service you will be drafted and you have no choice of the different branches. The following information concerns one of those branches, the Naval Reserve.

Any boy who is seventeen years of age (or older) is eligible to join the Naval Reserve. Many of you would like to get your military stint behind you in a hurry, you can find the solution in the reserve. If you do join, you may possibly decide to stay. Advancement comes quickly providing you "keep in line" and show good work. You receive a full day's pay for the few hours you put in each week (weekly meetings). In the summer you take your basic training, a two week stay at such camps as Bainbridge, Maryland and you take a two week cruise. Here's your chance to see some more of the world and with pay.

It's not all pleasure, of course, there's plenty of work but it's a good way to develop those muscles. Think this over for awhile and look in on our next issue for more important information about the Naval Reserve.

COLONY RESTAURANT "BEST AT BEACH"

"The person who told us your food was the best on the Beach knew exactly what they were talking about," so said Esther Joffe, of Salem, Virginia, after a recent meal at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Ave. in the Jefferson Hotel building.

This patron's remark is typical of many who have discovered the enjoyment and fine food to be had at the Colony. (ADV.)

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Veterans Administration announced it is requiring all fee appraisers and compliance inspectors participating in the GI loan program to subscribe to a VA code of standards.

Appraising and compliance inspection work in the GI loan program is done by private appraisers and inspectors for a fee. They are not Government employees.

VA emphasized it does not intend to interfere with the private lives of its appraisers and inspectors.

However, the agency said, it is appropriate to require those who are not to engage in private pursuits that conflict with their VA appraising and inspection duties.

VA said it is requiring fee appraisers and inspectors to adhere to the VA code of standards because the activities of a small minority of the 4,300 appraisers and 3,100 inspectors on VA's approved rosters have been found to vary from the standards deemed to be achieved by the code.

VA is requiring, as a condition for appointment and retention on its rosters, fee appraisers and inspectors not to engage in any private pursuits where there may be:

1. Any connection that may result in a conflict between the private interest of the VA fee appraisers or compliance inspectors and his duties and responsibilities to VA and veterans.
2. Any connection that may tend to bias his judgement as a VA fee appraiser or inspector.
3. Any circumstance wherein information obtained from or through a VA assignment to appraise or to make compliance inspections will be used to the detriment of the Government or veterans. Present fee appraisers and inspectors are being asked to sign a statement that they have read VA's policy and standards with the knowledge that any violation may be the basis for their removal from VA's rosters.

THE HOUSTON STORYFORT STORY TELLINGS

New assistant adjutant at Fort Story is Capt. Robert E. Whitehead, Jr., who arrived from Fort Eustis May 8.

The captain, a World War II veteran, recently returned from Greenland where he was assigned to the 9251st Transportation Arctic Group. He was there 12 months.

A Virginian, Captain Whitehead is a 1937 graduate of William and Mary College. He lives with his wife, Barbara, at Kempville, Va.

Another new arrival at the Cape Henry post is Chaplain (1st Lt.) William W. Owen who will replace Post, Protestant Chaplain (1st Lt.) Rudolph Gruenke in June. Chaplain Gruenke will accompany troops of the Transportation Training Command to the Far North this summer on Operation SUNEC (Supply Unit North East Command).

Chaplain Owen comes to Story from Fort Eustis. Joining him soon will be his wife, Martha, and their two children, Carol, eight and Paul, 20 months old.

The Fort Eustis Pistol Team, which included two Fort Story marksmen, took first place in one event, second in another and won 63 individual awards in the annual Spring Pistol Tournament at Quantico Marine Base May 5, 6 and 7.

Leading the way was Story's 1st Lt. Whitman Cross who was high man in the tournament and winner of the Grand Aggregate with a score of 2,598 out of 2,700. The team, made up of three men from Fort Eustis, plus the two from Story, placed first in the 45 caliber class and second in the 38 class.

Sgt. T. M. Weaver of Fort Eustis took second place in the Expert

Class. Specialist Third Class B. U. Dean of Fort Eustis was first in the marksmen class, and PFC J. O. Brundell of Fort Eustis placed second in the same class. Dean fired as an independent and Brundell was team alternate.

The team includes men from Fort Story because the Cape Henry post is a major command of Fort Eustis.

Team and scores:

Cross, P. S. 2,598; Weaver, P. E. 2,436; Carpenter, P. E. 2,436; Cannon, P. E. 2,419; Brundell, P. E. 2,333. Total score of points was 12,313.

The team was to fire next in the 2nd Army Tournament at Fort Eustis May 12 and 13.

Men and equipment from Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion supported the Virginia National Guard in a parade dedicating the 615th Anti-Aircraft Battalion's new armory in South Norfolk, Va., May 12.

Twenty-three men and 10 amphibious trucks from the 344th and 458th DUKW companies took part in the parade. 1st Lt. David L. Thomas, a platoon leader in the 344th, was in charge of the group.

Fort Eustis units have been undergoing field training at Story in preparation for summer operations in the Arctic on Project 572.

Terminal service companies from Fort Eustis' 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C" completing Army Training Tests at Story last week were the 124th, 264th and 417th Terminal Service companies, units of the 397th Transportation Battalion.

In addition, Company D of the 15th Transportation Battalion (Hqs) assisted the terminal service companies in beach operations.

Best Mess award for the month of April has been awarded to the 34th DUKW Company, a unit of the 10th Transportation Battalion. The winning trophy was presented to SFC Michael Yerusavage, company mess sergeant, by Col. George E. Wood, Jr., Fort Story's commanding officer.

Yerusavage won the monthly award once before in his eight months as company mess sergeant.

A unit of the 1st Transportation Battalion — the 558th Heavy Boat Company — won the Best Supply award for the first time in the April competition. Supply Sergeant for the BARC company is Sgt. Charles O. Becker who has held his post since the company was activated on January 16.

carving, leatherwork or any creative work is welcome.

The Virginia Beach Art Association is planning to create a National Art Mart where artists from all over the country may come to paint and sell their work. Collectors as well as dealers are being sent invitations to attend.

Each exhibitor (or his chosen representative) will be required to deliver, register and accompany his own work or supply his own attendant at his individual exhibit. Overnight storage space will be provided where the artist may register his work which will be released to him each morning.

McCombs Outlines Record In Office; Attacks Anti Platform

The following talk was recently given by City Councilman John W. McCombs over radio station WBOF in the present political campaign in which he and Mayor Frank A. Dusch seek reelection to the city council on the Organization ticket.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, my name is John W. McCombs. Four years ago the citizens of Virginia Beach honored me by electing me as a member of your City Council. For the past two years I have had the honor of serving as your Vice Mayor.

On June 12th, next month, your City will hold an election, at which time you will elect two members of the Council. Your present Mayor, Frank A. Dusch, and I are candidates for re-election to the office of City Councilman.

We have said from the very beginning of this campaign that we invite the closest examination of our records, and if we have discharged our duties in accordance with your requirements, we most respectfully solicit your support for re-election. Our opponents in this election have picked their campaign on a program of abuse of our City and pretty much everyone connected with it, and I wish to point out several examples of the abuse which they have attempted to infer.

In their printed platform they inferred that the City, in their purchases, favored certain interests or special groups. I want to call your attention to the record of true facts. Since 1952 the City has purchased 17 automobiles and trucks for its various departments. Of this number, ten were purchased from Mr. Kenneth E. Criss, one of the candidates on the Dunn-Heathley ticket, and I call upon him to state publicly whether or not he received any favoritism when he sold these cars to the City.

One of the most active supporters of the Dunn-Heathley ticket is a man who has never lived in the City and never voted here, and whom the voters of this City overwhelmingly rejected last summer. I refer, of course, to C. Roger Malbon, defeated candidate for Sheriff on the Dunn-Heathley ticket. Yet when he submitted a favorable bid for gas, his bid was accepted, and I call upon him to state publicly whether or not he received any special favors when this contract was awarded to him. I might add that although he neither lives nor votes here, and has been rejected by the voters of Virginia Beach, he is now attempting to dictate to the people whom they should elect on June 12th.

In one of his first speeches, Mr. Dusch continues his attack on the City by trying to compare us with the city of Buena Vista, a community consisting of three hundred families from here with no problems.

14 Entrants In Beauty Contest

The Miss Virginia Beach Pageant for the Miss Universe Contest will be held in the Beach Theatre, Saturday morning, June 2nd, at 11:00 A. M. Fourteen of Virginia Beach's most beautiful girls will be competing for the Miss Virginia Beach title.

The winner of this local title will then compete for the State Pageant which is to be held at The Cavalier Beach Club on June 15th, 16th, and 17th. The State Pageant winner, Miss Virginia, will then travel to Long Beach, California to vie for the Miss USA title July 12-22nd.

Miss USA will then compete with contestants from 49 other countries for the Miss Universe title.

To be selected as a Beauty Delegate to represent her state or nation a girl must possess more than sheer beauty of face and classic proportions of form. She must also have the qualities of charm, poise, and personality. For, in addition to typifying the beauty of her land she must also serve as a gracious ambassador of international good will.

Tickets for the Miss Virginia Beach pageant are 50c per person and may be purchased at The Paramount Restaurant or from any Virginia Beach Jaycee. Get your tickets early as a large crowd is anticipated.

Bill McCoy is chairman of the local contest and Wade Williams state chairman for the Miss Virginia Pageant. Anyone wishing to enter the contest may contact Bill McCoy at Va. Beach 64 or call Radio Station WBOF.

Beach Police "Break" School Vandal Case

The work of the Virginia Beach Police Department this week resulted in the charging of two Berkeley juveniles with vandalizing three schools and a recreation center. The youths are presently being held in custody in the Norfolk Juvenile Detention Center.

Virginia Beach police got on the case after a break-in at the Willoughby T. Cooke over the past weekend. Final disposition of the case was postponed until June 12, pending an investigation.

The Robert Gatewood School pupils, 13 and 14 years old, apparently rode their bicycles to Virginia Beach Saturday in order to wreak damage on the Willoughby T. Cooke School where one of the boys previously had attended.

Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson said the boys were identified through footprints found in the school and by children in the neighborhood who saw them leaving the school Saturday.

On Tuesday, May 15, the youths ransacked the Robert E. Lee School, which one had previously attended. They attacked the Gatewood School Friday, Cooke on Saturday and the Southside Community Center on Sunday. Both boys had attended events at Southside.

Neither boy was able to give any reason for their actions, which caused thousands of dollars worth of damage to paintings, food, flower boxes, public address systems, vending machines, movie projectors and other equipment.

Palomino Horses To Be Shown In Rosemont Show On Saturday

By Kay Doughtie Sewell

Though there has been a color registry for Palomino horses since 1934, not until 1953 was there a purebred registry for Palominos established. Out of the 14,000 color-registered Palominos, only 100 stallions and 300 mares were picked, for bloodlines and progeny.

Thus, for the first time, since—who knows when?—a new breed of horse really started. And these 400 purebred Palominos that were chosen will be, for all human time, the dams and sires of the new breed.

One of these first 100 stallions was a young colt, Playboy Dandy, one of the first 300 mares, a filly named Dawn's Golden Flirt. Both Dandy and Flirt belong to Capt. and Mrs. William A. Dean, Jr., now of Lighthouse Park. Both will be shown by the Captain and his 18-year-old daughter, Doris, at Rosemont off Virginia Beach Boulevard this coming Saturday.

Though the event, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Junior Garden Club, is called a Children's Horse Show and County Fair, with the horse show scheduled for 1 p.m., the introduction of these two Palominos adds a note of interest which lifts the program way out of the "For Children" Only category.

Both Flirt and Dandy are double-registered—not only as purebred Palominos, but also as Quarter Horses. The Deans brought them with them, over 3,000 miles by two-horse trailer, when they moved from Phoenix, Arizona last July. "But before that, we'd sometimes hauled them as much as 1,100 miles to shows off and on," said Mrs. Dean.

These young horses, now only a little over three years old, have phenomenal show records behind them already. But the Deans have even more phenomenal plans, and more than reasonable expectations, for their future.

Mrs. Dean, a suntanned blonde with a Palomino-like flaxen mane, grew up riding Thoroughbreds and polo ponies. Then I met Bill, from Texas. He could see nothing but the Quarter Horse. We went round and round as to which was the best breed.

"The minute that I came in contact with the Quarter Horse, I respected his intelligence and disposition. Gradually we began to think of Palominos, and to go seriously into the idea of breeding them."

What really got them going? "I think," she said, "it was the fascination of a new breed, and trying to capture the elusive color. All the other breeds have been completely developed, and you can only keep on developing. With Palominos, there's the work and actually the fun of watching something really new develop."

The Deans started by hunting for blood lines. "Our little stallion was only six months old when we bought him. The breed hadn't been established yet, but we knew the bloods the Palomino Horse Breeders Association would pick."

The PHBA picked Quarter Horse, Thoroughbred, and Arabian blood lines. Since the Quarter Horse was found to be the greatest consistent producer of Palominos, Quarter Horse blood lines are predominant. "There are not only rigid colorists, but conformation tests."

Dandy's own sire is Out Play's Playboy, a Palomino stallion who has been a consistent show winner for 16 years. According to the PHBA magazine, he has been featured in more "Get of Sire Clauses" than any other Palomino, and never been decried. (Continued on Page Seven)

Safety Plan Program Here This Summer

A highway safety campaign will be conducted here this summer by the Fraternal Order of Police, Sgt. C. R. Bailey, President of the local FOP lodge announced today. It will be aimed at reducing the number of needless accidents by making motorists aware of good driving practices.

Carrying the slogan "For Safety's Sake, stop for a coffee-break," the drive begins Memorial Day and will be supported by posters and other display material, plus a concerted effort by the police officers to remind drivers of common sense rules of good driving.

"While new highways and new cars are both being made safer, they are also creating new hazards," Sgt. Bailey said. He noted that according to National Safety Council figures, the greatest single cause of highway deaths is non-collision accidents, such as running off the road.

"Monotony and fatigue are important causes," he said. "Today people can drive for hours without stopping. This often results in avoidable accidents because long periods of driving without a break reduce driver efficiency," he continued.

Sgt. Bailey listed several points for motorists to observe Memorial Day and throughout the summer:

1. Keep plenty of fresh air in the car.
2. Engage in conversation, or, if alone, listen to the radio.
3. Stop every two hours or 100 miles, get out of the car, have a snack and a cup of coffee, walk around.
4. Don't try to drive longer than your normal endurance will permit; rest is the only antidote at this point.
5. Let traffic and weather conditions determine speed and manner of driving and obey all traffic signs.

Council Approves Budget For New Year; Tax Rate Unchanged

A budget of $1,489,000 for the next fiscal year beginning July 1 was approved by the Virginia Beach City Council at its meeting Monday afternoon. The new budget was approved without changing the present tax rate of $2.38 per $100 assessed valuation.

The new budget calls for a total of $877,000 for the general fund, $70,000 for the erosion program, $41,000 for the city's advertising fund, and $256,000 for the debt fund. The budget is an increase of $133,000 over last year's budget.

The budget estimates that its special luxury tax will produce $178,000 in the next fiscal year. The tax is on cigarettes, hotel accommodations and restaurant meals, and has been earmarked for erosion control, refuse collection and advertising.

The approved budget includes a surplus from the present fiscal year's operation of $62,000, and anticipates additional revenue of about $71,000. This will make up the increase without necessitating raising the tax rate, according to City Manager W. Russell Hatchett.

Hatchett told the Council that it is his intention to prepare a tentative capital outlay budget for the coming fiscal year, which begins July 1, with tentative sources of revenue.

In other action, the Council delayed the paving of Pacific Avenue to make it a second main thoroughfare.

The city manager was authorized to proceed with "all hands" to investigate federal and state assistance on the Pacific Avenue highway. Councilmen said that if it is made a primary road it is possible that federal assistance on the nearly $1,000,000 contract was awarded to the Asphalt Roads and Materials Corp. for resurfacing portions of primary roads, maintenance of which the city has taken over from the State.

These are Atlantic Avenue from Sixth to 17th Streets, 40th to 49th Streets, 31st Street to the city limits and 17th Street to the city limits. The contract award was for $43,411.

Spot work on this main thoroughfare will be in addition to the contract price, as well as $35 a day in special services, which will check on the resurfacing.

Councilmen agreed to the standardization of house numbers from Cavalier drive north to the city limits.

In final action, they discussed the possibility of having a police inspection patrol for the sand beach in front of the boardwalk. No action was taken, although councilmen were unanimous in saying that "something must be done."

Little Theatre 2-Night Run

So hilarious and entertaining is the forthcoming farce comedy "SEE MY LAWYER," the fourth and final production of the season of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre that members of the cast during rehearsals, while waiting for their cue, are in tears from the laugh lines and are enjoying the rehearsals as much as if they had paid for admission. An observer at the rehearsal is quoted as saying that it is such a fast moving, rip snoring comedy that it draws a parallel to many New York productions. It played to capacity audiences starring Milton Berle when it originally opened on Broadway.

There is a very large cast, sixteen in all, major roles being played by well experienced and seasoned veterans in the Little Theatre circle.

Those most prominently known from past performances are: George Parker who came through with an unusual interpretation of the part he played in the local Little Theatre's last play, "The Winslow Boy" and also in "Father of the Bride."

Anne McLean, well known to Little Theatre patrons, turned in outstanding performances in some of the best productions by the local group, such as "Craig's Wife," "Out of the Frying Pan" and "Father of the Bride."

George T. Mullen, appeared in the first production of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre "My Sister Eileen" and has since played roles in "Ten Little Indians," "Dough Girls" and "The Girl." Prior to coming to Virginia Beach, he filled many roles with both the Norfolk Little Theatre and the Old Dominion Guild Players.

Allen Tyler, long connected with the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, having starred in so many local performances, it is difficult to single out any one in particular, but will certainly be remembered for his portrayal in "Night Must Fall," "Here Today," "The Gorilla," and "Ten Little Indians."

Lewis Rainey returns to the beach and Little Theatre after a short absence, having played outstanding parts in "Ten Little Indians," "See How They Run" and "The Girl."

Joseph Lowenthal, Jr., a newcomer to the beach Little Theatre, but by no means unknown in Little Theatre groups, is a graduate of R. P. I., majoring in dramatics and presently instructor of dramatics at the Princess Anne High School. His past experience has been with the Children's Theatre of Norfolk and the Norfolk Little Theatre.

Gloria Johnson, a newcomer to the Little Theatre, but by no means new to the community, she has appeared in many Junior Women's Club shows and judging from her rehearsal, is perfectly cast in her part. (Continued on Page Six)

Local Jaycees Get Awards

Howard Nations, president of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the local Jaycee chapter received thirteen separate awards at the state convention in Norfolk last weekend. The 77 Jaycee chapters in the state compete in three population groups for honors in specified fields of jaycee endeavor, and awards for outstanding achievement in these fields are presented at the state convention.

The local club, competing in the middle population group won seven first place awards, four second place awards and two third place awards. It also received the LACY McLELLAND MEMORIAL TROPHY for its work in heading up the Virginia Beach - Princess Anne County Jay Fund. This trophy is awarded for the best Christmas project in the state each year. The Jay Fund this year was championed by Mr. Ted Kenulies. Howard Nations stated that "the Jaycees are extremely proud of this trophy, and we wish to share this pride with the Virginia Beach Fire Department, the County Welfare Agency and all the people who put forth the time and energy that was necessary to make the Jay Fund the big success that it was."

The hard working local club also placed second for the Glassmiller Memorial Award, which is presented to the outstanding Jaycee chapter in the state, in what was publicly described by the state awards chairman as presenting the award as "a very, very, very close race."

Nation's Best Coming Here For Golf Meet

Louise Suggs, the defending champion, will lead the Nation's leading women golfers in the fourth annual Triangle Round Robin golf tournament over the picturesque Cavalier Country Club course June 6-10.

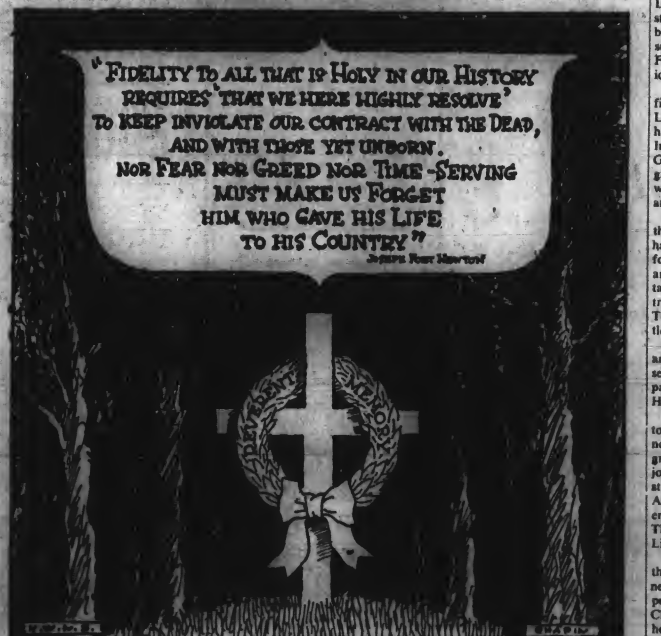

Miss Suggs will have formidable competition in defense of her crown with Miss Patty Berg and Miss Beverly Hanson rated as definite threats to the smooth swing Georgian's crown.

The Round Robin tournament offers $12,000 in prize money, the greatest in its history. The tourney is sponsored by the Triangle Conduit and Cable Company.

The winner of the Triangle tournament will receive the John E. McAuliffe 16" sterling silver bowl donated by Triangle president John E. McAuliffe, president and founder of the company. The bowl is a perpetual trophy to be held by the winner for one year for display purposes and the usual smaller replica of the perpetual trophy will be awarded to the winner for her personal collection.

In as much as this event brings a top women's professional tournament to this area for the first time, the Tournament Committee of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club has invited the Women's Tidewater group to act in the capacity of local sponsors and hostesses to the tournament.

MEMORIAL DAY

Street Program In City Begins

The resurfacing of portions of streets in Virginia Beach got underway Wednesday after City Council awarded a contract for the program at its Monday meeting.

The contract was awarded to the Asphalt Roads and Materials Corporation on a low bid of $43,411. The streets are those that have been taken over by the city from the State.

Resurfacing equipment was moved on the job Tuesday and work commenced Wednesday morning on 17th Street at the city limits. Resurfacing 17th Street is the first phase of the program.

The program includes resurfacing on Atlantic Avenue from Sixth Street to 17th Street, 40th to 49th Streets, and 31st Street to the city limits.

In addition to the streets included in the program the contractor will also do spot resurfacing on Atlantic Avenue.

FT. STORY SPORTS

Fort Story's Ducks dropped decision in both of their contests last week and now sport a 9-5 record in season play. Coming up next is a two-game set with the powerful Fort Lee Travelers on the Story diamond over the weekend.

In a game at Fort Eustis, the Story-men lost to the Wheelers, 5-4 after holding a 4-3 lead going into the last half of the ninth inning. In that frame, starter Chuck News, who had held Eustis to five hits, faltered and was relieved by Carl Buniva. First baseman Moore of the Wheelers drove in the winning run in the ninth, his fourth RBI of the game. The first three came on a home run with two on in the fourth.

In losing their fourth game, the Ducks outfit Eustis, seven to five.

The Quantic Marines visited the Cape Henry post over the weekend for what was scheduled to be a two-game series. Sunday's contest, however, was rained out.

The Saturday affair turned into a rout, the Marines chasing 22 runs across the plate to smother the Ducks, 22-3. Starter Carl Buniva, Milan Cop and Chuck News were hit hard as the visitors scored at will.

It was Quantic's second win in three games with little Ducks. They previously split a twin bill with the soldiers on the Quantic diamond.

Tail lights or reflective material on the rear of farm machinery on highways after dark will help prevent many serious and sometimes fatal accidents.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

JOB SAFETY WEEK

Fort Story observed a successful "Job Safety Week" May 13-19. Lt. Robert H. Clifford, post safety officer, reported that no accidents occurred during duty hours in the week set aside by President Eisenhower for emphasizing safety on the job.

The program was stressed here by an intensive publicity campaign which included announcements in the post daily bulletin and distribution of more than 340 circulars reminding soldiers and civilian workers of the importance of safety on the job.

Two enlisted men were recognized May 14 as the 10th Transportation Battalion's "Soldiers of the Year." Sergeant First Class Lewis T. Nelson, 458th Amphibious Truck Company, was picked as the top man in the first three enlisted grades. Specialist Third Class Johnnie D. Nichols, 344th Amphibious Truck Company, won the award for men with rank less than sergeant.

Lt. Col. Frederick G. Ward, acting post commander, presented the winners with $25 savings bonds donated by the officers of the 10th Battalion.

Nelson and Nichols won a year-long contest with 50 other entries. All but 10 candidates were eliminated after taking oral and written examinations during the year. The finalists appeared before a board composed of officers who were not in the 10th Battalion. Knowledge of general military subjects, current events, the soldiers' appearance and leadership ability determined the winners.

Seven of 15 officers assigned to Ft.

Story from Ft. Eustis for training as company officers have arrived at this Cape Henry post. The remaining eight will report here within the next two weeks.

All the officers are in the Army for six months under the Reserve Forces Act program.

The Fort Story Officers' Club is preparing to celebrate the opening of its beach and patio May 30. A picnic on the patio and beach will begin at 11:30 a.m. and last until 3 p.m.

Following the picnic, games such as a tug-of-war and volleyball are scheduled to get the officers in shape for summer activity. A number of games also have been planned for children.

2nd Lt. William Craig, assistant club officer, has announced that the Memorial Day festivities will be open to officers from other posts and reserve and retired officers.

Another of the post's three beaches, one for visitors, opened May 12. The beach for noncommissioned officers and enlisted men is scheduled to open May 29.

Capt. Charles F. Meyer, commanding officer of the 605th Amphibious Truck Company since October, 1955, departed May 19 for six months of temporary duty in the Northeast Command at Sondrestrom, Greenland. 1st Lt. Donald C. Bruch replaced Capt. Meyer. Bruch served in the Northeast Command last summer at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island, Canada.

Ministers from nearby Princess Anne County visited Ft. Story May 16. Thirteen clergymen of the Princess Anne County Ministerial Association called on Lt. Col. Frederick G. Ward, acting post commander, and then held a business meeting in the post chapel. After luncheon at the Fort Story Officers' Club, the ministers boarded an amphibious DUKW for a tour of the post.

Fort Story and Fort Eustis units continued to train here for summer operations in the Arctic by conducting an over-the-shore ship landing exercise May 21 through 24.

The 605th and 612th Amphibious Truck Companies and the 565th Terminal Service Company from Story coordinated with a squad of five trucks from Eustis' 48th Transportation Truck Group to move 600

Ruritan Clubs Have Varied Memberships

Some are farmers, some are school teachers, some contractors, some government employees, some doctors and some are merchants.

The business interest of these many men may vary widely, but they have one interest in common, rural living and community service.

They are the many members of the Ruritan Clubs in America. The clubs are relatively young, the first having been organized in 1928 in Holland, Virginia, and since that time, have spread to sixteen states as far north as Ohio and Pennsylvania, south to Florida, and as far west as Texas, with approximately 22,000 or more members. Ruritan is America's leading and fastest growing Rural Civic Service Organization and is ranked the sixth largest civic organization in the country. Many new clubs this year have been formed. Not just in Virginia, the Mother State of Ruritan, but also in Arkansas, Ohio, Texas, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, W. Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland, and South Carolina. The chief aim of Ruritan, in general, is to create better understanding between people, communities and business; to aid in charitable work, promote industrial and agricultural growth, and to encourage the right type of education. It is the Ruritan ideal to cooperate harmoniously with organizations and institutions which help to improve the social and economic conditions in all walks of life and in all sections of the nation in which it is organized.

The object of Ruritan is to make the rural community a better place in which to live. In order to carry out this objective, it endeavors to bring together farmers, business and professional men in one body for the purpose of organizing public spirit and progressive leadership from tons of practice cargo across the beach to the Motor Vessel Hickory Knoll.

"The 605th is training amphibious truck crews for Operation SUNEK" (Support Units Northeast Command) in the Northeast Air Command and "Project 572," which has the objective of supplying Arctic radar sites along the DEW (Distant Early Warning) Line. The 612th is training LVT (Landing Vehicle Tracked) crews for Project 572, and the 565th is training sled-dogs for SUNEK. The 48th Group is also training personnel for SUNEK.

The 60th class in operation and maintenance of the amphibious truck graduated May 18. Pvt. Thomas A. Wolf, with an average of 96, was top man of 89 completing the course.

The class is conducted by the 4th Training Company, which is attached to the 461st Amphibious Truck Company.

Pvt. James T. Morris, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welton L. Morris, Back Bay, Va., is a member of the 4th Infantry Division in Germany.

Training received by the "IVT" division, part of the U. S. Seventh Army, includes intensive maneuvers and realistic field problems.

Morris, who was graduated from Creeds High School in 1952, is a squad leader in Company H of the division's 22nd Regiment.

He entered the Army in January 1955, completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and arrived overseas the following June.

various occupations represented in the community, and towns that their combined influence may be systematized and utilized for the welfare and up-building of the community.

The value of the ideals and methods of Ruritan is not in their newness and expansion, but in an expression, an emphasis, and arrangement of an organization that makes old, well-known, generally accepted ideals and methods "click" in a rural setting. Ruritan is a divinely inspired program, more effective and more vital than its founders realized, or the mortal efforts of its members, alone, could produce.

The name Ruritan was coined to represent the union of country and town in Fellowship and Goodwill. It was adopted by the first Ruritan club, and the emblem worn by members carries the Latin words, "rur" for "country" and "urbis" for "town."

Ruritan knows that better churches, better schools and better homes mean better communities. Better youth, better agriculture, better industry, better highways, better utilities, all make the community a better place in which to live. Through its regularly constituted committees, local clubs have striven for improvements in these and other aspects of community life. Tangible results are in evidence: here is an active, prosperous young man whose crooked feet were straightened when he was a poor boy, there is an able Negro teacher whose eyesight was saved when she was an eight year old girl, a worthy young man is permanently injured in an act of heroism and incapacitated for his current vocation and is helped through college to prepare for other work, a doctor is brought into this community, a dentist into that, an experienced mechanic is helped to get a start in his own repair shop, a multi-million dollar industry develops here and a small plant to treat fence posts serves its local area there. And so page after page of such objective achievements of Ruritan repeated dozens and hundreds of times could be listed.

Local Women Attend State Club Meeting

Attending the 36th Annual Meeting of The Garden Club of Virginia in Charlottesville last week were Mrs. Charles Frank Greene and Mrs. Maclin Simmons for the Princess Anne Garden Club and Mrs. James H. Watters and Mrs. Preston Hix for the Virginia Beach Garden Club, which, for the third consecutive year, had the honor of being the hostess for the Garden Week, despite steady rain. Princess Anne Garden Club was awarded one of the three conservation prizes given annually for outstanding achievement in that field and heard one of their pet projects, the saving of the Seashore State Park, endorsed by the Board of Directors and presented to the meeting.

Highlight of this meeting, over which the President, Mrs. Thomas E. Thorne of Williamsburg presided, was the report on the results of Historic Garden Week, given by Mrs. Thomas W. Murrell, Jr., Richmond, chairman. She reported all other years since the event began in 1929, gross receipts of $43,683.94, with a net profit of $35,999.97 were announced. By this means, the GCV finances its historic restorations in Virginia.

Mrs. Warner Snider, Leesburg, president of Associated Clubs for Highway Development, of which the GCV is founder and one of the four member groups, reported on that organization's achievements in the legislative field this year but said "Highway litter is still our biggest problem. No landscaping, however ambitious, can be successful if covered with unsightly trash."

Endorsed by the Board of Directors and presented by Mrs. W. W. Burt, III, Lexington, Conservation Chairman, was a resolution, sponsored by the Princess Anne Garden Club that the Seashore State Park, in its entirety, be retained and administered as a Wilderness Area by the State Division of Parks under the Conservation and Development Committee of Virginia.

In reviewing an individual building permit application, the Health Department takes a number of factors into consideration. Most important is the nature of the soil - sand being most favorable, and tight, impervious clay the most likely to cause trouble. Other factors are equally important: the size of the proposed house in relationship to the size of the lot; the average depth of the sub-surface water table in the area; whether the water supply will come

Ruth Ford, Mrs. Russell Hatchett, program chairman, presented Mrs. Benjamin A. Doget of Norfolk. DAR State Registrar, who spoke briefly on her work as Registrar and then installed the new officers.

Health Unit Urges Careful Sewer Plans

A spokesman for the Princess Anne County Health Department urged prospective home builders in the county to give more careful consideration to sewage disposal in selecting a site and planning a home. It occasionally happens, the Health Department said, that a builder will discover that his site is not suitable for a septic tank system only after he has already invested considerable money in the land and even in building materials. Problems most frequently arise among individuals who have always lived in cities, where public sewers are usually available, and who are not familiar with suburban and rural conditions.

Building permits are subject to review by the Health Department, it was pointed out, and may have to be revoked if the proposed construction cannot be served by an individual septic tank sewage disposal system. The basic problem is in proper, sanitary disposal of the large volumes of water that carry away household wastes. The average home discharges about 50 gallons of water a day per occupant, and that amount is markedly increased by the use of automatic washing machines and sewage disposal devices. For a septic tank system to function properly, all of the water must be absorbed into the soil, and soil conditions in certain areas of the county will large amounts of water.

Dusty light bulbs and lamp shades can cause a loss of about 30 percent of the light value of electricity.

Prospective buyers of existing homes should also investigate sewage problems before making any definite decisions. Persons living near the house can usually give an impartial appraisal of septic tank function in the area, and the Health Department can also supply in formation. The buyer can also examine any ditches adjacent to the property for evidence of illegal outfall lines.

Septic tank system, if properly used and maintained, in suitable soil, can give many years of satisfactory service; but a home owner can protect himself against loss of time and money if he makes adequate plans and chooses his site with care.

from city water main or an individual well (well must be located a minimum of 10 ft. from any part of the septic tank system), and the suitability of the individual lot for adequate grading and drainage to remove surface water.

The Princess Anne County Health Department will gladly discuss septic tank problems with any prospective buyer or builder. If an individual proposes to build in a questionable area, he can plan to have tests made on the proposed property in determine whether or not it will be acceptable.

Seaside Park To Open Tuesday

Seaside Park, popular Virginia Beach amusement center, will officially open its 50th season of operation Tuesday, May 29, and will commemorate the event with a spectacular fireworks display.

Travel Alone... And Like It

Back in Grandma's day a woman taking a trip alone was considered brave. Today women go everywhere, including long auto trips by themselves, without worry. A few simple steps will assure a safe journey—without anxiety.

Never wear furs or jewelry on the road. Stop only at well-lighted, attractive places, whether for gas, meals or any other purpose. At a hotel it is best to take a side table and avoid unnecessary display of any kind. Some women advise wearing a wedding ring, even if not married, while on trips alone.

Never flash large sums of money. Carry a small amount of cash, and the rest of your funds in American Express Travelers Cheques. Travelers Cheques can be spent like money at restaurants, gasoline stations, motels and stores, wherever you go. If you lose them, you will receive a prompt refund. You can buy them at your local bank.

Plan to do your traveling by day as far as possible. Don't pick up hitch-hikers and stay on well-traveled highways.

When You Travel Tips on Tipping

Tipping the right people the right amount is the hallmark of the experienced traveler. Knowing when to tip—and how much—will make your trip smoother and more enjoyable.

Going by plane your tipping problems are nil, and by train they are few. By ship, a figure on a base of 10% of the passage price to be distributed among cabin, deck, dining room and bath stewards—with extra amount if you obtain extra service.

When you arrive, you'll have to find out who gets tipped. For example, in France and other countries, you are expected to tip theatre ushers and museum guides. Main rule is: Do all your tipping in the currency of the country. Carry only small sums of cash, the rest of your funds in American Express Travelers Cheques—they can be spent or changed into local currency anywhere.

Returning to Seaside Park for the seventh consecutive season will be Al DeHannis and his orchestra, who will perform nightly for free dancing in the park ballroom. The popular orchestra leader will come to the park direct from Myrtle Beach, S. C., where he provided the music for the Sun Fun Festival which featured Miss America of 1956, Sharon Kay Ritchie. He has also performed at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, where he accompanied Danny Thomas, Martha Raye, Mickey Rooney, Sammy Davis, Jr., Kay Starr, Rosemary Clooney, Rudy Vallee and the Mills Brothers. Flirt has also won many championships, the most important perhaps being when she was judged champion mare at the Eaton, Ohio, show, "the biggest Palomino in the country."

"We are just beginning to show the two of them under saddle," said Mrs. Dean. "We intend to try and breed purebred Palominos. That's why we've gone into this deeply. In these two horses, we have the speediest blood lines in the world. Mating our two horses, we should be able to produce colts that will be able to run; they have the speed."

But they don't intend to use these two on the track. "They're too valuable animals. It would be very hard to duplicate the blood lines. It took us years of study and years of hunting to get what we wanted."

After talking with Mrs. Dean, it's easy to believe they put in "years of study." Not only will she trace back at least six generations in the family trees of Flirt and Dandy, with a detailed accuracy which would make any F. F. V. scian blush; she'll take you at a dizzy clip through the history of Palominos through the centuries.

It's interesting to learn that the golden horses' color was held in disfavor by the Arabs, though one early Arabian horse, El Dinari ("Gold Coin") is mentioned with praise in El Kelbi, the Arabian stud book written in 786 A. D. The Arabs believed that he who rode a golden horse to battle would never return, and tried, unsuccessfully, to breed such horses out of existence.

While Palomino horses in America are associated primarily with the West, they were nevertheless originally of fine-bred Arabian stock who were brought to Florida, long before 1607, by the Spaniards from the royal ranches of Spain.

"A lot of them got loose," said Mrs. Dean. "The Chickasaw Indians got hold of them, and brought them up to Virginia; matched racing began. A good Quarter Horse can run the quarter mile in 20 seconds."

Can your farm equipment be seen? If it is on the highway after dark, can a fast-moving automobile see it in time to avoid hitting it?

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS!

Ford has the lowest-priced truck line. A comparison of factory-suggested list prices shows that Ford has more models priced under competition than any other line. But low initial cost is only one of the reasons why Ford's cost less. Take resale value. Any used-truck dealer will tell you there's always a good market for a Ford. That means a higher trade-in allowance.

Operating costs? Only Ford gives you the oil and gas economy of a modern Short Stroke engine in every truck, V-8 or Six. And Ford Trucks cost less to maintain because they're built stronger to last longer. Using latest data, life insurance experts prove Ford Trucks last longer! Campbell's Camera Center, National Brand Name Winner, Opening Outlet Here

Campbell's Has Short, Bright Background

Campbell's Camera Center is a business firm with a relatively short, but highly successful history.

Only six years old, Campbell's is already one of the largest photographic operations in the state, has won the top retailing award in the country, and is beginning a major expansion program.

For the film, this year will probably go down in the books as one of major outstanding events.

It is marked first by Campbell's being named Brand Name Retailer of the Year in the photographic dealer category by the Brand Names Foundation. The award was presented on April 18.

The second big event is the expansion of the operation to include the store at Virginia Beach.

Campbell's Camera Center was founded by J. Owen Campbell, Sr., in the Spring of 1950 when he bought out the photographic department of G. L. Hall & Co., a Norfolk optical firm. He opened the first Campbell's Camera Center at 117 College Place in Norfolk, where it has since been located.

Simultaneously, Mr. Campbell also established Campbell's Photo Service and Supply Corporation, a wholesale photographic and photo-finishing firm and built a large plant and warehouse on Killiam Ave. in Norfolk. Since then the operation has grown steadily.

Prior to entering the photographic business, Mr. Campbell was associated for 18 years with the shipping industry in Norfolk and Baltimore as a stevedoring firm, terminal operator, and steamship agent. Later he raised purebred Hertford cattle on a farm in the Valley of Virginia.

He became interested in photography as a hobby in 1933, and enjoyed a successful reputation both as a amateur and professional. He has won numerous awards in salon exhibitions, including the Oscar Barnack Award in 1937. For many years, he was listed in "Who's Who in International Pictorial Photography."

Mr. Campbell said that in beginning his business, he operated on the basis of treating amateurs and professionals the way he would like to have been treated when he was in their field. That policy has been continued in all of his operations.

"We like to help anyone interested in photography in any way we can, no matter how little or how much they know about it. As well as being our business, photography is fun for all of us and we like to share that enjoyment with others," Mr. Campbell said.

All of Campbell's associates are experienced and highly qualified photographers with specialized skills, capable of advising and assisting anyone from the beginner to the professional.

For example, R. H. Patterson, manager of retail sales, accompanied Bryd on one of his expeditions to the South Pole as chief photographer. Another member of the staff, S. H. Ringo, recently retired from the Navy where he was photographer at Sacant headquarters for a number of years.

In addition to these, the executives of the firm include M. G. Jones, executive vice president; C. L. Upshur, vice-president in

Campbell Congratulated

J. Owen Campbell, left, president of Campbell's Camera Center, is shown being congratulated by James E. McGhee, Jr., vice-president of Eastman Kodak, on the opening of the new Campbell Camera Center in Virginia Beach. The new outlet is located at the corner of 25th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

Music Club Meets With Mrs. Finley

The Virginia Beach Music Club held its last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Lowry Finley Friday, May 18th, with Mrs. Richard C. Everett as co-hostess.

Business for the year was completed after which the new officers for the the ensuing year presided:

Mrs. Ernest Harden, President; Mrs. Russell Gilmert, Vice-President; Mrs. W. C. Crockett, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Lowry Finley, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Maclin Simmons, Treasurer.

The musical program was presented by Mrs. H. D. Reed, pianist, playing the Beethoven Sonata 13, "Pathétique."

Poppy Sale Here Saturday, May 26th

The Virginia Beach Post 7166, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary will sell Buddy Poppies Saturday May 26, 1956 on the streets of Virginia Beach and surrounding community in commemoration of Memorial Day - May 30.

These Buddy Poppies are made by Disabled Veterans at the Veterans Hospital throughout the country and the proceeds of the sale are solely used in supporting the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids, Michigan and in welfare work for needy veterans, their widows and orphans.

Charge of professional and industrial sales representative; J. Owen Campbell, Jr., who will manage the new Virginia Beach store, and Mrs. Gladys Routten, treasurer of the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Sr. and their youngest son, Charles live at their home at Linlier in Virginia Beach. Mr. Campbell's family were all natives of Prince Anne County for many generations and much of his childhood was spent visiting relatives at Princess Anne Courthouse, Croeds, and Pungo.

Monaco; Famous Casino, Miss Kelly

Monaco, the tiny principality on the Mediterranean, is noted for its gambling, its beauty, its Prince and now its Princess, but mostly for its size — or lack of size. Its 368 acres, bounded on the north, east and west by France, would fit neatly into New York City's Central Park.

Writing of this diminutive country in the May Reader's Digest, George Kent says it boasts many of the trappings of big nations. It has a flag (red and white), a language, an army (69 strong), a parliament, museums, a railroad and bus line. It has, also, some things larger nations would like to have: a balanced budget, an absence of taxes, and now Grace Kelly.

Monaco's ruler, Prince Rainier III, can trace his lineage back in a straight line to the earliest days of monarchy in Europe. Among today's monarchs, he is the only one who still retains absolute power.

While Monaco's history goes back more than 2000 years, the present ruling family stems from a Genoese named Francois Grimaldi who took over the country in the 12th century. The Grimaldi family has been in charge, with few interruptions, ever since.

Monaco has 20,000 residents, representing 52 nationalities. Most are French and Italian. Britishers number 400, Americans 40. Only 3000 are true Monegasques — citizens with the right to vote.

A shrewd French businessman named Francois Blanc brought Monaco romance and unprecedented prosperity. In 1836 Prince Charles III permitted Blanc to operate a gambling casino. It was called Monte Carlo, for the prince, later changed to Monte Carlo. M. Blanc got rich, earning up to $25 million a year. Out of his take he shouldered the entire budget of Monaco.

The hero of the song, "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," was an Englishman, Charles Wells, who won $200,000 in three days. Actually, he didn't break the bank. As the Casino keeps on hand a million dollars in cash and can get more at short notice, "breaking the bank" is impossible.

That this capital of the gambling world has almost no serious crime is a tribute to the excellence largest in the world for the size of the 160-man police force — the of the country.

National Little League News

With a Thanks for the use of the Park the National Little League has moved out of the Camp Pendleton Fields. These diamonds were of great assistance in the try-outs portion of the season and President Tom Dalley and all the other members of the National Little League are very appreciative to Major Nail, the Commanding Officer for having made them available.

The Farm system will operate on the diamonds at Cook field. Over sixty boys are involved in the farm system under the supervision of Cap'n Jim Gregory and his able assistants. It is not too late for any youngster who is 8 to 12 years of age and who lives south of 25½ St. to participate in this program. Each Saturday at 1:00 P. M. the farm team boys used to gather at the High School and be transported to the Camp Pendleton diamonds, however now that each farm team has managers (12 year old Little Leaguers) the farm team practice when ever their managers desire.

As mentioned last week the Thunderbirds are a greatly improved team this year. Recently they have turned in impressive practice games against the J. C. Hawks and the Little Giants.

They showed good pitching and excellent batting.

The J. C. Hawk's will have to improve their hitting in order to stay in the pennant race this year. In the practice games they have sorely missed the bats of Leon Hubiak, Jerry (fat boy) Walsh and Big John Kull who this year are trying out for the Babe Ruth League. The pitching of Ray Whitehurst and Terry Dalley both experienced Hawks should make the Hawks an interesting team to watch however.

Don't forget that Little League parade on Friday 1 June 6:00 P.M. starting on 16th St., and the two innings of exhibition baseball by each team on the Little League diamond at the High School.

LITTLE LEAGUE PERSONALITIES
Garry Williamson is a 12 year old member of the Little Giants. He doubles as a pitcher and infielder for the Giants and is one of the mainstays of the team. Garry is a control pitcher with a better than average fast ball. This youngster has remarkable form on the mound and no matter how tough the going may get he remains calm, this has a settling effect on the team. Garry is

ATLANTIC & 25TH
Photography's Leading Brand Name Retailer

Brand Name Winner Joins Beach Firms

Campbell's Camera Center, with their new store at Atlantic and 25th Streets, will hold the distinction of being the only nationally-recognized Brand Name Retailer Award winner in business at Virginia Beach.

The firm won the Brand Name Retailer of the Year award, this year for their outstanding promotional and merchandising efforts in 1955. It was presented April 18 to J. Owen Campbell, Sr., president, at a huge dinner staged by the Brand Names Foundation in New York City's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

This is the first time in the history of the Brand Names Foundation that any firm with less than 25 years business experience has won such an honor. It was only the second time that Campbell's had entered the Brand Name Competition.

The award was based on Campbell's overall merchandising efforts, including newspaper, radio and television advertising, training of sales personnel, outdoor and direct mail advertising, and the personal service and instructions given by personnel to customers.

A pictorial description of these efforts was set forth in a presentation book which was judged by last year's Brand Name winners. When asked about his future plans as far as Brand Names is concerned, Mr. Campbell said he will continue to promote Brand Name merchandise as thoroughly as he did previously.

"We've never sold anything but quality Brand Name merchandise proven and backed by the manufacturer which gives our customers real value for their money. Since being named a Brand Name Retailer of the Year, I feel an even greater responsibility, both to Brand Name and to our customers," he said.

He added that he would not be going after another Brand Name Retailer title for at least five years. Winners are prohibited from re-entering the competition for five years by rules established by the Brand Names Foundation.

Mr. Campbell has been made a permanent member of the executive committee of the Brand Names Foundation and will serve as a judge for next year's competition.

Award Winner

The Oscar Barnack award is being displayed by J. Owen Campbell. Campbell won the award with a Leica camera, one of the better brand name cameras stocked by Campbell's Camera Center which opens this week at 25th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

"Meet Me In Las Vegas" Coming To Beach Theatre On May 30th

One of the year's biggest musicals comes to the Beach Theatre with the showing of "Meet Me In Las Vegas," star-studded M-G-M production in CinemaScope and color, with Dan Dailey and Cyd Charisse heading a parade of top show business names.

Laid against backgrounds of America's favorite playground, with much of the footage actually shot in the famed desert resort, the picture unfolds the romance of a carefree Nevada rancher and a glamorous dancer, who find that love and luck go hand-in-hand when they hold hands.

Angie Moorehead heads the supporting cast in the role of Dan

Dailey's youthful mother, with other important parts played by Lili Darvas and the late Oscar Karawels, Jim Backus, dancing Lilane Montevecchi, remembered for "The Glass Slipper," and Cara Williams, appearing in her first singing role.

Adding to the wealth of talent are such guests stars as comedian Jerry Colonna, dramatic star Paul Henreid, Lena Horne, Frankie Lane and the sensational new Japanese singing discovery, Mitsuho Sawamura.

The picture's songs, written by Nicholas Brodsky and Sammy Cahn, include "The Gal With the Yaller Shoes," sung and danced

Insurance Co. Releases Data

Again in 1955 State Farm Mutual was the nation's number one insurer of automobiles, Adlai H. Rust, president, announced from the Bloomington, Illinois, home office.

John Taliaferro, local agent for the firm, said that State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, according to official figures, led all competitors for the fourteenth straight year in both earned premiums and number of cars insured. Mr. Taliaferro pointed out that today State Farm protects over 4,000,000 cars, half a million more than any other company.

On the dollar side, the company's earned premiums were $231,375,000, up 12% over 1954. This included $225,755,000 of auto premiums. Direct premiums written stood at $235,880,000, up almost 14%.

In 1955 several millions in additional savings were returned to the Company's policyholders through rate reduction programs. State Farm Mutual, an "independent" company, figures its own rates, according to the accident records of its own policy holders. Generally, Mr. Taliaferro said, State Farm rates run from 10% to 40% or more below those of most other companies, depending on the area and type of coverage.

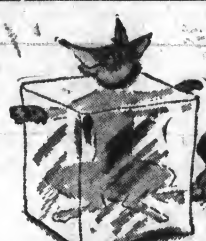

The company's year-end balance sheet showed assets of over $331 millions and surplus of over $118 millions.

Good 1955 gains were also reported by State Farm Mutual's life and fire insurance affiliates. Mr. Taliaferro said, State Farm Life Insurance Company now has $930,500,000 of ordinary insurance on its books and assets of over $106 millions.

State Farm Fire and Casualty Company upped its premium volume by 36%, to reach over $16,400,000. Its assets now exceed $20,700,000. The life and fire companies are both wholly owned by State Farm Mutual.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Paul Dolgins, neighborhood chairman for the Virginia Beach Brownie, Intermediate, and Senior Girl Scouts reports at this time on the past year in Girl Scouting at Virginia Beach. This has been truly a wonderful and successful year for all the troops both Brownie and Girl Scout. We feel that all the girls benefited greatly from the well rounded program which has been carried on throughout all the troops. The girls have worked very hard and have a great many new skills to show what they have done over the year. Girl Scouting in Virginia Beach has grown and we hope will continue to grow each year. We have thirty-one girls who received their Five Year Pins. This means these girls have been in the scouting program for that period of time. We have twenty-six girls who have received First Class and thirteen girls who received Curved Bar. The Curved Bar is the highest award we have in Girl Scouting. We have thirty-five Brownies who have just had their "Fly-Up" and will become Girl Scouts now. This is a record we can all be very proud of.

Without the wonderful work being done by the troop leaders all this could not have been accomplished. As neighborhood Chairman I would like to publicly thank each leader for making it possible for Virginia Beach to have such a successful year.

It has been a pleasure working with all these leaders; Troop 213, Mrs. S. M. Farley and Mrs. Rydell; Troop 232, Mrs. R. R. Crutchfield, Mrs. R. Heitrich and Mrs. R. Rydell; Troop 223, Mrs. E. Buchanan, Jr. and Mrs. J. Hoff; Troop 227, Mrs. D. W. Dean, Mrs. Jane Small, Mrs. Mary Howard, Mrs. Jane Brush, Mrs. H. Knutson, Mrs. M. Woods, and Mrs. J. Potter; Troop 243, Mrs. J. Malzerich, Mrs. E. D. Johnson and Mrs. G. Board.

Mrs. E. Espino; Troop 290, Mrs. S. Krantz and Mrs. A. Laderberg. All these above mentioned troops are Brownies and the following are Intermediate and one Senior Troop. Troop 209, Mrs. G. W. Bush and Mrs. Beull; Troop 211, Mrs. L. E. Smith and Mrs. B. Ray; Troop 214, Mrs. J. F. Killen and Mrs. Jane Meredith; Troop 226, Mrs. W. W. FIRST FULL-SIZE 4-DOOR HARDTOP!

MORE HEAD ROOM, HIP ROOM, LEG ROOM THAN ANY OTHER 4-DOOR HARDTOP

Dashed line shows the short roof typical of other 4-door hardtops. This means cramped head and leg room.

Other 4-door hardtops have short rear windows indicated by broken line above. Chrysler's windows extend all the way to the back of the rear seat.

Chrysler's longer roof, greater room, and better visibility are the result of two-part roll-away windows. Rear segment rolls forward. Forward segment down.

All the airy openness of a racy convertible... and the full size and comfort of a big sedan. That's the Chrysler 4-door hardtop.

You can get in and out as easily as in a sedan because the entrance area is full width. And you get full vision because the rear window comes all the way to the back of the rear seat.

Chrysler's ingenious new roll-away action rear window is the secret. It permits a full-size roof, and the rear seat is back where it belongs. Best of all, this 4-door hardtop has all the YEAR-AHEAD features that make the "PowerStyle" Chrysler the success car of 1956! See it now!

Ideas for the Modern Homemaker

By Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal
County Home Agent

JUNE PLENTIFUL:

Milk and dairy products headline the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for June. Milk production is on the way to a new record in 1956 with production per cow well above previous records.

That excellent team—beef and onions—also is due to be plentiful in June. That means that there'll be steaks for outdoor cooking because the higher grades of beef will be in good supply. Or, for variety, try beef kabobs. For these little skewers, marinate on metal skewers 2-inch cubes of beef and 1-inch pieces of onion. Brush with cooking oil and broil over hot coals, turning so that heat reaches all sides of the meat evenly. When done, slide the beef and onion off between halves of hot buttered rolls.

Other foods in plenty next month: Fresh grapefruit, canned cherries, rice, peanut butter, and canned tuna in oil.

MILK FOR THE PARTY

Want to encourage Jane or Junior to drink more milk? Try setting up a milk-shake center in your home. As the weather gets warm and the youngsters' appetite for cooling beverages increases, parents may wisely encourage milk drinks. Arrange a corner of the kitchen for the crowd that gathers after school or in the evening. Have milk in the refrigerator and milk on the shelf (dry or evaporated). And have a variety of different flavorings or other aids that the young people can use for attractive milk drinks. For that foamy, rather thick consistency especially liked in "shakes" and "floats," there are new milk-shake mixes in different flavors to add to milk. Non-fat dry milk may be added to full milk to make "double milk" with flavors added to taste. If you have ice cream stored in the home freezer, that may be whipped into milk for a hearty shake. Have shakes on hand for the youngsters or let the electric mixer whip up a batch.

Nutritionists recommend that children need 8 to 16 cups of milk a day (that is 1½ pints to 1 quart of milk). Teen-agers need a quart of milk or more daily. Yet surveys show that many youngsters are not getting their milk quota. Frequently a whim, prejudice or mistaken idea about milk stands in the way. For example, teen-age girls often refuse milk in the mistaken belief that it's "fattening." Delicious shakes can be made with dry skim milk that rate low in calories.

KEEP COTTONS FRESH

In general cotton washes easily. Wash as soon as possible after soiling, as soil, stains and perspiration can be removed more easily when washed promptly.

COLONY RESTAURANT
"BEST AT BEACH"

"The person who told us your food was the best on the Beach knew exactly what they were talking about," so said Esther Jolly, of Salem, Virginia, after a recent meal at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Ave. in the Jefferson Hotel building.

This patron's remark is typical of many who have discovered the enjoyment and fine food to be had at the Colony. (ADV.)

form strong acids and should always be well rinsed from the fabric. Dilute bleaches according to instructions on the package. Store cottons fully dry in a dry place, or you may have trouble with mildew.

SPECIAL COTTONS

For special cottons, follow the directions on the tag. If there is no tag, Miss Johnson says:

Do not soak permanent finish cottons. It isn't necessary and may soften the finish.

Use a shorter washing cycle—about five minutes in mild suds and warm water.

Never use chlorine-type bleaches on new resin-treated cottons. Peroxide-type bleaches may safely be used.

Do not twist or wring permanent press and wash-and-wear cottons. Hang wet, or after a spin dry, on a clothes hanger that will not rust. Smooth any creases. Shape on hanger to dry.

Most permanent-finish cottons need little, if any, pressing. Touch-ups are a simple job. The delicate patterns of some textured cottons may be destroyed by ironing. Avoid pressing them. Hang and smooth to dry in shape.

A thin coating of aluminum oxide, which forms almost instantaneously on the surface of aluminum when it is exposed to air, practically eliminates corrosion.

Coal, on the average, is 1.3 times the weight of water by volume.

WHAT IS AGED BEEF?

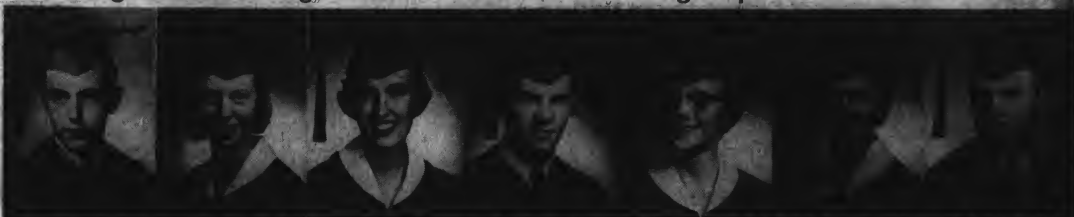

Beef - like cheeses, wines, and lumber - is the better for a little aging, say nutritionists at VPI.

Ordinarily, beef reaches the retail market one to two weeks after slaughter. Aged or ripened beef, however, is held under controlled temperature and humidity for a longer time. During aging, the exterior lean turns darker in color. The meat becomes more tender and juicy and develops a characteristic flavor that many people like. The extent of the change in flavor depends on the length of the ripening period.

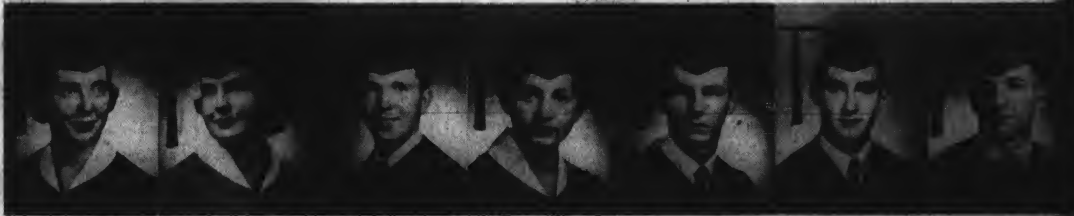

You pay more for aged than for unaged beef because it is held longer and there is added cost for refrigeration and for loss from shrinkage and additional trimming.

Speeding on U.S. Streets and highways injured 702,560 men, women and children.

"...and thanks for calling!"

Your son has the family car tonight... Out with his "best girl." It's late—more than an hour past the time he said he'd be home. You try not to worry—but he's usually so prompt... even for a teen-ager.

Then the telephone.

"Dad?... Sure, I'm all right. Had a flat tire. Just got to a Public Telephone.

I've got the spare tire on and I'll be home soon."

You say, "All right, Son... don't hurry. And thanks for calling!" And you hang up, your mind at ease.

At times like this you can't measure the value of your telephone. But you know it's worth far more than the little it costs.

Telephone service doesn't cost...it pays

THE CALL TO THE LIVING

A cross—a hundred crosses—marking the graves of men who died in the service of their country. But why a cross?

Is this the symbol of our gratitude for the sacrifice they made for us? It is not!

Is this the emblem of democracy and freedom in whose cause they laid down their lives? It is not!

But this is the symbol of a crucified and risen Christ. The One who unfolded for mankind the truth of God's love, the truth out of which democracy, freedom, and sacrifice have come.

The cross on a soldier's grave is a call to us—a call to the living to fill our churches. It is a call to serve with sager and sacrificial devotion the Lord whose Truth men have died to preserve.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

PRICE SPREADS WIDENED BETWEEN BEEF PRODUCER AND CONSUMER

Charges for marketing beef advanced about the same amount from the last quarter of 1954 to the last quarter of 1955 as they did in the seven years ending in 1955 — about one-fourth in each instance.

K. C. Williamson, beef cattle specialist at VPI, says the farm value of choice grade beef averaged over 9 cents per pound lower in the last quarter of 1955 than a year earlier, while retail beef prices were down only about 3.5 cents per pound. This means that about three-fifths of the drop in farm value was absorbed by higher marketing costs.

These relationships are brought out in a report, "Beef Marketing Margins and Costs," published recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Williamson says the report shows that the farmer got 70 percent of the consumer's dollar spent for beef in 1949, and only 62 percent in 1955. The difference between what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays — the marketing margin — represents the return to marketing agencies for their services, including such costs as labor, supplies, and transportation. Such costs have risen substantially in the past seven years.

The beef study shows that the difference between what the farmer receives for U. S. choice grade beef on the hoof and what the consumer pays for the meat has fluctuated widely during the seven years 1949-55.

Retail prices remained relatively stable, for example, during the latter half of 1954 when farm prices of cattle were rising, and during 1955 when farm prices generally declined. Marketing margins therefore narrowed substantially below the long-run average in the latter half of 1954, but widened markedly in 1955. The comparisons are based on the price of a pound of beef at retail and the price of its equivalent weight of 2.16 pounds in the live animals.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR BECOMES STRONGER

The international flavor noticeable these days is becoming a little stronger.

Dr. James A. Duncan, older youth specialist at VPI, says several more young people from foreign countries have been assigned to Virginia under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.

Zuhair Ibrahim Almet, 20-year-old student from Jordan, is now in Bedford county; Kadhim Shawi Al-Saleed, 22-year-old agricultural supervisor from Iraq, is in Allegheny; and Miss Colette Goumet, 22-year-old farm girl from France, is in Charlotte county.

Scheduled to arrive this week are: Leovigildo Piedra V., 18 year old farmer and clerk from Costa Rica; Athaniel Martins De Fonseca, 26-year old manager of an agricultural firm in Brazil; and Joseph Raymond Ward, 24 year old farmer from Ireland. Ward will go to Madison county, Dr. Fonseca to Hanover, and Piedra V. to Albemarle.

In the counties they will live and work with Virginia farm families, and take part in community and county affairs. Their schedules are arranged locally by county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

All of the delegates will attend the State 4-H Short Course at VPI, June 18-23.

Another Brazilian, 22-year-old Alceu Espilovski, will arrive in Virginia August 6, and is scheduled to go to Bedford county.

The IFYE program is a project for selected farm youth from 15 United States to live and work with farm families in other countries for four to six months, and for farm youths from cooperating countries to come to the United States. Begun in 1948, the exchange now includes nearly 50 countries in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Pacific, and the Middle East.

4-H ALUMNI TO BE HONORED FOR SERVICE

Former 4-H club members will again be honored in 1956 for outstanding citizenship and leadership activities in community and business affairs through the National 4-H Alumni Recognition Program.

Virginia's winners for the current year will be announced during the State 4-H Short Course at VPI, June 18-23.

The search for outstanding 4-H alumni is going on in 47 states. Awards for the winners are provided by the Plant Food Division of the John Manthson Chemical Corporation.

Framed Certificates are offered for two winners in each county who have adhered to the ideals and principles of 4-H in their adult careers. Burnished copper plaques, mounted on walnut, will be presented to four state winners. Eight national winners, chosen from the state nominees, receive gold keys and all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 25-28. Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of The Southern Planter, Richmond, was a national winner last year. The four state winners in Virginia in

CONQUERING CUTWORMS

Have you ever strolled into the garden on a fine morning to find your newly transplanted cabbage, broccoli, tomatoes, or flowers nipped off at the ground?

If so, you may have been the victim of a nocturnally operating villain called a cutworm, say specialists at VPI.

Until the advent of chlordane or preparations containing chlordane, the only protection was to laboriously place paper collars or bands around the stems of the plants, or to put out dangerous poison bait. Now all you need to do is mix a little chlordane with each gallon of transplanting water or starter solution. The manufacturer's package will tell how much to use per gallon.

Set the plant, cover the roots with soil, then pour a cupful of the solution around the plant so it will permeate the entire soil depth from surface to the roots. When the cutworm crawls up thru the soil, and comes in contact with the chlordane-treated area, his hours are numbered.

Another method of cutworm control is to sprinkle a chlordane solution — or use a chlordane dust — on the soil surface around the newly set-out plants. It can be worked lightly into the top half-inch or so of soil.

These procedures are just plain good insurance with a low premium rate.

Another good thing about chlordane — it also controls the troublesome maggot that eats roots of young cabbage, broccoli, and related plants.

RURAL HOME STILL DANGEROUS PLACE

The rural home is still a dangerous place to be.

Of the 541 fatal non-transport accidents in rural Virginia in 1955, 300 of them occurred in the home, according to statistics recently compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics and released through the Virginia Rural Safety Council.

The total is down 16 from the year before; but up 3 in the home. Farmers fared somewhat better. The number of accidental deaths on farms was 52, down 15 from the year before. Other classifications as to "place of accident" are public places, 130 deaths, down 18; and "unspecified," 59 deaths, up 8.

The 10 leading types of accidents included for the first time since the statistics have been made available, "excessive cold," and "electric current." Still high on the list as causes of deaths are: fires and explosions, 141 — up 4; falls, 113 — down 10; drowning, 73 — down 9; Firearms, 38 — up 5; poisoning, 28 — up 15; inhaling food, etc., 20 — same as year before; suffocation in bed, 19 — same as year before; farm machinery, 17 — down 11; and other and unspecified, 66.

Dropped from the "top 10" as causes of accidental deaths were blows from falling objects and "other mechanical suffocation."

Adulthood, defined as 24 to 64 years of age, continued as the most dangerous time of life. Number of deaths in this classification was 177, down only 1 from 1954. Most came old age, 65 years and over, with 147 accidental deaths, down 5 from the year before. The Grim Reaper gained in accidental deaths with: infants (under one year) with 60 — up 4; and school age children (5 to 14 years old) with 57 — up 12. Fifty-one preschool (one to 4 years old) children lost their lives accidentally, 6 fewer than in 1954; and 49 youths (15 to 24 years old) died accidentally, 18 fewer than the year before. Of the 141 deaths caused by fires and explosions, such as, trapped in burning buildings, lamps or stoves exploding, clothing on fire, etc., 126 were in the home. Of the 28 accidental poisoning fatalities 11 were in the home, 8 in public places, 5 unspecified.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Spice — What is spice? Spices — What are they? According to Wise's Encyclopedia Spice is a general name for all varieties of spicy, pungent, aromatic vegetable substances. They are used in medicines and wines as well as in cookery. Spices are derived from no particular part of a plant or tree, but from which ever parts happen to be richest in flavor. They are used either as powders or as decoctions.

Spices have been regarded as a luxury, throughout history. Arabia was known as "Arabia the blest," because of the fact it served as a distributing point for spices. The spice trade promoted the expansion of the Roman Empire, and it was responsible for the period of exploration that resulted in the discovering of the "New World." Most spices are of tropical origin, but some have been harvested elsewhere.

The use of spices in cookery is parallel to the use of make-up in grooming. Both should be used subtly in order to achieve a particular effect without becoming too noticeable. They can then achieve an intriguing effectiveness.

Tightly covered spices will retain their full body and strength for months. However, spices that have been exposed to the air over a period of time, or that have been allowed to stand for over a year in a kitchen closet will have lost most of their value as seasoners. The delicate aromatic oils that give spices their appetizing qualities must be protected from the air if they are to be preserved.

Gingerbread, the cake with a flavor nip, has truly had a long and noble history. The spicy favorite has been known for over 800 years. The Greeks wrote about it as it was enjoyed in the great medieval castles of England and France. "Gingerbread" was frequently mentioned in old English literature but it was slightly different from the cake-like dessert with which we are familiar today. The medieval recipe called for the cook to "throw ground ginger and grated bread into a quart of honey until the 'gingerbread' was stiff enough to slice.

In the United States the snappy favorite has been well liked since early colonial days. Presidents have even sung its praises. Gen. Washington was perhaps the first to help popularize it. Abraham Lincoln said, "I don't suppose anybody on earth likes gingerbread better than I do."

Ginger makes such a delightful flavor accompaniment of fruit that gingerbread is often served with applesauce or pear or other fruit today. A new twist along these lines is a gingerbread shortcake with a filling of spring-potential rhubarb. The combination of rhubarb and ginger is especially good. Try gingerbread also in rhubarb pudding and in fruit compotes where rhubarb is used.

Ginger is a natural in all baking goods. The delightful spicy aroma of cookies or cakes rich with ginger is the traditional sign of baking day. Try adding a generous sprinkling of this spice to an apple or pear pie. Creamy cheese cake also takes on an extra good flavor with a sprinkling of ginger.

The American Spice Trade Association recommends the following modern day adaptations of traditional ginger recipes.

1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup shortening, melted
1/2 cup milk, light or medium
1 cup sour milk
2 eggs, beaten
Rhubarb Sauce

1 cup heavy cream, whipped

2 tablespoons sugar

Freshen oven to 375° F. (moderate). Sift first 4 ingredients together into a large mixing bowl.

Combine next 4 ingredients and gradually stir into the flour mixture.

Beat until smooth, about 1/2 minute.

Bake 25 minutes at 375° F. (moderate). Turn out on a wire rack to cool.

Rhubarb Sauce

(Double Boiler Method)

Combine 1 1/2 pounds (4 cups) fresh rhubarb cut into 1/4-inch pieces, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 cup sugar in top of a double boiler. Mix well. Cover and cook over hot water 35 to 40 minutes or until tender. Stir once or twice, being careful not to break rhubarb. Drain off juice and sift out the best whole pieces to use as garnish. Spiced remaining drained rhubarb and whipped cream sweetened with the 2 tablespoons sugar between gingerbread layers and over the top. Garnish with whole pieces of rhubarb. If any of the rhubarb is left, serve it as sauce.

Rhubarb Ginger Pudding

1 cup sugar

1/2 teaspoon salt

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Cottage Pudding Batter

Combine first five ingredients.

Turn into a 1 1/2 quart casserole.

Dot with butter or margarine. Top with Cottage Pudding Batter.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 1 1/4 hours. Serve warm.

Cottage Pudding Batter

1/2 cup shortening

1/2 cup sugar

1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

1/2 cup milk

Cream shortening with sugar.

Beat in egg. Sift flour with baking powder, salt, and spices. Add alternately with milk. Beat batter 1/2 minute. Spread uniformly over rhubarb.

Gingerbread Rhubarb and Fresh Pineapple Compote

1 cup sugar

1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

2 cups fresh pineapple wedges

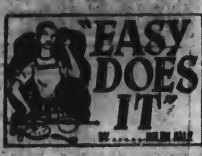

Place rhubarb and sugar in top of double boiler. Mix well. Cover and cook over hot water until rhubarb is tender, 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from heat and add ground ginger. Cool and stir in fresh pineapple wedges. Serve well-chilled.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Ginger Root

Ginger is the root of a plant

You can cut down your weight and be slim, but you must really want to do it. If you feel psychologically ready to loose weight, then here are the tips to make it easy.

Cut down on your food gradually rather than drastically. Weight loss quickly doesn't help you to change your eating habits and you'll quickly gain back even more than you lost if it's done in a hurry.

which grows in the tropics and semi-tropics.

Ginger In Soup

Don't forget to add ground ginger to your vegetable and chicken soups. Just a little bit of the fragrant spice will perk up the flavor of the soup. It does wonders for canned and packaged soups, too.

Glaze Cheese Fingers

A mixture of ground ginger and cream cheese spread thinly over fingers of toast and garnished with a sprinkle of paprika makes a dainty and delectable hors d'oeuvre.

Sugar substitutes will help get down your calories. Use in tea, coffee, lemonade and desserts you make at home. If you are buying dessert mixes such as pudding or gelatin or fruit-flavored drinks, check the label to see that they are sugar-free.

Have your doctor check you regularly while you're losing as well as when you start the regime. Blood pressure and heart condition may play an important part as to the amount you can lose safely each week. It will also indicate whether you may or may not take exercise.

1/2 teaspoon pepper

mixed with 2 tablespoons salt and brown in 1/2 cup hot fat. As pieces are browned, arrange them in casserole. Saute onion in butter until clear. Add all other ingredients and bring to a boil. Pour over chicken. Cover and bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven for about an hour or until tender.

TURKEY YEAR 'ROUND

Consider cold sliced turkey for parties, and barbecued or broiled turkeys at picnics and other outings — instead of thinking of it only at holiday time.

That's the suggestion from VPI nutritionists, who say that in just the past few years, homemakers have been "discovering" turkey as a spring and summer meat.

This change in eating habits across the nation is the result of two important advances in the turkey industry. Virginia turkey growers developed the Beltsville White, a new breed that matures quickly into a small, tender bird, often no larger than a chicken. Modern freezing and marketing operations make top quality turkeys of any size available in markets the year 'round.

VEP Planning More Facilities

Addition of a 150,000 kilowatt generating unit to Virginia Electric and Power Company's Portsmouth station was voted yesterday by the company's Board of Directors.

Construction of the third unit at a cost of about $22 million will bring the station's present rated capacity to 300,000 kilowatts to a total of 350,000 kilowatts. Work will get underway shortly after the first of the year and the unit is scheduled to be in service by early 1959, according to Jas. B. Hawkins, Vepco's Division Vice President.

He said operation of the new Portsmouth unit will add about 25 employees to the station's force, which now numbers about 88 persons with an annual pay roll of $400,000.

The station now uses about 1,500 tons, or 25 railroad cars of coal daily. Hawkins said the new unit will require about 17 or 18 additional carsloads. The additional facility, like the present units, will be capable of using heavy fuel oil when dictated by economy or emergency. A 217,000-barrel storage capacity for heavy fuel oil is maintained at the station. The first generating unit was completed in the spring of 1953. The second 100,000 kilowatt unit went into operation in December, 1954.

The Vepco directors also voted approval yesterday for construction of a second unit of 150,000 kilowatts at the Yorktown Power Station now under construction. Construction is moving ahead on the first 150,000 unit at Yorktown, Hawkins reported.

Hawkins said the action of the Board of Directors in approving construction of the additional generating facility was the result of past, present and anticipated growth in electrical use in the area.

Garden Question Box

Q—We are planning to build a terrace. What minimum size do you suggest? How can we assure privacy? What small trees will provide shade for the southwest corner?

A—A terrace should be at least 12 square feet—15 square feet is preferable. Use fences, screens or plant material for privacy. Suggested small trees for the corner include flowering dogwood, shadow, redbud, golden rain tree, saucer magnolia, flowering crab apple and sourwood.

Q—How high should the riser for a garden step be, and how wide should we make the tread?

A—Make the riser 4 to 6 inches high and the treads 14 to 16 inches wide. A general rule is "twice the riser plus the tread should equal 26 inches."

Q—Is it too early to prune forsythia?

A—Now is a good time to prune any of the early blooming shrubs because they have finished blooming for this year.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

The average veteran buying a GI home during the past two years was 32 years of age, had a monthly income of $494 and paid nearly $11,800 for his home.

These facts were revealed in a Veterans Administration sampling of the financial characteristics of more than a million GI home loans made to World War II and Korean conflict period veterans during 1954 and 1955.

The veterans paid $12.4 billion for their homes, made initial down payments of $1 billion, and assumed mortgage debts of $11.4 billion.

VA guaranteed 407,000 GI home loans in 1954 and 653,000 in 1955, with about 60 percent of the loans made on new homes and the balance on existing homes.

The sample showed the veterans had an estimated monthly housing expense of $94.75, which was equivalent to nearly 20 percent of the average monthly income of $493.80.

While the average age of veterans buying GI homes was 32.1

years, their overall ages ranged from 20 to 72 and their gross income, from $1,800 to $6,000 a year.

The one 72-year old veteran in the sample purchased a new home, made a down payment of 36 percent, and had liquid assets amounting to two and a half times the amount of his loan, which had a maturity of 15 years.

The average liquid assets of the veterans in the sampling was $1,365, nearly 16 percent of the $11,791 average price paid for homes.

In the survey, the average monthly income data represented total family income before taxes and other deductions. Monthly housing expenses included principal and interest repayments on mortgages; the estimated cost of taxes, insurance, heat and utilities; and an allowance for expected maintenance costs. Liquid assets consisted of cash on hand and in banks, negotiable bonds and securities, and other items, at the time of the loan application.

Virginia In Need Of Teachers

"725,000 children are in Virginia public schools now. By 1965, we can expect 1,000,000 or more. We need 3500 new teachers a year! This number, explains Mrs. Louise Galleher, Chairman of the State Board of Education Committee for Teacher Recruitment, is required to meet the demand for replacements and growing enrollments; to reduce over-size classes, and to relieve the number of untrained persons now holding teaching positions.

Of the anticipated college graduates in Virginia in June 1956, authorities estimated only 1,072 (white) will become teachers. To narrow this gap between the 3500 needed each year is the challenge facing teacher recruitment.

Representatives of twenty-three state-wide organizations constitute the membership of the Virginia Committee for Teacher Recruitment, formed in March 1956. Local committees have been appointed in twenty-four counties and cities.

The "May Campaign" is now under way. In some localities teacher groups are enjoying tributes from various civic and business organizations. Future Teachers of America Clubs are being organized in high schools; welcome committees for new teachers are sponsored, and surveys of available teacher supply locally are being conducted.

"Sound principles must underlie teacher recruitment activities," according to Dowell J. Howard,

State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He explains that these include emphasis on quality; a portrayal of the teaching profession in a positive way; and a recognition of the joint responsibility of the profession and the groups for this important work.

Dr. Howard points out that the largest numbers leave teaching during the first four years. "In 1954-55: 19.07 per cent resigned during or at the end of the first year of teaching; 13.80 per cent, the second year; 10.7 per cent fifth year; 5.18 per cent, the sixth year.

The Time Is At Hand

The time is at hand for the Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd and their candidates to come forward and reveal to the voters any information they might have concerning city employees and those that they say are not fit for the offices they hold and who they say, are not performing their duties properly. They have consistently said as much in their frantic campaign to elect the two Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates, "but they have not been willing or able, apparently, to step forward and call the names of these employees or give reasons why they should be fired."

They must do one of these two things, or be labeled as candidates who will not tell the voter where they stand. Mr. Heath wrote in a letter to the City Council in behalf of Mr. Dunn that he wanted to bring the attention of that body certain facts showing Johnson's unfitness to be Chief of Police.

This can only mean that the candidates of the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket must repudiate the leaders of their group, or step forward and say that they will fire Mr. Johnson as Chief of Police. We do not believe they will repudiate Dunn or Heath, so it must be assumed that they will fire Mr. Johnson. This, we feel, is what these candidates propose to do to other city employees.

Less than two weeks remain before the voters go to the polls to elect two councilmen for the City of Virginia Beach. We repeat that the Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd should by now be willing to face the election on the issue of the individual qualifications of the candidates, themselves. They should not continue to send up smoke-screens in an attempt to confuse the voter.

We believe that the intelligent voters of Virginia Beach will consider the fine records of Mayor Frank A. Dusch and Councilman John W. McCombs, who have, in a forthright manner, presented a program that will bring continued progress and advancement to our city. These two men have given the City many services during the past four years and have indicated, by their records, that they will work for the benefit of the City and all of the people, not just a chosen few who would seek favors of a selfish nature.

Mayor Dusch and Councilman McCombs have demonstrated their desire to listen to the people and to get their views on important matters. We believe the voters of Virginia Beach demand, and deserve representation by men of the type of Frank Dusch and John McCombs. These men have the confidence and respect of their fellow citizens and of those in neighboring communities.

The Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd has constantly abused the City of Virginia Beach and has condemned those officials which the people have elected to serve them. This crowd has done this without calling anyone by name and they have stated that the city has been under years of misrule and inefficiency of those holding office. We think the Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd should put a halt to statements such as this unless they are willing and able to come forward and call names and give instances of misrule or inefficiency in office. They should quit hiding behind smoke-screens and deal in facts.

The Dunn-Heath-Weary candidates, with the election so near, should stop castigating their fellow citizens and stop making innuendoes which are baseless or they should be men enough to tell the public what they are talking about by pointing out specific individuals. This, we feel, is not possible because the innuendoes and inferences made by this crowd cannot be backed up by the facts.

The two candidates of the Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd must, if they want to be fair with the voter, either repudiate Dunn and Heath or come out and say that, if elected, they will fire Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson.

Contrast In Reports

A good report of the condition of the Princess Anne County jail made this week was highly complimentary of the administration under Sheriff John E. Marr. The inspection was the first made by the Division of Corrections of the Commonwealth since Sheriff Marr took office last January 1. The fine report is quite a change and quite a contrast to some of the inspection reports of the past few years.

The report specifically noted that Sheriff Marr had reduced the cost of food without loss of food value. The report also stated that good discipline was maintained in the jail and that considerable improvement was noted in the cleanliness of the jail over that found at the last inspection.

The report is a credit to Princess Anne County and Sheriff Marr and his personnel are to be commended for improving the jail and in the fine report made by the inspector. From reports we have received of the administration of the jail under Sheriff Marr it can be expected that the conditions found so satisfactory in this State inspection will continue to be maintained.

Armory For City Is Assured

It was welcome news this week from city officials of Virginia Beach that the Armory building which has been planned is nearing the reality stage. Officials have been working closely with State officials for many months on the project and the announcement this week of the progress made was welcome, indeed.

Details of construction and setbacks from the street were the only questionable points raised and representatives of the city journeyed to Richmond on Tuesday to iron out these matters. It seems that actual construction should start before the summer is half over.

Mattie Bishop Trant

The death last week of a young mother, Mattie Bishop Trant, who resided in Princess Anne County and who made a great contribution to the life of this community has left her countless friends and associates deeply saddened. Her passing was a great shock and a great loss.

Mrs. Trant, or Mattie, as all of her friends knew her, was a person possessed of a warm personality. She was the type who never met a stranger and her friendly, cheery manner was always present. She was an energetic person and was enthusiastic in all of her activities and particularly in club and organization work. She was always a willing worker in everything that was good for her community.

Mattie was an outstanding personality. She was recognized in 1950 by the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County when she received that club's award for the "Outstanding Junior Woman of the Year." It has been said by those who knew her that she could have very well been

Text Of Speech Made By John Fitzgerald In Support Of Dusch And McCombs

Ladies and gentlemen, my name is John Fitzgerald. I do not hold any political office in the City of Virginia Beach. I have never sought one, but I am deeply interested in our City because, like you, this is where I have my home, my life, my friends and my future. I am deeply interested in the Councilman election which will be held on the 12th of June next month, at which time we will elect two members of our City Council.

I have listened to some of the radio speeches, read the political ads of the candidates running on the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket, in their speeches and in their ads they have condemned Virginia Beach and those who live in it, the people of the City, have elected to serve you. Without calling anyone by name, they have stated that the City has been polluted by years of misrule and inefficiency of office holders and they say that it has been characterized by favors for a few at the expense of the many.

I have lived in Virginia Beach a long time. I know the people of the City quite well. I know all of the City officials, and if the candidates of the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket know of any misrule or inefficiency of office holders or favors for the few at the expense of the many, I call upon them to step forward and publicly and name those officials. The time has come for these men to be willing to come forward and name those who have taken advantage of any of our citizens. If it were proven to be true, I, like all of you, would not support a man of this type. But the Dunn-Heath-Weary crowd believes in operating by innuendoes and character assassination, without naming any individuals.

They have stated on the one hand that they propose to dismiss everyone at City Hall and on the other hand, they have said that no City employee who properly has an opportunity to observe very carefully on the one hand, I am a businessman and believe in dealing in facts, I want to make a concrete example. Mr. Heath, of the Dunn-Heath-Weary group, charged in a letter to the City Council, which he wrote in behalf of his client J. Wilcox Dunn, that he was going to repudiate Mr. Dunn and Mr. Heath, if they are, they have got two weeks in which to do so, so the public will know exactly where they stand. What they propose to do to Mr. Johnson is, in my opinion, typical of what they want to do to the other City employees.

I am not here to defend the City employees as being perfect, but I am here to say that the citizens of Virginia Beach should know what changes are in store for them before they vote on Tuesday, June 12th, and if there are to be changes, the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket should let us know what they propose to do.

During the past several years I have been active in the Fraternal Order of Police. I have had an opportunity to observe very carefully on the one hand, Police and Fire Departments, and as a citizen, I believe I have a right to ask these questions of those who offer themselves as candidates of our City Council.

On the other hand, Frank Dusch and John McCombs have, in a forthright manner, presented a program which will bring progress and advancement to our City, and I believe, to those who live here. We have had an opportunity to observe the services which they have given to the City during the past four years. They have worked on behalf of the people of the City, they have the confidence and respect of the people and the surrounding communities. They can work with the County and the State and the Federal Government in helping to secure the necessary appropriations for benefit. They are willing to listen to the people and to get their views on the important questions. This is what we have a right to expect of the people who elect, and I ask each of you to lend your support to Frank Dusch and John McCombs between now and June 12th, and go to the Polls on that day and vote for them. Please, also, listen to this station tomorrow evening at 5:45 for another important message.

Rumor Spreaders

Virginia Beach, Va.
May 26, 1956

Editor,
Virginia Beach Sun-News

Dear Sir:
I was in one of our local business establishments a few days ago and was being lectured to concerning the coming Councilman Election. Among other things I was told was that the present administration did not want the City Armory and that they had lost it completely for our City. You can imagine my utter surprise when I read in the Norfolk newspapers this past weekend that the Armory had been secured and that bids were to be taken in June for its construction.

"These spreaders of wild rumors and night-riders are burning up their energy trying to knock Virginia Beach and keep it from progressing. My hat is off to men like Frank Dusch and John McCombs who continue to move forward for the benefit of all of our citizens and I am sure the citizens of our community appreciate what they are doing."

Sincerely yours,
A Reader

"Weary's Lane"

Editor,
Virginia Beach Sun-News

Dear Sir:
I see where the Dunn-Heath-Weary Ticket professes to love our schools and school children. Yet, Mr. Weary in the letter to the Planning Board talks about Holly Road being a "dusty, roaring, highly dangerous thoroughfare for, among other things, school buses."

How does he expect the children the recipient of such an award each year. She was that type of person.

It would be hard to summarize the good work that this wonderful person did during the forty-three years of her life. And, knowing full well that many of her good works will be overlooked, we will list just some of the organizations and clubs with which Mattie gave so much of her time and boundless energy.

She served six years on the Board of Directors of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, secretary of the Junior Woman's Club in 1950-1951; served as chairman of many committees of the Junior Woman's Club; active each year in the Community Chest and the Red Cross; worked closely with the St. Mary's Infant Home; active in the County Girl Scout organization; served as chairman of Mother's March in annual of this area to be picked up by school buses if the buses are not allowed to use Holly Road? If the answer is yes, we want to change the name from Holly Road to Weary's Lane when he becomes City Manager.

Selfish Motives

Virginia Beach, Va.
May 28, 1956

Editor,
Virginia Beach Sun-News

Dear Sir:
I notice from the press that Mr. James J. Standing has suddenly become wrapped up in the candidates sponsored by the Dunn-Heath-Weary ticket. I believe it the right and privilege of everyone to vote for the candidates of his choice, but since Mr. Standing has suddenly become so active, it is his desire to have the city rebuild the jetty at South Virginia Beach to build up his own property and thereby starve every hotel and cottage on the ocean front at Virginia Beach?

It is because of selfish interests on the part of certain people that will cause the citizens of Virginia Beach to overwhelmingly re-elect Frank A. Dusch and John W. McCombs on June 12th. Everyone knows that they are looking after the welfare of all the people and they are not going to build a jetty just to benefit Mr. Standing or to rezone Linscomb Park for the benefit of Mr. Weary, or sue everybody at City Hall just to sue Mr. Dunn and Mr. Heath.

Very truly yours,
A Virginia Beach Booster

Wahab Speech

This unrelenting anger and vilification by the Anti-Organization leaders is the most evil force at work in our community today.

It has created a false and unjustified picture of our community before the eyes of people who should be attracted to visit and vacation at our resort. Its effect, even into the far reaches of our nation, has been tragic indeed.

I urge every Virginia Beach voter to cast your ballot for Frank Dusch and John McCombs on June 12th. An overwhelming victory for them will repulse these handful of political scoundrels to the ignominy which they so justly deserve and put an end to the vilification of our fine and famous city.

Frank Dusch and John McCombs are known personally to me as men of high character and outstanding ability. How often the most fanatical can smear them, as they have been, is beyond my comprehension. As majority members of the City Council for the past four years, they have guided the progress of Virginia Beach. I invite the closest scrutiny of their records.

You have heard heretofore of the accomplishments of your city while they have been in office. They have been attentive to the needs of the city and diligent in carrying out the desires of the people. They have presented a specific, well-defined platform for which they will work if reelected.

Frank Dusch and John McCombs are men of proven ability, high personal integrity and unquestioned honesty. I defy their accusers to produce one fact to contradict that statement.

Their hearts and souls are in making Virginia Beach a better place in which to live and earn our livings. They believe in Virginia Beach and its future. They stand for good government and the continued progress of our city.

On the basis of their records and their personal qualifications, I commend Frank Dusch and John McCombs to your careful consideration and trust that you will find them deserving of your vote on June 12th.

When the USS NEW ORLEANS first put into the city for which she was named, the officers and crew were feted in grand style. She was presented with a magnificent silver service, a palio, and the ship's bell from the previous NEW ORLEANS. And into the metal of the bell was melted thousands of dime donated by the people of New Orleans.

March of Dimes drives; served several years on Board of Directors of the Princess Anne Woman's Club.

In addition to these works Mattie was one of the founders of the Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society in 1954, and was one of its most active members at the time of her death. She was chairman of the Unit's Educational Film Program this year.

Besides the wonderful community work she performed, she was first, last and always a loving Mother of two infant children and a devoted wife. The loss of Mattie Bishop Trant will never be fully regained and our deepest sympathy is felt for the wonderful family of this gracious person whom we were privileged to know and love so well.

National Little League News

On Monday the Thunderbirds and the Pipers held a preliminary scrimmage game to observe each other's play, as well as to iron out particular flaws within their respective teams. Each team showed considerable pitching power, although the batters had their groves. Particular weakness was noted in the outfield. Within the infield each team displayed skill in throwing and handling. Both teams are improving considerably with every practice. Bill Tucker and Chris Webber are doing a splendid job in coaching and building the spirit of that team. Fine playing is expected on the part of each of these teams.

of exhibition ball will be played by each team. Parents with children participating are asked to have their child there on time.

Everyone is invited to view the parade and support the teams by attending the regularly scheduled games. The National League playing schedule begins Monday, June 4th, with the Little Giants playing the Thunderbirds and the J.C. Hays playing the Pipers. National League games are scheduled for every Monday and Thursday beginning at 8 P.M. These boys are having a good deal of fun; come and join them.

Little League Personality
Dwight Terrell is one of the leading players in the line-up for the Pipers in the National Little League. He is twelve years old and is returning as an experienced player from many games last season. Seeding base is his starting position where he can be counted on for plenty of good playing. Dwight is a good hitter and therefore will usually bat among the first four. Good luck Dwight.

Miss Marshall Wins Lions Club Scholarship

Charlotte Marshall, sixteen year old pupil of Clifford Harzer, Virginia Beach pianist and teacher, was the winner of the Bland Memorial Music Scholarship Contest sponsored by the Virginia Association of Lions Clubs at the finale held at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond last Thursday.

Over three hundred students participated in the State-wide contest before the finalists were chosen.

The scholarship carries an award of $350 to be applied to the future musical education of the winner. It is an outgrowth of funds raised several years ago to establish "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" as the state song and the restoration of the grave of James A. Bland, the composer in Philadelphia.

Charlotte was sponsored by the Crossroads Lions Club.

Charlotte is now on scholarship from the Harnage Foundation in Norfolk with Mr. Herzer at the Bristol Harlow School of Music.

Mr. Harzer attended the contest for the finalists and said that the standard of the musician in the finals was extremely high and the judges were of the highest caliber. Twelve hundred Lions members and their wives were in the audience for the judging.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

She "Bargained" For

Dad Baker retired from active dairying—over eight years ago—but still keeps a half-dozen purebreds more or less as a hobby.

Dad goes all-out for these six. Temperature-controlled barn, expensive feed... the works. As a result his milk has a low bacteria count, a high butterfat content. And as a favor to neighbors, he sells it just two cents above the ordinary price.

sent her a bill for exactly what the milk cost: 75¢ a quart.

From where I sit, it's easy to misunderstand if you don't get all the facts. That's why we ought to consider the other fellow's viewpoint before we talk out. For example, you have your reasons for liking particular beverages. I have mine. And whether we're talking about buttermilk or beer... let's try to respect each other's point of view.

Mrs. J. G. Smith Is Area Winner In Sewing Contest

Mrs. Joseph G. Smith, 104 Kittiwake Court, Birdneck Point, Virginia Beach, Virginia, has been selected from a field of 1500 contestants in this area to go to New York in June to try for the $25,000 first prize in the 125,000 sewing contest sponsored by the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It was announced today by H. W. Armstrong, Singer General Agent for the Middle East area.

Mrs. Smith's dress was judged "best in show" in a fashion show held at Washington, D. C., for which she was awarded a Singer Giant-Needle Sewing Machine. She will be one of 33 finalists to compete for a $25,000 prize to be held in a "Sew-Off" in New York City.

A Singer Sewing Machine, was awarded to second-prize winner Mrs. Norma J. Nelson Norfolk, Virginia.

Mrs. Smith's dress was a blue Morgonbel linen with long-sleeved Matador jacket, Navy gored skirt on elongated bodice, with center front buttoned closing.

The 33 winning dresses, one from each of Singer's 33 regions in the United States and Canada, will be sent to New York where they will be judged, first on workmanship and later on fashion rightness. In June, the makers of the 33 garments will come to New York. Their trip will include visit to glamorous restaurants and sights of New York's famous landmarks. They will all participate in the Grand Sew-Off, to take place in the new Coliseum with $25,000 first prize. Each woman will make a dress for a professional model, in a completely equipped sewing room, and this dress will be judged equally with the dress which won the regional contest.

Mrs. Smith is the wife of Commander Joseph Smith, Operations Officer aboard the U.S.S. Valley Forge, and the mother of two children.

GOOD HABITS

Two men had enjoyed their conversation in the observation car and were making their way down the aisle of the pullman when they stumbled upon an object protruding from one of the berths. They discovered it was a nine year old boy. They apologized and helped the little fellow back in bed. Then the lad explained his custom of kneeling beside the bed to pray each night. On this occasion he was traveling alone and thought it would do just as well to say his prayers in bed. But he was not satisfied and became more and more restless as he turned and twisted. Finally he had slipped down by the side of the aisle, to say his prayers.

The next morning the two men were having breakfast in the diner when the nine year old boy came in to eat nearby. One of the men looked up at the lad and said, "I would give all I possess to have what that kid's got." What did the lad have? There was a strong urge to maintain a habit that literally brought something to him he could not be happy without. He was in the habit of praying before he slept and that program could not be changed even to the method of the prayer.

We have grown when good habits make such an impression upon us we are unhappy until they are performed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in our world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Congratulations to all young people who are graduating this year! Receiving a diploma means you have fulfilled the academic requirements and met the standards of conduct of your schools. They, in turn, have given you a secure world for four years, with work and rules of conduct mapped out for you.

Now all this is changed in a day. The anchor has suddenly pulled up, and the world ahead looks insecure and uncertain. You now have to plan your own work, and set your own standards of behavior.

At this point, a church connection is a strong anchor to spiritual security. Let your Commencement mean a commencement of regular church attendance in the church you choose. Face the new world ahead armed with its firm hope and faith.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

CAMP SEASON NIGH FOR 4-H'ERS

Camping season is near for Virginia's 4-H'ers, and over 6,000 of them are expected to attend one of the various mountain or seashore camps between June and September.

State 4-H officials at VPI say the 4-H camps offer 4-H members opportunities to develop in citizenship and leadership. Recreation and classes in such subjects as handicraft, photography, entomology, and social graces also are featured.

A tentative schedule for the summer camps has been announced.

Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach: June 26-30, Norfolk, Princess Anne, and Brunswick: July 2-7, Amelia, Lunenburg, Nottoway, Mecklenburg: July 9-14, Sussex, Surry, Nanamond, Isle of Wight, and Southampton: July 30-August 4, Chesterfield and Greensville.

USE SUDAN OR MILLET FOR SUMMER PASTURE

Another reminder to farmers that permanent pastures need a helper during July and August is forthcoming from agronomists at VPI.

They say sudan grass or pearl millet can help provide additional grazing for livestock during the critical pasture months because these crops grow best when permanent pastures are likely to be least productive.

A third to one-half acre of sudan grass or pearl millet will usually provide enough grazing for one animal during the summer pasture slump. Lengthen the productive period of this supplement pasture by seeding half the acre early and the rest a month to six weeks later. Seed from now until July 1. Either sudan or pearl millet should be ready for grazing 6 to 8 weeks later.

Details on seeding and fertilizing are given in the leaflet entitled "Sudan Grass or Pearl Millet for Summer Pasture." Ask your county agent, or write the VPI Agricultural Extension Service, Blacksburg, for a free copy.

TENDRENESS IN MEAT MAY BE INHERITED

There is some evidence from research with rabbits and in studies of sheep and beef cattle that tenderness in meat is an inherited quality.

The U.S. Department of Agr.

culture says that to produce more lean meat of good quality and tenderness, a better understanding is needed of what makes tenderness and desirable flavor.

Enough research has been done to show there is no direct relation between tenderness in the meat and outside fat. But tenderness and flavor may be influenced by the particles of fat within the meat cells. It is also possible that there is a relationship between tenderness and the size and elasticity of different muscle fibers.

Once the chemical nature of tenderness and good flavor are clearly understood, it may become possible to add these qualities to any meat.

CORN SIDEDRESSING UPS PRODUCTION

Don't let the lack of nitrogen limit your corn yields this year. G. R. Epperson, associate agronomist at VPI, says an 80 bushel-per-acre corn crop removes about 112 pounds of nitrogen from the soil. There must be considerably more than this amount of nitrogen in the soil or the corn crop cannot take what it needs.

On fine-textured or clayey soils, apply nitrogen sidedressing by the time the corn is 12 to 16 inches high. On coarse-textured or sandy soils, sidedress with nitrogen throughout the period of cultivation.

On any soil, if the corn turns pale green or yellowish up to the time of silking, make an application of readily available nitrogen. During early stages of growth any of the commonly used sources of nitrogen are satisfactory for sidedressing. Later applications, particularly those made just before the corn starts to tassle, should be in a readily available or nitrate form.

One pound of nitrogen is contained in the following materials: 6 1/4 pounds of nitrate of soda; 4 pounds of A.I. calcium or ammonium sulphate; 3 pounds of ammonium nitrate; or 2.4 pounds of urea. Ammoniacal and nitrogen solutions are applied on the basis of pounds of nitrogen per acre, particularly on a custom service deal.

HAVE STORAGE READY FOR GRAIN HARVEST

The closer you are to having storages cleaned, sprayed and repaired before grain harvest, the better off you'll be.

That's the tip from G. D. Kite, agricultural engineer at VPI, who points out that proper storage for grain will mean money in your pocket this year.

The storage should have smooth walls and tight floors. Metal strips around door openings, or the bottom of the doors, and at the corners of the bins, will help keep rain out. Wire over windows and on openings above bin walls also will help. A good roof is a "must."

Kite suggests having some arrangement to save labor in moving the grain. Auger type portable conveyors are available which will move up to 25 bushels a minute. Forced air driers will make early harvest possible, and reduce insect damage.

Detailed suggestions on grain storages are available from county agents or from the Agricultural Extension Service, VPI, Blacksburg.

MANAGEMENT FACTORS IMPORTANT FOR PULLETS

Several management practices are important in growing pullets, say VPI poultry specialists. Here are some of their timely suggestions:

Move pullets to a good, clean range when old enough to do without heat.

Keep them entirely separate from old birds and contaminated ground.

Keep birds free of lice and mites.

Provide shelter to protect the birds from weather, rodents, and thieves. Plans for simple range shelters are available from county agents.

Provide shade if no natural shade is available. Two or three rows of corn or sunflowers will fill the bill.

If the cockerels are kept in the brooder house, they grow to market size more rapidly on less feed.

HOMEOWNERS' ITEMS

Cut Flowers

Want your cut flowers to keep fresh longer?

Here are some suggestions from VPI specialists.

Cut with a sharp knife in late afternoon. Be sure the container in which you put the flowers is clean. Copper containers work well as they keep down bacteria, which clog stem of flowers and cut down on water absorption.

When cutting the stems, make a slanting cut as the flowers take up water through the cut ends of the stems. Do not allow leaves to stay in the water. They soon decay and foul the water. Keep cut flowers out of drafts and as cool as possible, especially when first cut. Water for the Machine

One point to check when thinking of buying machines is how much water is required.

VPI specialists say if water is scarce, expensive or hard to pump, or if heating water is inconvenient or expensive, then the amount of water needed will be important.

Washing machines vary in water use from 6 to 20 gallons for one filling of the tub. Laboratory tests show no definite relationship between effectiveness of the washing and the amount of water used.

See your dealer and find out which type, non-automatic, semi-automatic, or automatic, is the best suited for your needs.

Vacation Planning

Looking for peace of mind on your vacation? Make a list of things you want to check. Then you'll know if you locked all the windows, unplugged electrical appliances, asked the paper boy and milkmen to stop deliveries, left your vacation address with a neighbor, and notified the police that you'll be away.

Older people generally prefer to retire to smaller communities rather than to the large cities. Exceptions to this rule are Los Angeles, San Diego, Seattle, Dallas, Houston, Memphis, Atlanta, Miami and Jacksonville.

Central heating was provided more than 3000 years ago in a palace of the Assyrians, a city-dwelling people who lived in what is today Turkey. Recent excavations have unearthed a pipe-line system of corridors beneath most of the palace's chambers.

Thermostats of the USSR, Japan and India carry the heaviest passenger traffic in the world.

FORT STORY NEWS

More than 600 Army Transportation troops from Fort Eustis and Fort Story departed Hampton Roads Army Terminal May 23 for summer resupply operations in the Northeast Air Command near the Arctic Circle.

The specially trained soldiers left for Goose Bay in Labrador and Søndrestrøm, Greenland. There they will unload equipment and supplies for air bases and radar sites during the coming six months, then return to the United States in mid-November.

The operation is known as SUN-EC, for Support Units Northeast Command. Approximately the same number of troops will leave in July for similar SUNEC operations at Thule, Greenland and Frobisher Bay in Baffin Island, Canada. The men who boarded the troop transport U.S.N.S. Marine Corp May 23rd are from one Fort Story company and four Fort Eustis companies. Advance parties have already been flown to the two operational sites.

The 154th Terminal Service Company from Fort Story and a detachment of the 19th Medium Truck Company from Fort Eustis left for Søndrestrøm, Units from Fort Eustis on their way to Goose Bay are the 105th and 243rd Terminal Service Companies and the 19th Medium Truck Company. Detachments from the 110th Harbor Craft Battalion at Fort Eustis are moving to both sites by air.

The send-off for the troops included plenty of military band music. A band from Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base played as Fort Story troops departed the post for Hampton Roads. The Ft. Eustis Army Band provided music as Arctic-bound troops left Eustis and again at the terminal before the Marine Corp sailed.

Brig. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., commanding general of Fort Eustis and the Transportation Training Command, was on hand to see the troops off at both Eustis and Hampton Roads.

Ft. Story participated in Memorial Day activities at nearby Virginia Beach by sending six amphibious DUKW's and a company of four officers and 100 enlisted men to a parade at the seaside resort May 30.

Officers and men who marched in the parade came from each of the 10th Transportation Battalion's four companies. 1st Lt. George L. Regan commanded the unit.

Men from the 344th Amphibious Truck Company also took part in Memorial Day Ceremonies of American Legion Post 113 at Virginia Beach. The 344th sent an eight-man firing squad to participate in the post's program. The squad was commanded by 1st Lt. Edgar L. Turlington, Jr.

In a pre-Memorial Day event, all of Ft. Story's troops turned out for a garrison review May 25. Reviewing officer was Col. Robert A. Cliff, chief of staff of the Transportation Training Command.

An unusual feature of the review was the presentation of the pennant for best marching unit in the previous review to the 155th Terminal Service Company. The 155th departed for Søndrestrøm.

AT EAGLETON'S
MAZ-101
henry eagleton

Greenland, May 23. The presentation went off as planned, however, when one of the unit's officers who didn't go north turned up to receive the pennant.

The 1st Transportation Battalion moved up the numerical ladder May 25, when it was redesignated the 14th Transportation Battalion. The organization, commanded by Maj. Alfred R. Campbell, was activated in November, 1955.

Story's "Soldier of the Month" for June is Pfc. Norvin E. Powell. Powell is a member of Headquarters Detachment, 378th Transportation Battalion.

Post Protestant Chaplain (1st Lt.) Rudolf E. Gruenke departed May 28th for a "Flying Person" type assignment in the Northeast Command. Gruenke will travel by air to each site where Army Transportation Corps troops are resupplying air bases and radar stations near the Arctic Circle in Operation SUNEC (Support Units Northeast Command).

The departing chaplain has been replaced by Chaplain (1st Lt.) William W. Owen.

Dr. (Capt.) John N. Sims was recently assigned as a surgeon at the Ft. Story dispensary. Dr. Sims replaced as a general surgeon in Live Oak, Fla., and later completed an orientation course at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., before coming to Ft. Story.

One of the largest and most realistic training exercises ever to be held at Ft. Story began May 25th as more than 1,800 Transportation Corps troops from Ft. Eustis and Ft. Story started practicing the roles they will play in supplying radar sites along the Arctic "DEW (Distant Early Warning) Line" this summer.

Of the men participating, 1,600 were from the 619th Terminal Service Battalion at Ft. Eustis. An additional 211 men trained as amphibious LVT Landing Vehicle, Tracked, and DUKW operators and mechanics by the 619th and 605th Amphibious Truck Companies at Story were organized into teams and attached to Eustis terminal service companies.

Special combined operating units service stevedores and amphibious vehicle operators and mechanics were to work together at Story just as they will in the Arctic. The exercise plan called for them to move 1,800 tons of cargo from ships off shore to cargo dumps at Story by June 4.

On June 6, the training exercise will move into its second phase, with 1,200 more troops from Eustis' 394th Terminal Service Battalion arriving at Story to move another 1,600 tons of cargo inland by June 17th.

The intensive advance training at Ft. Story was planned to give units headed for the DEW Line a chance to encounter and solve problems. They will run into at radar sites placed along the Arctic rim from northeast Canada to northwest Alaska.

Except for anticipated warm weather, operating conditions were to approximate as closely as possible those which will be encountered in the Arctic. All personnel will live in the field, with tents for shelter. The operation will continue around the clock, until completion.

Approximately 3,000 men who will be trained at Ft. Story will move equipment and supplies from two ships — one in the "Victory" and one in the "Liberty" class. Troops will be moved from Ft. Eustis to Story on a tank landing ship. Six utility landing craft and 20 smaller craft from Ft. Eustis will join 24 LVTs and 22 DUKW's from Story in moving cargo.

The operation for which training is being conducted is known officially as "Project 572". The designation, which is the actual project number of the operation, came into being last year when the Transportation Corps job of supplying DEW Line radar sites was highly classified.

Project 572 units are scheduled to depart for the Arctic in July.

In 1841, Navy Captains had only buttons on the cuffs, while Navy doctors had 3 stripes of gold lace. This latter was a distinctive mark of a Spanish colonel, and in Spanish ports it frequently happened that the nurse was turned out and full military honors were paid to the doctor while the Captain passed unnoticed. This was believed to have led to the introduction of distinctive bands of lace for officers.

The most common "office emergency" is the nosebleed, followed by fainting, foreign objects in the eye, choking, falls and heat exhaustion.

On Monday Night, May 21, 1956 the senior class of the Princess Anne County Training School presented its class play entitled, "It's A Great Life." The play was a 3-act comedy by William Fisher, which was well done. A large and appreciative audience was delighfully entertained by the players. The baccalaureate service for the 1956 graduating class will be held on Sunday, June 3, 1956 at 4:00 P.M. in the school auditorium. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Milton A. Reid, Minister of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Virginia Beach, Virginia. Class night exercises for the seniors will be held on Monday Evening, June 4, 1956 at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

On Wednesday evening, June 6, 1956, Commencement exercises will be conducted in the school auditorium. The commencement program will begin promptly at 8:15 p.m., and the speaker for the 1956 graduating class will be Mr. Wm. N. Cooper, Director of Summer School and Registration, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

June is the month of weddings, when brides and their mothers all are looking for ideas for the wedding reception, and recipes for wedding punches. Today I'm going to give you two punch recipes either of which is sure to please your guests and do honor to your punch bowl.

Both of these punches are with frozen lemonade. This pure California lemon juice, already mixed with sugar, gives delightful flavor to punches and it is delightfully easy to use. Frozen lemonade blends so well with other fruit juices; it takes out their natural flavor and adds its own lemon taste.

For true wedding glamour, one of these punches also adds champagne. The other is a strictly fruit juice punch. In just a minute, I will give you the recipes for both. But first, a few suggestions for your party table.

One decoration that will be very effective is a wedding bell tree. Your florist may be able to supply you with a mangrove or other decorative tree branch of good table size. Silver the branch or have the florist do this for you, and tie miniature wedding bells to the branch with streamers of white ribbon. Lilies of the valley or other small white flowers may be tied on with the bells. Use the wedding tree as your table centerpiece and set the punch bowl under it.

Bride and groom figures also make an effective table decoration. You can always find these, in some variation, at party favor counters. Decorate the base of your punch bowl with maiden fern and fresh white flowers, gardenias or carnations are particularly effective.

And of course - to make your bride's table complete, a beautiful and delicious wedding cake. It is important that the cake tastes good; so often the wedding cake is so beautiful and such a disappointment - when you get your slice. You'll have no worry, in this - if Mr. Moore's bakes and decorates your wedding cake. It will be beautiful and so good.

Now for the punch recipes. Do save these recipes - for you can use them for other occasions. Both recipes are given in quantity for 50 servings of average punch-cups size.

EASY DOES IT
If you don't measure your soap powders and detergents you're probably being wasteful. Place the powder in a glass jar with a cover, then measure out in the cover for each use.

Metal tops on salt shakers can be protected from turning green if you spray them with a plastic that comes in a push-button container. Use this also for the inside of garbage cans to prevent them from rusting.

Place a piece of charcoal in your refrigerator if you want foods to stay sweet. If you have a large refrigerator, use one piece of charcoal for every other shelf.

Jar lids which you need to use often become unsightly after spending some time in service. Paint with aluminum paint to preserve them or line them with foil and they'll keep neat.

Brown sugar that needs to be softened can be placed in a jar with a tightly fitting cover. Line the inside of the cover with blotting paper cut to fit and moisten this blotting occasionally with water.

If you don't have a chance to finish your ironing, place the clothes in a plastic bag until you find time to do them. They'll keep clean and dust-free.

Sparks Overcomes Loss of Larynx:
Lost Chord Club Is Founded To Help Area Laryngectomees

Programs to Feature Talks by Physicians,
Speech Therapists and Motion Pictures

(The following article is reprinted from a recent edition of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot and is reprinted by permission of that newspaper.)

A man, who did not let cancer of the larynx and temporary loss of voice "get him down," is now engaged in forming a club for laryngectomees (persons who have had their larynx removed) in Tidewater Virginia and northeastern North Carolina.

He is Baxter Sparks, of 4504 Atlantic Ave., Virginia Beach, who recalled that he was "absolutely mute" after his larynx was removed nearly five years ago. However, he was not mute long. A few days after the operation, a speech instructor (a laryngectomee himself) called on Sparks in the New York hospital to show him how well he had learned to speak and, to assure the Virginia Beach man that he, too, could regain his voice.

Soon afterwards Sparks began training at the National Hospital for Speech Disorders in New York.

Speech Practically Normal
Although his speech is practically normal now, he commented, I've not yet learned, I'm still improving. But I could make myself understood in about a month.

He did not hide his knowledge of esophageal speech under a bushel by merely going home and concentrating on improving his own voice. He concentrated on bringing new hope to many other laryngectomees. Since his operation he has taught more than 20 to speak, including some on the West Coast and in the Mid-West. He also helped organize a club in San Diego, Calif., while visiting there, and belongs to a club in St. Louis.

Club Organized

Realizing the many benefits that could be derived by laryngectomees banking together to talk to one another and discuss their common problems, Sparks recently began to organize the Tidewater Lost Chord Club. The first meeting will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Ould House of Christ and St. Luke's Church, at Stockley Gardens and Bolesvaine avenue.

Aiding him in forming the Lost Chord Club is Mrs. Celeste G. Mackey, executive director of the Norfolk Chapter American Cancer Society. She contacted various hospitals to find the names of persons whose larynx has been removed. Baxter knew a number of those, who wrote to him after an article about him appeared in a Norfolk newspaper four years ago. He already has sent out 47 letters to prospective club members.

The organization, the first one in Virginia, is sponsored by the Norfolk Chapter and the Virginia Division of the American Cancer Society. There are from 35 to 40 such clubs in the United States, nearly all affiliated with the parent organization, the International Association of Laryngectomees.

founded in Cleveland four years ago. The Tidewater club also will be affiliated with this organization.

Normalcy Possible

"Many persons who have their larynx removed just give up," Sparks said. "Comparatively few learn to speak. Some don't have access to schools. Others cannot afford it. In a club like this when they see how close they can return to normalcy, they will go for that. It encourages them to make the effort. And is definitely an effort. It doesn't come easy."

He explained that in normal speech, air from the lungs, forced by chest action, vibrates the two vocal cords sending sound into the mouth. In esophageal speech, air from the lungs forced by abdominal muscles, vibrates loose throat tissue sending sound into the mouth.

Noting that air from the lungs cannot be used for speech as any sound produced by it would pass out through a hole in the neck rather than into the mouth, he said that air from the esophagus meets the requirements.

"There's no mystery to it," he remarked. "It's just as if a right-handed person lost his right hand. He'd have to learn to use his left hand."

"But often laryngectomees are very self-conscious with other people and tend to draw into their own shells. However, they are not self-conscious with one another. It's a great lift to talk to another and find you are just as good as he is. You can help one not so good as you are and a better one can help you. A club like this can change a person's entire character. When those that have stayed to themselves discover there are so many others in the same boat, they are encouraged to go out, find jobs and lead normal lives again."

The club is to begin as a social club with members helping one another. Programs have been arranged to include talks by physicians and speech therapists and motion pictures.

Red Cross Representatives

Further evidence that the Old West is dead: Cowboys in jeans are now equipped with autograph dictating machines for making cattle counts.

A film, "We Speak Again," will be shown at the first meeting. Sparks spoke of the valuable psychology in laryngectomees teaching others to speak.

"When a normal person does the teaching," he went on "the laryngectomee is apt to think, 'It's all very well for you to tell me, but you don't know what it is not to have any vocal cords. When the teacher is another laryngectomee, the pupil knows that he has been through the same thing. Speech therapists are the first to admit this."

Sparks has written a number of articles on esophageal speech and speech therapists have accepted many of his theories.

He believes that it is a great morale builder for a laryngectomee to talk to a patient about to have his larynx removed before the operation.

Commenting that it has only been in the last few years that a study has been made of esophageal speech, he said there are very few teachers and few schools.

The Tidewater Lost Chord Club is expected to be the beginning of far happier lives for laryngectomees in need of help and encouragement as well as for those who can give that help and encouragement.

Courthouse 4-H
Installs Officers

The Courthouse 4-H Club had installation of its officers for the 4-H calendar year of 1956 and '57 on May 29th. The following officers pledged their support to the club: Mary Louise Sawyer, president; Alice McCollum, vice president; Barbara Owens, secretary; Connie McCannan, treasurer; Marlene Blackwell, program chairman; William Trimested, points chairman; Valerie Eberhardt, recreation chairman; Margaret McConnell, janitor; Joan Joyce, song leader, and Rose Smith, reporter.

Officers for the 4-H calendar year of 1955 and 56 which ended Achievement Night May the fifteenth were: Mary Louise Sawyer, president; Lewis Scott Mathews, vice president; Alice McCollum, secretary; Barbara Owens, treasurer; Margaret McConnell, reporter; Valerie Eberhardt, janitor; William Trimested, song leader; Marlene Blackwell, program chairman; Rose Smith, points chairman; Connie McCannan, recreation chairman; Mrs. Mary Sawyer, sponsor, and Mrs. Geneva McCollum, leader.

The club won for the seventh consecutive time in the junior club of the county. Having retired their second cup last year, they started on another this year with hopes for three victories so they might claim the third cup.

Some of the highlights of the year are: In the public speaking contest two club members were victorious. Lewis Scott Mathews won in the junior boys division, and Alice McCollum in the junior girls' division.

Margaret McConnell won first place in the livestock show at Portsmouth for Herefords.

In the "Share the Fun Program" for the clubs of the county, two members won first and second places. William Trimested won first place with "Carolina in the Morning," and Alice McCollum, second with the musical reading "Angelina."

The club presented the patriotic pageant "What So Proudly We Hail" by Karin Abramson-Sundt to the Parent Teachers Association. They also served refreshments.

The group was permitted to see Governor Stanley, and enjoyed conversing with him and taking his picture.

Charities were not forgotten and the club contributed to several. A tape of dime the length of the president's height was given to the March of Dimes. The club has a certificate as contributor to Father Flanagan's Boy's Town.

The club is indebted and grateful to the many who have given their time and cooperation. Especially do we thank Mrs. Mary Virginia Mathews.

The USS BOSTON (AG-1) is the Navy's first guided missile cruiser capable of firing super-sonic anti-aircraft guided missiles. It represents a completely new concept in a naval weapon system.
